Dear RAD staff – I know that many of you have seen draft copies of an Executive Order related to the USRAP that is expected to be finalized and signed tomorrow. In light of this anticipated announcement, we've determined that it would be prudent to suspend circuit rides that are scheduled to depart between now and February 15.

We are also suspending the remaining PDBs planned for this week.

For our TDYers who are here in DC, we will be sharing information as soon as possible about travel arrangements for returning to home offices.

I hope to share more information tomorrow.

Field managers,

I wanted to make you aware of the statement made by Secretary Kelly earlier today with respect to LPRs re-entering the United States. Consistent with S1's directive, all field offices should continue to process I-131A applications filed by LPRs overseas, regardless of the nationality of the applicant. To confirm, I-131As filed by LPRs who are nationals or dual nationals of the 7 countries outlined in the Executive Order signed on January 27 (Iraq, Iran, Libya, Somalia, Sudan, Syria, and Yemen), should continue to be adjudicated and travel documents issued per existing guidance.

Additional guidance related to the issuance of that E.O. will be forthcoming. Thanks for your patience – I know you have a number of questions, and we will work as quickly as we can with others in USCIS and the Department to clarify them.

Thanks,

Maura

STATEMENT BY SECRETARY JOHN KELLY ON THE ENTRY OF LAWFUL PERMANENT RESIDENTS INTO THE UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON – In applying the provisions of the president's executive order, I hereby deem the entry of lawful permanent residents to be in the national interest.

Accordingly, absent the receipt of significant derogatory information indicating a serious threat to public safety and welfare, lawful permanent resident status will be a dispositive factor in our case-by-case determinations.

Importance: High

DDs/DDDs,

I realize that you have many questions about the Executive Order and appreciate that you have been sending them forward. Please continue to do so. Unfortunately, things remain in flux and we do not have cleared guidance we can provide other than the following for the next few days or less (if we get additional guidance sooner):

- Do not issue any final approvals for any I-730 refugee following to join cases. Further guidance will be coming about how to update CAMINO, etc.
- Do not issue any final approvals for any other application, including I-730 asylee following to join adjudication and travel eligibility cases for nationals or dual nationals of the 7 countries referenced in the Executive Order (Iraq, Iran, Libya, Somalia, Sudan, Syria, and Yemen), with the exception of I-131As (see attached email). You can approve I-131As for all applicants following existing guidance, which requires that you flag for HQ any with serious derogatory information for possible discretionary denials. Further guidance will be coming.
- If you have refugee cases scheduled for Monday or Tuesday of this week, please cancel them if there is sufficient time to do so. If there is not sufficient time to cancel, then please collect the applicant's biometrics, review his or her bio-data for accuracy and completeness, and inform the applicant that he/she will be notified when the case is able to proceed in the future.

Right now, we are staying the course on the refugee CR in Indonesia; the team on the ground can continue interviewing and processing the cases there until further notice.

The above guidance is only a stop-gap to assist in addressing the most urgent needs for the next couple of days when more detailed cleared guidance can be issued. Also, for awareness, OCOMM is working on talking points and FAQs related to the Executive Order, which should be issued via USCIS Broadcast soon.

I appreciate the difficulty of being on the front line and getting inquiries from the public and others for which we don't yet have complete answers. Many people throughout the Agency and Department are working hard to sort out the impact of the E.O. on the Agency, and I will continue to keep you posted.

Thank you for your continued patience as we navigate the current policy changes.

captured our immediate needs, understanding that we'll have fuller guidance once DHS implementing guidance is issued and USCIS is able to issue its own, as well. If you are able to provide a quick review and get me any comments or questions tomorrow, I'll incorporate your feedback into the 'final' interim guidance to the field tomorrow. Continue to send questions my way – they've been very helpful in flagging issues we need to address.

Still no decision on our 2 CRs. At this point, I don't expect I'll have a further update until after their processed ends on Monday, so the teams should plan to proceed business as usual. Hopefully with this knowledge they can fully enjoy their Sunday. I appreciate their patience very much; limbo is not a desirable place to be.

Thank you!

Memorandum

TO: All USCIS Employees

FROM: Lori L. Scialabba
Acting Director

SUBJECT: Guidance Concerning Executive Order on Immigration

On January 27, President Trump signed an Executive Order entitled "Protecting The Nation From Foreign Terrorist Entry Into The United States." This memorandum provides guidance from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) regarding the impact of this Executive Order on various immigration benefit requests.

All USCIS employees should be aware of current guidance from DHS, specifically:

1. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order does not affect USCIS adjudication of applications and petitions filed for or on behalf of individuals in the United States regardless of their country of nationality. Section 3(c) also does not affect applications and petitions by lawful permanent residents outside the United States, or applications and petitions for individuals outside the United States whose approval does not directly confer travel authorization (including any immigrant or nonimmigrant visa petition). This includes, but is not limited to, the matters discussed more specifically in paragraphs 2, 3 and 5 below.

2. Applications to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status (Form I-485) may continue to be adjudicated, according to existing policies and procedures, for applicants who are nationals of countries designated in the Executive Order.

3. USCIS will adjudicate Refugee/Asylee Relative Petitions (Form I-730) for all beneficiaries, from any country of nationality, currently in the United States according to existing policies and procedures. Further guidance will be issued with respect to beneficiaries currently outside of the United States.

4. USCIS will continue refugee interviews when the person is a religious minority in his or her country of nationality facing religious persecution. Additionally, USCIS will continue refugee interviews in jurisdictions where there is a preexisting international agreement related to refugee processing. USCIS will not approve a refugee application for an individual who we determine would pose a risk to the security or welfare of the United States.

5. USCIS will continue adjudicating all affirmative asylum cases according to existing policies and procedures.

Questions concerning the information contained in this memorandum may be addressed via your directorate or program office through appropriate supervisory channels.

QUESTION 1

How many refugees are travel ready and by that I mean we've completed everything and they could get on a plane. I want a breakdown by nationality.

RESPONSE: We have to request this information from PRM to extract from WRAPS. Additionally, RAD has been told to work with the RSCs to provide the most detailed information about cases as not everything is reflected in WRAPS.

QUESTION 2

I know you already did it but give me a list of where we are on circuit rides right now, how many officers, and what the populations look like.

South Africa - Sudanese/Somalis, team of 4

Malaysia (sp) - Rohinga team of 4?

Make corrections where I have things wrong

RESPONSE: Here is a table with all planned Q2 circuit rides and their current status. Please see attached for further information on nationalities.

QUESTION 3

Scheduled circuit rides coming up with the same information.

QUESTION 4

Can we get an RSO assessment on places we would normally go that may be dangerous after this announcement. Baghdad, Turkey, Egypt, Jordan, etc. Get me a completely list of where you think that is necessary. I don't think we will be going anywhere but having the information will be helpful.

RESPONSE: Any location in the Middle East (Egypt, Iraq, Jordan, Turkey, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, and UAE). We would want to closely monitor all locations as we were notified today about unrest in Vienna affecting processing.

QUESTION 5

IF we are only admitting 50,000 refugees do we need to do more circuit rides to reach that number. Keep in mind we may not be admitting anyone or very few people from the 7countries.

RESPONSE: USCIS will request this pipeline data extract from PRM. Without reviewing the data, our impression is that there would likely be enough refugees (excluding the 7 nationalities) to ensure 20K additional admissions. We understand that that RSC could pivot to other nationalities for pre-screening if necessary. We also may have to conduct re-interviews on any post-interview refugees that are in the pipeline in order to apply extreme vetting measures.

QUESTION 6

Please get me the number of I730s we have ready to interview or have interviewed that could travel. Break it down that way with nationalities. I also need it broken down by Asylum vs Refugee following to join.

RESPONSE: Only IO data is reported below which represents approximately 40-45% of total I-730 caseload worldwide. Please note DOS/Consular Affairs does roughly 50% of these interviews. USCIS will request statistics from State/PRM and State/Consular Affairs to try to obtain complete I-730 caseload data.

Yes. That is correct, for now. Does asylum have public affairs officers? I can't recall.

Ted: We are starting to get a number of questions from our stakeholders about what we are going to do with cases from these 7 nationalities (I was just stopped in the hallway by our local AILA liaison and asked about this). Are there any talking points that we can use for communications with external stakeholders on this issue, or is there any part of the info below that we can share? I think that the word is getting out that it is not business as usual at our offices, and I think it would be good for all of us to be going out with the same message. Thanks, David

Field leadership,

Just wanted to give you a heads-up on instructions you may need to begin implementing on Monday. In light of the language in Friday's Executive Order, we may need to put a hold on decision-making for asylum cases from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya. We may also be asked to postpone any scheduled interviews.

On Monday morning, you should plan on preventing any decision document from being issued in person or by mail to a national of any of the above countries unless or until you are instructed otherwise.

You should also review you list of upcoming interviews and be preparing to cancel any scheduled interviews for persons from one of the listed countries. DO NOT cancel any interviews, however, until you receive instructions from HQ on how to proceed. Hopefully, we will have more guidance on the interviews by Monday morning.

Please let Ted and I know if you have any questions.

Thanks!

John

A literal reading of the EO and cited INA sections would not indicate that this processing suspension applies to the processing of asylum applications, but I understand why it might be wise to cancel interviews and place on hold cases from the relevant countries while we await additional guidance. Unless you want us to hold off, I will issue such guidance by e-mail today.

FYI.

I think we also need guidance on how this applies to asylum. May want to cancel interviews and place in hold asylum applicants from these countries.

I am hoping we can work with the front office to get a memo to all USCIS staff to be issued Monday.

Center Directors and Deputies,

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

While we await further guidance, we must temporarily suspend adjudication of all applications, petitions or requests involving citizens or nationals of the listed countries. At this point there are no exceptions for any form types, to include I-90s or I-765s. Please physically segregate any files that are impacted by this temporary hold pending further guidance. As you would expect, we will be developing a weekly report format for you to identify the number and types of cases on hold.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures in the coming days.

Please ensure this guidance is conveyed as soon as possible to all appropriate employees and get back to us with any questions. Also, please reply to let me know each center has received this message.

Thanks,

Don

We (SCOPS) voted for the I-192. It's cleaner for us to implement and CBP will not have issues if they need to ER the person. The I-192 will provide them with an I-797 that is a Transportation Letter (draft language attached). They would need to provide a valid passport and visa to enter and be inspected. On the other hand, if we issue a parole – CBP is worried that if issues arise, they may try to say they have a parole.

Also, while e-verify isn't related to admission, we added it because the Fortune 500 companies are asking to vouch for their employees (e.g. Microsoft, Amazon, Google, etc.). This would ensure that we are only accepting letters from legitimate businesses that have been vetted. We thought it would be good to leave in but completely understand if it's taken out somewhere along the process, as many are reviewing.

Overall the paper looks very good. Thanks to everyone for pulling it together so quickly.

The everify requirement would purely be a policy call. I don't see the nexus between e-verify use and a national interest determination related to admission so I would advocate for removing it.

I agree that adding work to VSC is problematic so if we could do I-192s elsewhere that would be better. We also need to validate the 18000 volume estimate as I don't know who provided it or how it was calculated.

If we believe the I-131 is better we should explain why.

Hi. Here are my concerns in the attached. Look forward to discussing.

- Why are we requiring E-Verify? Are we being told it is a requirement from the FO/Dept. or are we imposing it on ourselves? [redacted] (b)(5)
- If the I-192 is denied, what would be the legal basis for the removal charge be?
- I know VSC already does the I-192s for the victims relate work, but this will coincide with cap where the contractors will already be knee deep in data entry. Recommend moving this elsewhere.

Good morning Pam. Thanks so much for the feedback. It's for folks inside the US. We can certainly make that more clear.

Regarding the timeframe, as I understand it from Leslie, the major piece for start up is around the system updates. Leslie- please confirm. I don't know that those can be cut down.

All- If the system update timeframe ends up being too long, does the team have any ideas on what we can do without those in place for this? Also, if not 30 days for a processing time, what would you recommend?

Thanks again.

Good morning, All,

The opening paragraph seems to imply this form/process may be used for those visa holders currently "stuck" outside the U.S., is that correct? Otherwise the process proposed is manageable for USCIS to implement – in the long term. If this is simply a short term fix, required for a small number of affected individuals during this 80 day period, then a 45 day startup and 30 day processing time doesn't seem to meet their immediate needs.

Hi all and thanks so much Karla. The I-192 version looks great.

I have been working on the 131 version, and because so much of that is similar to what we note about the I-192 processing, I decided to merge both options into one document and added some background to give some context. Take a look and let me know what you think about that approach.

Bottom line is it looks like we could implement either option in about 45 days as the system updates to notices and filing look minimal and simple web updates. Can you verify those timelines? Also, do we want to go as far as to make a recommendation on which we think is the right one to implement or simply present both?

Thanks again. Looking forward to your feedback. Have a good night and looking forward to meeting in the morning.

I know that FOD can put together a process either with or without interviews. Requiring interviews will be a challenge specifically with respect to technology. While we have C3 LAN at NBC and the field has access to the NBC LAN via ICMS, the I-192 is supported, I believe by C3, but is not currently supported by ICMS. So we can't update and I-192 in C3 from the field using ICMS. That would likely need to change. We'd have to also see if NASS or the C3/C4 scheduler can accommodate I-192 scheduling or these would need to be scheduled manually.

There would be impact on the NBC and on I-485 and/or N-400 cycle times. Do we have an estimated volume of multiple-entry visa holders from these countries who are in the US?

Our folks are now looking at the I-192 option, but if an interview is required that would seem to move this in FOD's direction. To be candid, we were beginning to think even the I-131 might go that way if these are truly urgent cases - consistent with how AP is handled now in urgent situations.

Thanks.Molly. One clarification, it is a USCIS form but the instructions say file it with CBP unless it's a T or U situation. But as you note CBP says they don't actually use it as broadly as the instructions suggest – the applicant is supposed to file it at a designated port, and the only ports CBP has designated for that are along the Northern Border.

Subject: RE: The 2 issues re individuals inside US

We've been discussing how a waiver process could work be established legally with OGC and CBP and I am copying what Phil sent to start the conversation. In sum, we suggest using the Form I-192, Application for Advance Permission to Enter as a Nonimmigrant. It does look to inadmissibility rather than entry but comes closer to the intended purpose than any of the forms we regularly adjudicate. It is a CBP form and they use it on the Northern border for Canadians. We are told DOS uses it. USCIS does use it for certain Ts and Us. CBP is naturally a bit resistant, but it seems to be a promising way forward in light of the legal analysis below from our SME's.

We've identified a very promising existing avenue to consider the waiver with respect to those with valid nonimmigrant visas in the United States – the Form I-192, which is even called, "Application for Advance Permission to Enter as a Nonimmigrant." While not exact, since it talks about INA inadmissibility, it is extremely close – in fact, at p. 5 of the instructions it asks those inadmissible on foreign policy or national security grounds to provide a written detailed statement under penalty of perjury about why they should be admitted, which seems like a good fit with asking for a justification for the national interest waiver. Except for those seeking T or U nonimmigrant status, who file I-192 with us, it is filed with CBP with a $585 fee.

Stepping back from that particular form and process, here are some more general comments from our SMEs about regulatory implementation issues regarding the contemplated waiver:

Executive Order 13769, section 3, paragraph (g), states, "Notwithstanding a suspension pursuant to subsection (c) of this section or pursuant to a Presidential proclamation described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security may, on a case-by-case basis, and when in the national interest, issue visas or other immigration benefits to nationals of countries for which visas and benefits are otherwise blocked."

At this point, USCIS does not understand what information should be obtained, the level of review required or the process for determining when it is "in the national interest" to waive the requirements of section 3 under this the provision.

If the established process requires the collection of information, asking questions, or filling out a form for more than 9 individuals then that collection would be subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA). See 44 U.S.C. § 3502; 5 C.F.R. § 1320.3(c), which covers, "the obtaining, causing to be obtained, soliciting, or requiring the disclosure to an agency, third parties or the public of information by or for an agency by means of identical questions posed to, or identical reporting, recordkeeping, or disclosure requirements imposed on, ten or more persons, whether such collection of information is mandatory, voluntary, or required to obtain or retain a benefit."

Any new questionnaire or form, even if completed during a verbal interview, requires a 60-day notice under 5 CFR 1320.8(d)(1) and a 30-day notice under 5 CFR 1320.10(a). OMB may be requested to approve the process as an emergency approval under 5 CFR 1320.13 if the new collection is needed because it is essential to the mission of the agency, the agency cannot reasonably comply with the normal clearance procedures, public harm is reasonably likely to result if normal clearance procedures are followed, an unanticipated event has occurred, or a statutory or court ordered deadline to be missed. OMB will usually approve an emergency request in 30 days. The problem with an emergency approval is that OMB only approves the collection of information for a maximum of 90 days. However, section 3(c), states that it applies to, "such persons for 90 days from the date of this order." Thus, an emergency request under 5 CFR 1320.13 may be appropriate if we decide that a new collection is necessary.

If a new form is required or provides a list of questions for the officer to ask the individuals either verbally or manually, then the PRA applies. The PRA may not apply if there is already a process or form that very closely fits what is necessary that can be easily adapted without change to the 3(g) waiver process. The PRA may also not apply if the process is left to officer discretion, no standard questions will be asked, or if the waiver can be requested with a simple request that only identifies the individual, and the waiver can be approved with only a review of the applicable individual's file and current information on hand.

In addition, if the individuals who desire a waiver under section 3(g) are asked questions that impose a new standard or implicate a substantive right, then those questions may violate the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) and DHS would have to engage in notice and comment rulemaking under 5 U.S.C. 553 to ask them.

We are looking at whether the I-131 process could be modified to support this. It may be very difficult to make the systems changes needed to support issuance of an I-797 rather than the I-512 or RP/RTD. I'm wondering if alternatively we could issue an actual advance parole document (I-512) with the understanding that CBP would instead admit them with their NIV if otherwise admissible. We are looking at that option as well.

You guys need to start thinking about how we can adjudicate these national interest waivers here in the U.S. For anyone wanting to travel abroad with a multiple entry visa.

1. How do we do it and what are the guidelines?
2. where do we put the information so CBP can see it when the person returns or what document can we give them that shows they got a waiver.

I'm still fighting this but in the event we are ordered to do it you need to be thinking about how it would happen.

I'm still saying NO. This is just going to tick off the judge when he figures out DOJ made this up at the last minute so they could put it into their brief. We don't have a process in place and I can't make one up fast enough with no time to think it through.

Wait, DOS reversed the 1/27 revocation? Did the court order that? ANd I see your point but doesn't it also apply to the waiver we are promising to valid visa holders? If the TRO is lifted they are no longer valid visa holders.

This part isn't about the waiver, but whether USCIS used the Jan 27 DOS revocation in adjudicating anything. Since it is forward looking it seems we could be okay. But then again they've reversed the Jan 27 revocation so how could we apply that revocation going forward? And if TRO is lifted a new revocation will come out. So it could be misleading. Frankly I don't think this language gets us where DOJ wants us to be- but in the timeframe given I don't know whether we could get there since folks are running down cases.

Homeland Security

February 6, 2017

To all Department of Homeland Security personnel:

Over the past two weeks, I have had the honor of meeting with many of the dedicated men and women of our Department who work to protect our homeland every day. I continue to be impressed and humbled by the professionalism and diligence displayed as you work to keep our Nation and our citizens safe. I want to thank all employees across the Department for your dedication and exceptional service.

The President's three recent Executive Orders affect you and the work you do, and it's critical that the Department provide you with the information, tools, and resources you need to perform your missions successfully. As policies change, we will keep you regularly apprised of our progress.

We are complying with multiple court orders, including a ruling issued on February 3 that temporarily stayed enforcement of the January 27 Executive Order. In accordance with that court order, DHS has suspended any and all actions enforcing the affected sections of the "Foreign Terrorist Entry" Order. This includes actions to suspend passenger system rules that flag travelers for operational action subject to the Executive Order. DHS personnel have resumed inspection of travelers in accordance with prior standard policy and procedure.

The Department of Justice has requested an emergency stay of this court order and will defend the President's Executive Order, which is lawful and appropriate, and is intended to protect the American people. As of Monday morning, February 6, the legal process remains ongoing, and we will keep you informed of any further developments.

As we continue to respond to recent policy changes, I particularly want to express my appreciation to all employees who are working swiftly to implement the recent Executive Orders while also complying with court orders.

While much media and public attention has been paid to these Orders, each employee in every role across the Department is critical to our success. Please know that you have my full confidence as well as the support of the entire Department as you work on the frontlines defending the homeland.

Thank you for your service and for your dedication to the honorable work of securing our Nation and protecting the American people.

Sincerely,

John F. Kelly
Secretary of Homeland Security

With honor and integrity, we will safeguard the American people, our homeland, and our values.

Importance:	High

Hi. Per our conversation a little bit ago, here are some high level questions I got from folks for the Department to answer. I hope this is along the lines of what you are looking for. I didn't include the questions I sent you yesterday but if any of them need to be included let me know and I will put them back in.

1. Part of the uniform screening standard is to include "Amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent"

   a. Does this mean that all applications and petitions will need to be revised or standardized? We note that many of the forms have already be revised to include the questions related to criminality and national security.

   b. If the answer to one of these questions reveals potential issues, what bearing will this have on benefit types that do not accord status and where the issue is not grounds for denial?

2. As part of the uniform screening standard the EO includes a directive to develop "a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest"

   a. Is this process/determination a discretionary call or will there be defined areas?

3. Information is to be collected on "any other information relevant to public safety and security as determined by the Secretary of Homeland security and the Attorney General, including information on the immigration status of foreign nationals charged with major offenses"

   a. What is the definition of "major offenses" as it relates to this section? How is it different from the term "aggravated felony" as defined in the INA 101(a)(43)?

4. Can we accept/adjudicate/approved (if eligible) I-730s for following to join family members of individuals granted asylum (FTJ-A) and I-730s for following to join family members of refugees? Is there any distinction between the processing of I-730s for asylees and refugees?

5. For those outside the US currently in T (victims of trafficking) or U (victims of severe form of crime) nonimmigrant status from the seven countries, will they be allowed re-entry? If waivers can be granted case by case, how will those requests be handled?

6. How does the EO impact TRIG exemptions?

7. What is expected of us in terms of reporting?

a. Data to be collected
b. Frequency
c. Transmission

FYI and in case you find this helpful, Pam sent me the numbers of FB/EB visas that were allocated to applicants from the applicable countries for FY-2017.

Iran	703 visa
Iraq	21 visas
Libya	47 visas
Somalia	7 visas
Sudan	9 visas
Syria	102 visas
Yemen	17 visas

I will go through all the EOs in more detail to see if there are other things that might impact us.

At the recently concluded leadership meeting we learned that the processing hold we put in place over the weekend will be lifted. All messaging must now be cleared through the Department, so we cannot communicate this in writing to the troops. However, I wanted you to know that so we don't waste time formulating questions about the hold or working on strategies to ensure compliance. I expect that the final guidance may be more nuanced on the processing of parole requests, but otherwise we are expecting to lift the hold on adjustments and other form types. Please do not share this further in light of the messaging restrictions. We hope to have formal cleared language later today or tomorrow.

Date:	Saturday, January 28, 2017 9:07:25 AM

Sorry to bother you over the weekend. The President signed an executive order on Friday titled "Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States". Among other things, it prevents the entry of citizens or nationals from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for a 90 day period. I am working with Dan, Andrew, Tracy and Lori on a message to send out this weekend that would suspend certain adjudications while we seek guidance/clarity on how this will specifically apply to our workloads.

Most likely, on Monday we will want to identify any potentially impacted cases in C3 and ELIS. I assume it will be possible to run reports identifying cases with applicants, requestors or beneficiaries from these countries sorted by form type. Does anyone know if we could somehow flag them for hold? Ideally we'd be able to prevent accidental approval, but even if we can't stop approval it would be good to flag them for adjudicators. Also, this isn't an indefinite hold so whatever we do it needs to allow normal processing to proceed fairly easily at some point in the future.

At this point, I'm just looking for thoughts and ideas on how to identify what will be a changing universe of cases and flag them for possible special handling. I'd prefer to keep this among ourselves for now so please check with me before sharing with anyone. Any thoughts or concerns are appreciated.

Thanks,

Don

Subject:	Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Service Center Instructions
Date:	Saturday, January 28, 2017 10:34:36 AM

Center Directors and Deputies,

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

While we await further guidance, we must temporarily suspend adjudication of all applications, petitions or requests involving citizens or nationals of the listed countries. At this point there are no exceptions for any form types, to include I-90s or I-765s. Please physically segregate any files that are impacted by this temporary hold pending further guidance. As you would expect, we will be developing a weekly report format for you to identify the number and types of cases on hold.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures in the coming days.

Please ensure this guidance is conveyed as soon as possible to all appropriate employees and get back to us with any questions. Also, please reply to let me know each center has received this message.

Thanks,

Don

This may be helpful. Seriously, I don't want too much activity this weekend that isn't absolutely critical. This stuff can wait until Monday. The reports on what's pending may help guide decision making so that's worth working on to make sure it's done on Monday. I think gathering questions beyond what has already been asked (scope of application of entry restriction) can be accomplished on Monday with everyone engaged. Action plans and tracking for the 30, 60 and 90 day items can certainly wait 48 hours. This is a marathon not a sprint. We still have more EOs coming.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. Separately, is there any impact on petitions for beneficiaries abroad since we would not be determining admissibility? I would think not, but it would be good to have clarity.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] (b)(5) We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

This may be helpful. Seriously, I don't want too much activity this weekend that isn't absolutely critical. This stuff can wait until Monday. The reports on what's pending may help guide decision making so that's worth working on to make sure it's done on Monday. I think gathering questions beyond what has already been asked (scope of application of entry restriction) can be accomplished on Monday with everyone engaged. Action plans and tracking for the 30, 60 and 90 day items can certainly wait 48 hours. This is a marathon not a sprint. We still have more EOs coming.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?

4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

Hi. I just finished reading the whole EO. Section 3c, which suspends the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry, refers to those described in INA 217(a)(2). As far as I can tell, only Iraq and Syria are mentioned in this statutory provision. Are other countries affected or just Iraq and Syria? I couldn't find reference to any other countries anywhere else, so wanted to be sure I wasn't missing anything.

Regarding EAD categories that would include those in INA 217(a)(2), we have:

- (c)(1) For the dependents of A-1 and A-2 government officials.
  - These are adjudicated at the NSC.
  - Requires favorable DOS endorsement;
  - DOS sends only the favorably endorsed applications to NSC.
- (c)(4) For the dependents of G-1, G-3, or G-4 (I think this includes NATO and at the US Mission to the UN, too).
  - These are adjudicated at the NSC.
  - Requires favorable DOS endorsement.
  - DOS sends only the favorably endorsed applications to NSC.

There are some special immigrant categories applicable to As, Gs, and NATO. The I-360 is filed with Dallas and Phoenix LB and the I-485 is filed with Phoenix LB. I am thinking that NSC adjudicates these, but it would be best to confirm.

- I Special Immigrants (INA 101(a)(27)(I) who meet certain residence and physical presence requirements. Includes:
  - Unmarried sons/daughters of an officer or employee, or a former officer or employee of an international organization described in INA 101(a)(15)(G)(i).
  - Surviving spouses of deceased officers or employees of international organizations described in INA

101(a)(15)(G)(i).
  - Retired officers and employees of international organizations.
  - Following to join/accompanying spouse of a retired officer or employee who was granted special immigrant status as a retired officer or employee of an international organization.
- L Special Immigrants (INA 101(a)(27)(L) who meet certain residence and physical presence requirements. Looks like this covers NATO and the same categories of persons described in 101(a)(27)(I).

This is all I can think of for now. If I come up with anything else, I will send it forward.

Subject: Friday's EO

Sorry to bother you over the weekend. The President signed an executive order on Friday titled "Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States". Among other things, it prevents the entry of citizens or nationals from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for a 90 day period. I am working with Dan, Andrew, Tracy and Lori on a message to send out this weekend that would suspend certain adjudications while we seek guidance/clarity on how this will specifically apply to our workloads.

Most likely, on Monday we will want to identify any potentially impacted cases in C3 and ELIS. I assume it will be possible to run reports identifying cases with applicants, requestors or beneficiaries from these countries sorted by form type. Does anyone know if we could somehow flag them for hold? Ideally we'd be able to prevent accidental approval, but even if we can't stop approval it would be good to flag them for adjudicators. Also, this isn't an indefinite hold so whatever we do it needs to allow normal processing to proceed fairly easily at some point in the future.

At this point, I'm just looking for thoughts and ideas on how to identify what will be a changing universe of cases and flag them for possible special handling. I'd prefer to keep this among ourselves for now so please check with me before sharing with anyone. Any thoughts or concerns are appreciated.

Thanks,

Don

Regarding COS and EOS, it occurred to me to wonder to what extent there actually are nonimmigrants from those countries. Numbers aren't huge, but they are there. For FY 2015 per DHS yearbook, total nonimmigrant admissions for nationals of these countries were:
Iraq, 21,381
Iran, 35,266
Libya, 3,879
Yemen, 5,549
Sudan, 4,792
Syria, 16,018
Somalia, 359

Numbers for the two preceding years were similar. There are also tables further breaking it down by category but I didn't dig into it that deeply.

The 2:45 call did not address any of our outstanding issues. The call centered on a group of travel ready refugees and a discussion on whether to recommend applying a waiver allowing them to travel and be admitted. However, there is a WH principals' call at 4:00 that Lori will be on and we were encouraged to send our questions forward in advance of that call so DHS can either get us answers based on their knowledge or address the questions during the 4:00 call. Lori will be forwarding those questions. Stay tuned, we may have some guidance on at least some of our issues later today.

I think that's the case with all benefits within the country, isn't it? The EO says examine benefit processes but the only thing it cuts off is entry into the United States from abroad, as I read it. Is that others' understanding? So if we mention natz, which I am certainly not suggesting we shouldn't, then we probably should expand the item to cover other benefits within the US. Thanks, Phil

Jeff,

I posed this question to DHS HQ just this morning because we had a 1:00 ceremony at the WAS field office with five individuals from the seven countries. I got a response back from DHS just before 1:00 indicating that we were good to go ahead with naturalizing those individuals. So, the answer is no, it does not apply to candidates for naturalization.

OPA just called -- they would like anything we can provide within the hour so they can hold a call with CBP and others who are getting bombarded with media inquiries and prepare S1 to return Hill calls.

One question I could see for us, even though it is somewhat answered in the first question below: Does the Executive Order apply to those currently being adjudicated for naturalization?

Regarding COS and EOS, it occurred to me to wonder to what extent there actually are nonimmigrants from those countries. Numbers aren't huge, but they are there. For FY 2015 per DHS yearbook, total nonimmigrant admissions for nationals of these countries were:
Iraq, 21,381
Iran, 35,266
Libya, 3,879
Yemen, 5,549
Sudan, 4,792
Syria, 16,018
Somalia, 359

Numbers for the two preceding years were similar. There are also tables further breaking it down by category but I didn't dig into it that deeply.

All – I asked the regs team to give us an idea of the tie frames for doing and re-doing forms as well as regs:

For forms , if, for instance, we have to add new vetting questions, OMB approval can be accomplished relatively quickly as an emergency action (compared to the normal process).
Steps and qualifications for emergency OMB approval:
1) OP&S division, operational directorates, OCC, and RCD collaborate on the amended form and/or instructions.
2) RCD prepares the relevant PRA supporting documents (Supporting Statement, etc.) working with OIDP and Office of Privacy
3) Draft a memo justifying the emergent need (e.g., the EO), signed by USCIS CIO and DHS CIO.
4) RCD submits the package to OMB. OMB approval under emergency will only be valid for 6 months. To extend the validity of the OMB approval beyond 6 months, RCD would need to publish the 60- and 30-day Notices as normal and then resubmit the package to OMB.
As a side note, the interior enforcement EO took away the Privacy Act protections that the USG had extended to non-citizens (by policy I believe). This change may significantly impact how the Privacy Act is interpreted w/r/t USCIS forms and systems, and may or may not cause changes to our Privacy Threshold Analyses which support the PRA process. We need to get a legal opinion on whether our PTAs, etc. will change because of this, and if we can update the relevant PRA supporting documents as they come up in the queue (i.e. as RCD starts work upon expiration) or if this needs to be implemented immediately (which would be a significant workload).

For regs, the time it took to get the EA rules out from the Nov. 20, 2014 memo are good barometers of the average timeline when there is WH support and it's moving as an emergency action:

- Average of 12-16 months for drafting and publishing an NPRM (but note that there was already some work done on EA before the 11/2014 announcement)
- Average of 6-8 months to review public comments, draft final rule, and publish the final rule.

Caveats: 1) The above assumes a relatively hands-off approach of OGC staff-level attorneys and economists prior to moving to OGC FO, S1 FO, and OMB. Also assumes that the timelines for S1 FO review will be similarly expedited (i.e. a matter of hours wherein the Assistant General Counsel briefs S1 and obtains signature). 2) The "effective date" will largely depend on the speed that our computer systems can be stood up. 3) Also, of course, depends on the number and complexity of public comments received and the continued availability of monetary resources to fund contractor support of our regulatory projects (comment analysis).

I've only seen this on Twitter, but it looks like a judge in EDNY has granted a nationwide stay of the refugee EO. I haven't been able to nail down a copy of the actual order, so I have no actual details. Anyone else hear anything?

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. I.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

Thanks,

For section 4, do we need to take any actions prior to the"plan" described in section four being developed and implemented? And who is responsible for developing the plan?

For section 6, should we adjudicate cases in TRIG hold? It doesn't seem like exemptions are forthcoming.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?

3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

Everyone should be compiling a list of all of their questions and getting them to Jess so Lori and I have a complete list. If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. Separately, is there any impact on petitions for beneficiaries abroad since we would not be determining admissibility? I would think not, but it would be good to have clarity.

If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person.

Once she has those together Lori and I will look at them to see which are internal questions and which might warrant public facing Q&A. Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law

On January 28, 2017, the petitioners filed an Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated.

IT APPEARING to the Court from the Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal, the other submissions, the arguments of counsel, and the hearing held on the 28th of January, 2017,

1. The petitioners have a strong likelihood of success in establishing that the removal of the petitioner and others similarly situated violates their rights to Due Process and Equal Protection guaranteed by the United States Constitution;

2. There is imminent danger that, absent the stay of removal, there will be substantial and irreparable injury to refugees, visa-holders, and other individuals from nations subject to the January 27, 2017 Executive Order;
3. The issuance of the stay of removal will not injure the other parties interested in the proceeding;
4. It is appropriate and just that, pending completion of a hearing before the Court on the merits of the Petition, that the Respondents be enjoined and restrained from the commission of further acts and misconduct in violation of the Constitution as described in the Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal.

WHEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the respondents, their officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and all members and persons acting in concert or participation with them, from the date of this Order, are

ENJOINED AND RESTRAINED from, in any manner or by any means, removing individuals with refugee applications approved by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services as part of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program, holders of valid immigrant and non-immigrant visas, and other individuals from Iraq, Syria, Iran, Sudan, Libya, Somalia, and Yemen legally authorized to enter the United States.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that to assure compliance with the Court's order, the Court directs service of this Order upon the United States Marshal for the Eastern District of New York, and further directs the United States Marshals Service to take those actions deemed necessary to enforce the provisions and prohibitions set forth in this Order.

SO ORDERED.

Ann M. Donnelly
United States District Judge

Dated: Brooklyn, New York

Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

POLICY: It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

- Be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.
- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law
- We should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation

Nat,

Kevin and I will might send you a few follow on notes on this, but my question from the EB side is that, while they want to suspend entry of these individuals for the time being, do they also intend for us to hold onto any requests for extensions of stay until the enhanced vetting procedures are in place? The text says "entry" but it's in the section explaining the need to review procedures prior to any benefit being granted. We will send you anything else we can come up with. There is nothing really to state from a strict policy sense, but obviously OCC, SCOPS, the FO et al will like have the same questions regarding exactly what these provisions mean. We have these political advisors on board. They should reach out through their people to the WH to get clarification.

Kevin, you agree?

Kathryn raises great points. If the EO is restricted to "entries," we should be able to adjudicate natz, adjustment, TPS, and non-immigrant applications where the applicant is physically present in the United States.

Subject: RE: Executive Order

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. Subject: Executive Order

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Thanks,

Andrew Davidson

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of

foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?

4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication docs not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] (b)(5) We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

Everyone should be compiling a list of all of their questions and getting them to Jess so Lori and I have a complete list. If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

POLICY: It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

- Be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.
- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law
- We should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple (b)(5) things:

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Ok, the way I plan to proceed, which I think is consistent with what you want, Larry, is that I will be going through the very helpful chart that Shannon provided, and filling in questions I have on the provisions in the column for Questions. So it's clear which division is raising the question I am going to edit the column to label it NSBI Questions. I'll send that to the entire group for visibility when completed—sometime this evening.

I'm assuming Natalie will then roll-up all the questions each of us submits-- weeding out duplicative questions-- into a master chart for OP&S. Larry, I recommend that you send to Jess for the use of D1/D2, (consistent with D1s request for consolidated questions from components—we weren't asked but they should be made aware of our questions). My understanding/recommendation is that our master chart will be posted to the OP&S ECN (and presumably regularly updated as needed), and used by us for discussions: internal to OP&S; with other components and USCIS or DHS leadership; and for inter-agency discussions.

Subject: RE: Executive Order

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

Subject: RE: Executive Order

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

And, in the meantime can I get something to the centers this weekend? I can share a draft email tomorrow.

Thanks for sending this, Lori.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. Separately, is there any impact on petitions for beneficiaries abroad since we would not be determining admissibility? I would think not, but it would be good to have clarity.

If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

HAMEED KHALID DARWEESH and HAIDER SAMEER ABDULKHALEQ ALSHAWI, on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated,

Petitioners,

- against -

Respondents.

DECISION AND ORDER

17 Civ. 480 (AMD)

ANN DONNELLY, District Judge.

On January 28, 2017, the petitioners filed an Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated.

IT APPEARING to the Court from the Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal, the other submissions, the arguments of counsel, and the hearing held on the 28th of January, 2017,

1. The petitioners have a strong likelihood of success in establishing that the removal of the petitioner and others similarly situated violates their rights to Due Process and Equal Protection guaranteed by the United States Constitution;

2. There is imminent danger that, absent the stay of removal, there will be substantial and irreparable injury to refugees, visa-holders, and other individuals from nations subject to the January 27, 2017 Executive Order;
3. The issuance of the stay of removal will not injure the other parties interested in the proceeding;
4. It is appropriate and just that, pending completion of a hearing before the Court on the merits of the Petition, that the Respondents be enjoined and restrained from the commission of further acts and misconduct in violation of the Constitution as described in the Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal.

WHEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the respondents, their officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and all members and persons acting in concert or participation with them, from the date of this Order, are

ENJOINED AND RESTRAINED from, in any manner or by any means, removing individuals with refugee applications approved by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services as part of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program, holders of valid immigrant and non-immigrant visas, and other individuals from Iraq, Syria, Iran, Sudan, Libya, Somalia, and Yemen legally authorized to enter the United States.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that to assure compliance with the Court's order, the Court directs service of this Order upon the United States Marshal for the Eastern District of New York, and further directs the United States Marshals Service to take those actions deemed necessary to enforce the provisions and prohibitions set forth in this Order.

SO ORDERED.

And here's what I've learned from RAIO: Asylum has notified field leadership that they should arrange to stop any decision-issuance to asylum applicants from the listed countries until they are instructed otherwise. They also told leadership to review their upcoming schedules and prepare to cancel any interviews for nationals from the listed countries. They were told not to actually begin cancelling the interviews until they received further guidance from HQ.

IO is working with front office on guidance for international staff and ongoing refugee interviews. We have greenlight for refugee interviews in Vienna to continue tomorrow

Subject: Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Service Center Instructions

Center Directors and Deputies,

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

While we await further guidance, we must temporarily suspend adjudication of all applications, petitions or requests involving citizens or nationals of the listed countries. At this point there are no exceptions for any form types, to include I-90s or I-765s. Please physically segregate any files that are impacted by this temporary hold pending further guidance. As you would expect, we will be developing a weekly report format for you to identify the number and types of cases on hold.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures in the coming days.

Please ensure this guidance is conveyed as soon as possible to all appropriate employees and get back to us with any questions. Also, please reply to let me know each center has received this message.

Thanks,

Don

I saw that FOD sent out guidance to the field yesterday indicating that no final action can be taken on any petition or application for a citizen or national of one of the 7 countries, pending further guidance to come. Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made. NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. I'm not sure whether SCOPS has issued any guidance. Has anyone seen?

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

Subject: Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Field Operations Instructions

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

Effectively immediately and until additional guidance is received, you may not take final action on any petition or application where the applicant is a citizen or national of Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya. Field offices may interview applicants for adjustment of status and other benefits according to current processing guidance and may process petitions and applications for individuals from these countries up to the point where a decision would be made. At that point, cases shall be placed on hold until further notice and will be shelved with specific NFTS codes which will be provided through the Regional Offices. Offices are not permitted make any final decision on affected cases to include approval, denial, withdrawal, or revocation.

Please look for additional guidance later this weekend on how to process naturalization applicants from one of the seven countries listed above who are currently scheduled for oath ceremony or whose N-400s have been approved and they are pending scheduling of oath ceremony.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures as needed in the coming days. Questions or requests for additional clarification may be directed to the Regional Offices through your chain of command.

Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made. NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this (b)(5) extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made. NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

Subject: Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Field Operations Instructions

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

Effectively immediately and until additional guidance is received, you may not take final action on any petition or application where the applicant is a citizen or national of Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya. Field offices may interview applicants for adjustment of status and other benefits according to current processing guidance and may process petitions and applications for individuals from these countries up to the point where a decision would be made. At that point, cases shall be placed on hold until further notice and will be shelved with specific NFTS codes which will be provided through the Regional Offices. Offices are not permitted make any final decision on affected cases to include approval, denial, withdrawal, or revocation.

Please look for additional guidance later this weekend on how to process naturalization applicants from one of the seven countries listed above who are currently scheduled for oath ceremony or whose N-400s have been approved and they are pending scheduling of oath ceremony.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures as needed in the coming days. Questions or requests for additional clarification may be directed to the Regional Offices through your chain of command.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made. NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this (b)(5) extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

I agree guys. The major questions that come to mind are legal and operational. We should be prepared to put some of them forward, but from a policy perspective we are gong to have to wait for that guidance before we know what direction to take.

Having said that, it is worth looking at forms because I am sure we will have to make revisions to include vetting questions such as social media. Again though, the vetting aimed at national interest and benefit to this country change the adjudication of petitions.

I appreciate your thoughts so please share as things come up! Clearly this is fluid.

Nat,

Kevin and I will might send you a few follow on notes on this, but my question from the EB side is that, while they want to suspend entry of these individuals for the time being, do they also intend for us to hold onto any requests for extensions of stay until the enhanced vetting procedures are in place? The text says "entry" but it's in the section explaining the need to review procedures prior to any benefit being granted. We will send you anything else we can come up with. There is nothing really to state from a strict policy sense, but obviously OCC, SCOPS, the FO et al will like have the same questions regarding exactly what these provisions mean. We have these political advisors on board. They should reach out through their people to the WH to get clarification.

Kevin, you agree?

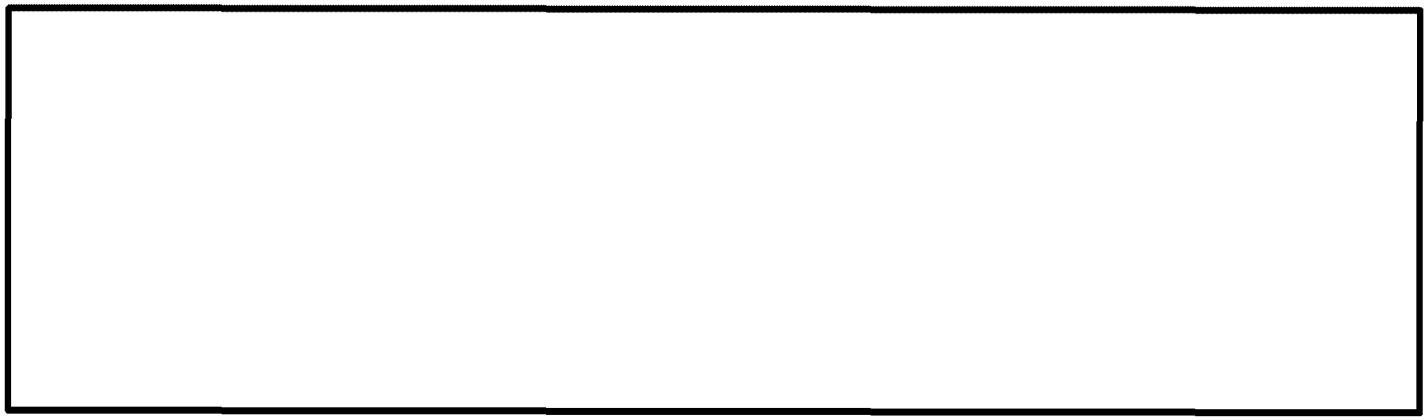
I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)



(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

For section 4, do we need to take any actions prior to the"plan" described in section four being developed and implemented? And who is responsible for developing the plan?

For section 6, should we adjudicate cases in TRIG hold? It doesn't seem like exemptions are forthcoming.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

POLICY: It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

- Be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.
- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law
- We should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation

Hi All – attached is the executive order signed early this evening by the President. Please let me, Mike and Larry know if any questions or immediate impacts to policy come to mind. Next week, we may want to consider pulling relevant policy guidance and start thinking about new guidance that will have to be issued. Hopefully we will have more information.

In the meantime, please send any questions!

Thanks,
Natalie

Here is a quick summary (please read the entire document – I tried to hit the "highlights"):

1. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. There are review and reporting requirements that shall be completed within 30 days and additional follow up reporting requirements. While the review is conducted, the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), is suspended for 90 days. The Secretary shall provide a list of countries that do not provided necessary information to adjudicate and additional countries may be added. Visas may be issued to nationals of "blocked" countries in the national interest.
2. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs A program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission will be created and will include development of a uniform screening standard and procedure; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants; amended application forms with questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.
3. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. Suspension of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days for review of the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States. After 120 days, USRAP admissions resume for nationals of countries for which have been determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States. Refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality will be prioritized. Admission of refugees from Syria will be suspended. The refugee limit will be 50,000 for fiscal year 2017.

4. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.
5. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System.
6. Visa Interview Security. The visa interview waiver program is suspended to ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.
7. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal.

THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of the Press Secretary

EXECUTIVE ORDER

- - - - - - -

PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America, including the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), 8 U.S.C. 1101 et seq., and section 301 of title 3, United States Code, and to protect the American people from terrorist attacks by foreign nationals admitted to the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. Purpose. The visa-issuance process plays a crucial role in detecting individuals with terrorist ties and stopping them from entering the United States. Perhaps in no instance was that more apparent than the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, when State Department policy prevented consular officers from properly scrutinizing the visa applications of several of the 19 foreign nationals who went on to murder nearly 3,000 Americans. And while the visa-issuance process was reviewed and amended after the September 11 attacks to better detect would-be terrorists from receiving visas, these measures did not stop attacks by foreign nationals who were admitted to the United States.

Numerous foreign-born individuals have been convicted or implicated in terrorism-related crimes since September 11, 2001, including foreign nationals who entered the United States after receiving visitor, student, or employment visas, or who entered through the United States refugee resettlement program. Deteriorating conditions in certain countries due to war, strife, disaster, and civil unrest increase the likelihood that terrorists will use any means possible to enter the United States. The United States must be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.

In order to protect Americans, the United States must ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles. The United

Sec. 2. Policy. It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

Sec. 3. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall immediately conduct a review to determine the information needed from any country to adjudicate any visa, admission, or other benefit under the INA (adjudications) in order to determine that the individual seeking the benefit is who the individual claims to be and is not a security or public-safety threat.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall submit to the President a report on the results of the review described in subsection (a) of this section, including the Secretary of Homeland Security's determination of the information needed for adjudications and a list of countries that do not provide adequate information, within 30 days of the date of this order. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall provide a copy of the report to the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence.

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

(d) Immediately upon receipt of the report described in subsection (b) of this section regarding the information needed for adjudications, the Secretary of State shall request all foreign governments that do not supply such information to start providing such information regarding their nationals within 60 days of notification.

information requested pursuant to subsection (d) of this section until compliance occurs.

(f) At any point after submitting the list described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretary of State or the Secretary of Homeland Security may submit to the President the names of any additional countries recommended for similar treatment.

(g) Notwithstanding a suspension pursuant to subsection (c) of this section or pursuant to a Presidential proclamation described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security may, on a case-by-case basis, and when in the national interest, issue visas or other immigration benefits to nationals of countries for which visas and benefits are otherwise blocked.

(h) The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall submit to the President a joint report on the progress in implementing this order within 30 days of the date of this order, a second report within 60 days of the date of this order, a third report within 90 days of the date of this order, and a fourth report within 120 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 4. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. (a) The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall implement a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission. This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in conjunction with the Secretary of State, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of this directive within 60 days of the date of review the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States, and shall implement such additional procedures. Refugee applicants who are already in the USRAP process may be admitted upon the initiation and completion of these revised procedures. Upon the date that is 120 days after the date of this order, the Secretary of State shall resume USRAP admissions only for nationals of countries for which the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and the Director of National Intelligence have jointly determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States.

(b) Upon the resumption of USRAP admissions, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security, is further directed to make changes, to the extent permitted by law, to prioritize refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality. Where necessary and appropriate, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall recommend legislation to the President that would assist with such prioritization.

(c) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of nationals of Syria as refugees is detrimental to the interests of the United States and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I have determined that sufficient changes have been made to the USRAP to ensure that admission of Syrian refugees is consistent with the national interest.

(d) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of more than 50,000 refugees in fiscal year 2017 would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I determine that additional admissions would be in the national interest.

(e) Notwithstanding the temporary suspension imposed pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security may jointly determine to admit individuals to the United States as refugees on a case-by-case basis, in their discretion, but only so long as they determine that the admission of such individuals as refugees is in the national interest -- including when the person is a religious minority in his country of nationality facing religious persecution, when admitting the person would enable the United States to conform its conduct to a preexisting international

(g) It is the policy of the executive branch that, to the extent permitted by law and as practicable, State and local jurisdictions be granted a role in the process of determining the placement or settlement in their jurisdictions of aliens eligible to be admitted to the United States as refugees. To that end, the Secretary of Homeland Security shall examine existing law to determine the extent to which, consistent with applicable law, State and local jurisdictions may have greater involvement in the process of determining the placement or resettlement of refugees in their jurisdictions, and shall devise a proposal to lawfully promote such involvement.

Sec. 6. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.

Sec. 7. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall expedite the completion and implementation of a biometric entry-exit tracking system for all travelers to the United States, as recommended by the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall submit to the President periodic reports on the progress of the directive contained in subsection (a) of this section. The initial report shall be submitted within 100 days of the date of this order, a second report shall be submitted within 200 days of the date of this order, and a third report shall be submitted within 365 days of the date of this order. Further, the Secretary shall submit a report every 180 days thereafter until the system is fully deployed and operational.

Sec. 8. Visa Interview Security. (a) The Secretary of State shall immediately suspend the Visa Interview Waiver Program and ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.

(b) To the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, the Secretary of State shall immediately expand the Consular Fellows Program, including by substantially increasing the number of Fellows, lengthening or making permanent the period of service, and making language training at the Foreign Service Institute available to Fellows for assignment to posts outside of their area of core linguistic nonimmigrant visas in a reciprocal manner, the Secretary of State shall adjust the visa validity period, fee schedule, or other treatment to match the treatment of United States nationals by the foreign country, to the extent practicable.

Sec. 10. Transparency and Data Collection. (a) To be more transparent with the American people, and to more effectively implement policies and practices that serve the national interest, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Attorney General, shall, consistent with applicable law and national security, collect and make publicly available within 180 days, and every 180 days thereafter:

(i) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been charged with terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; convicted of terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; or removed from the United States based on terrorism-related activity, affiliation, or material support to a terrorism-related organization, or any other national security reasons since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later;

(ii) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been radicalized after entry into the United States and engaged in terrorism-related acts, or who have provided material support to terrorism-related organizations in countries that pose a threat to the United States, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iii) information regarding the number and types of acts of gender-based violence against women, including honor killings, in the United States by foreign nationals, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iv) any other information relevant to public safety and security as determined by the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, including information on the immigration status of foreign nationals charged with major offenses.

(b) The Secretary of State shall, within one year of the date of this order, provide a report on the estimated long-term costs of the USRAP at the Federal, State, and local levels.

Sec. 11. General Provisions. (a) Nothing in this order shall be construed to impair or otherwise affect:

(b) This order shall be implemented consistent with applicable law and subject to the availability of appropriations.

(c) This order is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, or entities, its officers, employees, or agents, or any other person.

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

For section 4, do we need to take any actions prior to the"plan" described in section four being developed and implemented? And who is responsible for developing the plan?

For section 6, should we adjudicate cases in TRIG hold? It doesn't seem like exemptions are forthcoming.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this (b)(5) extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

Subject: RE: Executive Order

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Subject: Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Field Operations Instructions

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

Effectively immediately and until additional guidance is received, you may not take final action on any petition or application where the applicant is a citizen or national of Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya. Field offices may interview applicants for adjustment of status and other benefits according to current processing guidance and may process petitions and applications for individuals from these countries up to the point where a decision would be made. At that point, cases shall be placed on hold until further notice and will be shelved with specific NFTS codes which will be provided through the Regional Offices. Offices are not permitted make any final decision on affected cases to include approval, denial, withdrawal, or revocation.

Please look for additional guidance later this weekend on how to process naturalization applicants from one of the seven countries listed above who are currently scheduled for oath ceremony or whose N-400s have been approved and they are pending scheduling of oath ceremony.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures as needed in the coming days. Questions or requests for additional clarification may be directed to the Regional Offices through your chain of command.

I saw that FOD sent out guidance to the field yesterday indicating that no final action can be taken on any petition or application for a citizen or national of one of the 7 countries, pending further guidance to come. Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made.

NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. I'm not sure whether SCOPS has issued any guidance. Has anyone seen?

Kathryn raises great points. If the EO is restricted to "entries," we should be able to adjudicate natz, adjustment, TPS, and non-immigrant applications where the applicant is physically present in the United States.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple (b)(5) things:

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

All—

OCC RALD was looking at this and thus far, has come up with the following:

EO 13769 – Foreign Terrorist Entry

Sec. 6 Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility

- Christina thought this was about TRIG
- OCC RALD: This is about TRIG, but doesn't require any regulatory action. Our TRIG working group is already looking at this and preparing for future discussions with the Department and the interagency.

EO 13767 Border Security and Imm Enf

Sec. 11(b): 8 CFR 208.30 and 31 - Credible fear and reasonable fear determinations
OCC RALD: No need for regulatory changes, but the Asylum Division is working on revisions to its Credible Fear lesson plan in response to this. That's not to say that there won't be a push for regulatory changes, but there's nothing here that isn't consistent with the plain language of the statute.

11(d): Parole authority – must be case-by-case in accordance with the plain language of the statute
We think 8 CFR 212.5 might be affected, but need to study the issue further.
11(c): Applying Expedited Removal to applicants for admission present for less than 2 years. Requires a FR notice, but this is primarily a CBP/ICE matter, but it will affect asylum officer resources.

Subject: Urgent Request: Possible Regulatory Action related to the Executive Orders on Immigration - Due 2/3, 12 Noon
Importance: High

Good Afternoon RAIO,

Following issuance of the attached Executive Orders (EOs), there have been a number of working groups that have been stood up in the Department to effect implementation. One such group is being chaired by OGC Regulatory Affairs and is tasked with identifying and managing the various regulatory actions that may be needed to implement provisions of these Orders. Ania and I just finished a conference call with them and need some information from you to complete an urgent tasker on possible regulatory actions needed to implement the EOs.

On first glance, I think the Parole, Asylum, Reasonable Fear, and Credible Fear provisions of EO 13767, Section 11 will definitely have regulatory implications for RAIO; however, there could be other provisions that I'm overlooking in the other EOs. Could you please take a look at the attached EOs, if you haven't already, and at minimum identify what specific EO provision is likely to require regulatory changes and the regulatory citation, if known?

DHS needs this information from us by 12 noon tomorrow, so I'd appreciate any assistance you can give in just quickly identifying those items. At this point, your response doesn't need to be any more expansive then the following, for example:

- EO 13767, Section 11: 8 CFR XXX.XX – Update Reasonable Fear regulations to [insert]
- EO 13767, Section 11: 8 CFR XXX.XX – Update asylum regulations to [insert]
- ....

I apologize in advance for the short turnaround on this, and have already requested a delay and been denied. Even if you don't have an idea of the regulatory citation or it depends on the ultimate policy and it is just a possibility, that's fine at this point...

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Samantha

Center Directors and Deputies,

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

While we await further guidance, we must temporarily suspend adjudication of all applications, petitions or requests involving citizens or nationals of the listed countries. At this point there are no exceptions for any form types, to include I-90s or I-765s. Please physically segregate any files that are impacted by this temporary hold pending further guidance. As you would expect, we will be developing a weekly report format for you to identify the number and types of cases on hold.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures in the coming days.

Please ensure this guidance is conveyed as soon as possible to all appropriate employees and get back to us with any questions. Also, please reply to let me know each center has received this message.

Thanks,

Don

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,
Larry

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

Everyone should be compiling a list of all of their questions and getting them to Jess so Lori and I have a complete list. If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law

Hi All – attached is the executive order signed early this evening by the President. Please let me, Mike and Larry know if any questions or immediate impacts to policy come to mind. Next week, we may want to consider pulling relevant policy guidance and start thinking about new guidance that will have to be issued. Hopefully we will have more information.

In the meantime, please send any questions!

Thanks,
Natalie

Here is a quick summary (please read the entire document – I tried to hit the "highlights"):

1. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. There are review and reporting requirements that shall be completed within 30 days and additional follow up reporting requirements. While the review is conducted, the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), is suspended for 90 days. The Secretary shall provide a list of countries that do not provided necessary information to adjudicate and additional countries may be added. Visas may be issued to nationals of "blocked" countries in the national interest.
2. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs A program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission will be created and will include development of a uniform screening standard and procedure; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants; amended application forms with questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.
3. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. Suspension of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days for review of the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States. After 120 days, USRAP admissions resume for nationals of countries for which have been determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States. Refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality will be prioritized. Admission of refugees from Syria will be suspended. The refugee limit will be 50,000 for fiscal year 2017.

4. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.
5. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System.
6. Visa Interview Security. The visa interview waiver program is suspended to ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.
7. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal.

Office of the Press Secretary

- - - - - - -

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America, including the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), 8 U.S.C. 1101 et seq., and section 301 of title 3, United States Code, and to protect the American people from terrorist attacks by foreign nationals admitted to the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. Purpose. The visa-issuance process plays a crucial role in detecting individuals with terrorist ties and stopping them from entering the United States. Perhaps in no instance was that more apparent than the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, when State Department policy prevented consular officers from properly scrutinizing the visa applications of several of the 19 foreign nationals who went on to murder nearly 3,000 Americans. And while the visa-issuance process was reviewed and amended after the September 11 attacks to better detect would-be terrorists from receiving visas, these measures did not stop attacks by foreign nationals who were admitted to the United States.

Numerous foreign-born individuals have been convicted or implicated in terrorism-related crimes since September 11, 2001, including foreign nationals who entered the United States after receiving visitor, student, or employment visas, or who entered through the United States refugee resettlement program. Deteriorating conditions in certain countries due to war, strife, disaster, and civil unrest increase the likelihood that terrorists will use any means possible to enter the United States. The United States must be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.

In order to protect Americans, the United States must ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles. The United States cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law. In addition, the United States should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation.

Sec. 2. Policy. It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

Sec. 3. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall immediately conduct a review to determine the information needed from any country to adjudicate any visa, admission, or other benefit under the INA (adjudications) in order to determine that the individual seeking the benefit is who the individual claims to be and is not a security or public-safety threat.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall submit to the President a report on the results of the review described in subsection (a) of this section, including the Secretary of Homeland Security's determination of the information needed for adjudications and a list of countries that do not provide adequate information, within 30 days of the date of this order. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall provide a copy of the report to the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence.

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

(d) Immediately upon receipt of the report described in subsection (b) of this section regarding the information needed for adjudications, the Secretary of State shall request all foreign governments that do not supply such information to start providing such information regarding their nationals within 60 days of notification.

(e) After the 60-day period described in subsection (d) of this section expires, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State, shall submit to the President a list of countries recommended for inclusion on a Presidential proclamation that would prohibit the entry of foreign nationals (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas) from countries that do not provide the information requested pursuant to subsection (d) of this section until compliance occurs.

(f) At any point after submitting the list described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretary of State or the Secretary of Homeland Security may submit to the President the names of any additional countries recommended for similar treatment.

(g) Notwithstanding a suspension pursuant to subsection (c) of this section or pursuant to a Presidential proclamation described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security may, on a case-by-case basis, and when in the national interest, issue visas or other immigration benefits to nationals of countries for which visas and benefits are otherwise blocked.

(h) The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall submit to the President a joint report on the progress in implementing this order within 30 days of the date of this order, a second report within 60 days of the date of this order, a third report within 90 days of the date of this order, and a fourth report within 120 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 4. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. (a) The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall implement a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission. This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in conjunction with the Secretary of State, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of this directive within 60 days of the date of this order, a second report within 100 days of the date of this order, and a third report within 200 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 5. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. (a) The Secretary of State shall suspend the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days. During the 120-day period, the Secretary of State, in conjunction with the Secretary of Homeland Security and in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, shall review the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States, and shall implement such additional procedures. Refugee applicants who are already in the USRAP process may be admitted upon the initiation and completion of these revised procedures. Upon the date that is 120 days after the date of this order, the Secretary of State shall resume USRAP admissions only for nationals of countries for which the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and the Director of National Intelligence have jointly determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States.

(b) Upon the resumption of USRAP admissions, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security, is further directed to make changes, to the extent permitted by law, to prioritize refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality. Where necessary and appropriate, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall recommend legislation to the President that would assist with such prioritization.

(c) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of nationals of Syria as refugees is detrimental to the interests of the United States and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I have determined that sufficient changes have been made to the USRAP to ensure that admission of Syrian refugees is consistent with the national interest.

(d) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of more than 50,000 refugees in fiscal year 2017 would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I determine that additional admissions would be in the national interest.

(e) Notwithstanding the temporary suspension imposed pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the Secretaries of

State and Homeland Security may jointly determine to admit individuals to the United States as refugees on a case-by-case basis, in their discretion, but only so long as they determine that the admission of such individuals as refugees is in the national interest -- including when the person is a religious minority in his country of nationality facing religious persecution, when admitting the person would enable the United States to conform its conduct to a preexisting international agreement, or when the person is already in transit and denying admission would cause undue hardship -- and it would not pose a risk to the security or welfare of the United States.

(f) The Secretary of State shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of the directive in subsection (b) of this section regarding prioritization of claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution within 100 days of the date of this order and shall submit a second report within 200 days of the date of this order.

(g) It is the policy of the executive branch that, to the extent permitted by law and as practicable, State and local jurisdictions be granted a role in the process of determining the placement or settlement in their jurisdictions of aliens eligible to be admitted to the United States as refugees. To that end, the Secretary of Homeland Security shall examine existing law to determine the extent to which, consistent with applicable law, State and local jurisdictions may have greater involvement in the process of determining the placement or resettlement of refugees in their jurisdictions, and shall devise a proposal to lawfully promote such involvement.

Sec. 6. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.

Sec. 7. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall expedite the completion and implementation of a biometric entry-exit tracking system for all travelers to the United States, as recommended by the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall submit to the President periodic reports on the progress of the directive contained in subsection (a) of this section. The initial report shall be submitted within 100 days of the date of this order, a second report shall be submitted within 200 days of the date of this order, and a third report shall be submitted within 365 days of the date of this order. Further, the Secretary shall submit a report every 180 days thereafter until the system is fully deployed and operational.

Sec. 8. Visa Interview Security. (a) The Secretary of State shall immediately suspend the Visa Interview Waiver Program and ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.

(b) To the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, the Secretary of State shall immediately expand the Consular Fellows Program, including by substantially increasing the number of Fellows, lengthening or making permanent the period of service, and making language training at the Foreign Service Institute available to Fellows for assignment to posts outside of their area of core linguistic ability, to ensure that non-immigrant visa-interview wait times are not unduly affected.

Sec. 9. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal insofar as practicable with respect to validity period and fees, as required by sections 221(c) and 281 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1201(c) and 1351, and other treatment. If a country does not treat United States nationals seeking nonimmigrant visas in a reciprocal manner, the Secretary of State shall adjust the visa validity period, fee schedule, or other treatment to match the treatment of United States nationals by the foreign country, to the extent practicable.

Sec. 10. Transparency and Data Collection. (a) To be more transparent with the American people, and to more effectively implement policies and practices that serve the national interest, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Attorney General, shall, consistent with applicable law and national security, collect and make publicly available within 180 days, and every 180 days thereafter:

(i) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been charged with terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; convicted of terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; or removed from the United States based on terrorism-related activity, affiliation, or material support to a terrorism-related organization, or any other national security reasons since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later;

(ii) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been radicalized after entry into the United States and engaged in terrorism-related acts, or who have provided material support to terrorism-related organizations in countries that pose a threat to the United States, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iii) information regarding the number and types of acts of gender-based violence against women, including honor killings, in the United States by foreign nationals, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iv) any other information relevant to public safety and security as determined by the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, including information on the immigration status of foreign nationals charged with major offenses.

(b) The Secretary of State shall, within one year of the date of this order, provide a report on the estimated long-term costs of the USRAP at the Federal, State, and local levels.

Sec. 11. General Provisions. (a) Nothing in this order shall be construed to impair or otherwise affect:

(i) the authority granted by law to an executive department or agency, or the head thereof; or

(ii) the functions of the Director of the Office of Management and Budget relating to budgetary, administrative, or legislative proposals.

(b) This order shall be implemented consistent with applicable law and subject to the availability of appropriations.

(c) This order is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, or entities, its officers, employees, or agents, or any other person.

Ok, the way I plan to proceed, which I think is consistent with what you want, Larry, is that I will be going through the very helpful chart that Shannon provided, and filling in questions I have on the provisions in the column for Questions. So it's clear which division is raising the question I am going to edit the column to label it NSBI Questions. I'll send that to the entire group for visibility when completed—sometime this evening.

I'm assuming Natalie will then roll-up all the questions each of us submits-- weeding out duplicative questions-- into a master chart for OP&S. Larry, I recommend that you send to Jess for the use of D1/D2, (consistent with D1s request for consolidated questions from components—we weren't asked but they should be made aware of our questions). My understanding/recommendation is that our master chart will be posted to the OP&S ECN (and presumably regularly updated as needed), and used by us for discussions: internal to OP&S; with other components and USCIS or DHS leadership; and for inter-agency discussions.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

Everyone should be compiling a list of all of their questions and getting them to Jess so Lori and I have a complete list. If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

Ok, the way I plan to proceed, which I think is consistent with what you want, Larry, is that I will be going through the very helpful chart that Shannon provided, and filling in questions I have on the provisions in the column for Questions. So it's clear which division is raising the question I am going to edit the column to label it NSBI Questions. I'll send that to the entire group for visibility when completed—sometime this evening.

I'm assuming Natalie will then roll-up all the questions each of us submits-- weeding out duplicative questions-- into a master chart for OP&S. Larry, I recommend that you send to Jess for the use of D1/D2, (consistent with D1s request for consolidated questions from components—we weren't asked but they should be made aware of our questions). My understanding/recommendation is that our master chart will be posted to the OP&S ECN (and presumably regularly updated as needed), and used by us for discussions: internal to OP&S; with other components and USCIS or DHS leadership; and for inter-agency discussions.

I think the answer to the first two is yes they are impacted for the 7 countries identified. Not sure about petitions for beneficiaries abroad. I'll ask.

Thanks for sending this, Lori.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. Separately, is there any impact on petitions for beneficiaries abroad since we would not be determining admissibility? I would think not, but it would be good to have clarity.

If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

POLICY: It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

- Be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.
- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law
- We should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

Subject: RE: Executive Order

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of

foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

Everyone should be compiling a list of all of their questions and getting them to Jess so Lori and I have a complete list. If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted]

(b)(5)

(b)(5)

[redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

ANN DONNELLY, District Judge.

On January 28, 2017, the petitioners filed an Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated.

IT APPEARING to the Court from the Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal, the other submissions, the arguments of counsel, and the hearing held on the 28th of January, 2017,

1. The petitioners have a strong likelihood of success in establishing that the removal of the petitioner and others similarly situated violates their rights to Due Process and Equal Protection guaranteed by the United States Constitution;

2. There is imminent danger that, absent the stay of removal, there will be substantial and irreparable injury to refugees, visa-holders, and other individuals from nations subject to the January 27, 2017 Executive Order;
3. The issuance of the stay of removal will not injure the other parties interested in the proceeding;

(b)(5)

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this (b)(5) extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

POLICY: It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

- Be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.
- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law
- We should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation

Executive Authority to Exclude Aliens: In Brief

Kate M. Manuel
Acting Section Research Manager

January 23, 2017

Congressional Research Service

R44743

CRS REPORT
Prepared for Members and Committees of Congress

Summary

The Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) provides that individual aliens outside the United States are "inadmissible"—or barred from admission to the country—on health, criminal, security, and other grounds set forth in the INA. However, the INA also grants the Executive several broader authorities that could be used to exclude certain individual aliens or classes of aliens for reasons that are not specifically prescribed in the INA.

Section 212(f) of the INA is arguably the broadest and best known of these authorities. It provides, in relevant part, that > Whenever the President finds that the entry of any aliens or of any class of aliens into the United States would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, he may by proclamation, and for such period as he shall deem necessary, suspend the entry of all aliens or any class of aliens as immigrants or nonimmigrants, or impose on the entry of aliens any restrictions he may deem to be appropriate.

Over the years, Presidents have relied upon Section 212(f) to suspend or otherwise restrict the entry of individual aliens and classes of aliens, often (although not always) in conjunction with the imposition of financial sanctions upon these aliens. Among those so excluded have been aliens whose actions "threaten the peace, security, or stability of Libya"; officials of the North Korean government; and aliens responsible for "serious human rights violations."

Neither the text of Section 212(f) nor the case law to date suggests any firm legal limits upon the President's exercise of his authority to exclude aliens under this provision. The central statutory constraint imposed on Section 212(f)'s exclusionary power is that the President must have found that the entry of any alien or class of aliens would be "detrimental to the interests of the United States." The statute does not address (1) what factors should be considered in determining whether aliens' entry is "detrimental" to U.S. interests; (2) when and how proclamations suspending or restricting entry should be issued; (3) what factors are to be considered in determining whether particular restrictions are "appropriate"; or (4) how long any restrictions should last. The limited case law addressing exercises of presidential authority under Section 212(f) also supports the view that this provision confers broad authority to bar or impose conditions upon the entry of aliens. Key among these cases is the Supreme Court's 1993 decision in Sale v. Haitian Centers Council, Inc., which held that the U.S. practice of interdicting persons fleeing Haiti outside U.S. territorial waters and returning them to their home country without allowing them to raise claims for asylum or withholding of removal did not violate the INA or the United Nations Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees. The U.S. practice had been established by Executive Order 12807, which was issued, in part, under the authority of Section 212(f) and "suspend[ed] the entry of aliens coming by sea to the United States without necessary documentation." However, depending on their scope, future executive actions under Section 212(f) could potentially be seen to raise legal issues that have not been prompted by the Executive's prior exercises of this authority.

Beyond Section 212(f), other provisions of the INA can also be seen to authorize the Executive to restrict aliens' entry to the United States. Most notably, Section 214(a)(1) prescribes that the "admission of any alien to the United States as a nonimmigrant shall be for such time and under such conditions as [the Executive] may by regulations prescribe." Section 215(a)(1) similarly provides that "it shall be unlawful for any alien" to enter or depart the United States "except under such reasonable rules, regulations, and orders, and subject to such limitations and exceptions as the President may prescribe." For example, President Carter cited Section 215(a)—rather than Section 212(f)—when authorizing the revocation of immigrant and nonimmigrant visas issued to Iranian citizens during the Iran Hostage Crisis.

The Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) provides that individual aliens outside the United States are "inadmissible"—or generally barred from admission to the country[1]—on health, criminal, security, and other grounds set forth in the INA.[2] However, the INA also grants the Executive several broad authorities that could be used to exclude certain individual aliens or classes of aliens for reasons that are not specifically set forth in the INA. Section 212(f) of the INA is arguably the broadest and best known of these provisions,[3] but Sections 214(a)(1) and 215(a)(1) can also be seen to authorize the Executive to restrict aliens' entry or admission to the United States.[4]

This report provides a brief overview of the Executive's authority under these provisions of the INA. It begins with and focuses primarily on Section 212(f). It also briefly notes other provisions.

Section 212(f) of the INA

The provisions currently in Section 212(f)—which have been part of the INA since its enactment in 1952[5]—state, in relevant part, that

> Whenever the President finds that the entry of any aliens or of any class of aliens into the United States would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, he may by proclamation and for such period as he shall deem necessary, suspend the entry of all aliens or any class of aliens as immigrants or nonimmigrants, or impose on the entry of aliens any restrictions he may deem to be appropriate.[6]

Legislative history materials from the time of the INA's enactment suggest that these provisions were seen to grant the President broad authority to bar or impose conditions upon the entry of aliens,[7] and Presidents over the years have relied upon Section 212(f) to suspend or restrict the entry of various groups of aliens, often (although not always) in conjunction with the imposition of financial sanctions upon them. Among those so excluded have been aliens whose actions

[1] The INA defines "admission" to mean "the lawful entry of an alien into the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer." INA § 101(a)(13)(A), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(13)(A). The INA is codified in Title 8 of the United States Code, and references to the INA in this report also include references to the corresponding sections of Title 8.

Certain of these grounds of inadmissibility may be waived. See, e.g., INA § 212(a)(9)(B)(v), 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(9)(B)(v) (authorizing the Executive to waive the 3- and 10-year bars upon the admission of aliens who have been unlawfully present in the United States for more than 180 days if the refusal of admission to the alien would result in "extreme hardship" to a parent or spouse who is a U.S. citizen or lawful permanent resident (LPR)).

However, at one time, the INA defined the term "entry" to mean "any coming of an alien into the United States, from any foreign port or place or from an outlying possession, whether voluntarily or otherwise." INA § 101(a)(13), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(13) (1994). See infra notes 26-27 and accompanying text.

Neither the text of Section 212(f) nor the case law to date suggests any firm legal constraints upon the President's exercise of his authority under Section 212(f), as is explained below. However, future executive actions under INA § 212(f) could potentially be seen to raise legal issues that have not been prompted by the Executive's prior exercise of this authority.[11]

Statutory Language and Executive Branch Interpretations

On its face, Section 212(f) would appear to give the President broad authority to preclude or otherwise restrict the entry into the United States of individual aliens or classes of aliens who are outside the United States and lack recognized ties to the country.[12] The central statutory constraint imposed on Section 212(f)'s exclusionary power is that the President must have found that the entry of any aliens or class of aliens would be "detrimental to the interests of the United States" in order to exclude the alien or class of aliens.[13] The statute does not address (1) what factors should be considered in determining whether aliens' entry is "detrimental" to U.S. interests; (2) when and how proclamations suspending or restricting entry should be issued; (3) what factors are to be considered in determining whether particular restrictions are "appropriate"; or (4) how long any restrictions should last. There also do not appear to be any regulations addressing the exercise of presidential authority under Section 212(f).

The Department of State's Foreign Affairs Manual (FAM) seemingly provides the only publicly available executive branch guidance on the President's Section 212(f) authority. In relevant part, the FAM notes that Section 212(f) proclamations "typically" grant the Secretary of State authority to identify individuals covered by the proclamation and to waive its application for foreign policy

[11] Not knowing the form that future restrictions might take, or the grounds upon which such restrictions might be subject to legal challenges, it would be premature to assess whether specific restrictions might be within the Executive's authority. However, it is important to note that aliens outside the United States who have no ties to the country generally have limited ability to challenge the denial of visas or admission to them. See, e.g., Shaughnessy v. Mezei, 345 U.S. 206, 216 (1953) ("Whatever our individual estimate of that policy and the fears on which it rests, respondent's right to enter the United States depends on the congressional will, and courts cannot substitute their judgment for the legislative mandate."); United States ex rel. Knauff v. Shaughnessy, 338 U.S. 537, 542 (1950) ("[A]n alien who seeks admission to this country may not do so under any claim of right. Admission of aliens to the United States is a privilege granted by the sovereign United States Government. Such privilege is granted to an alien only upon such terms as the United States shall prescribe."). But see Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753, 762-63 (1972) (recognizing that U.S. persons adversely affected by the denial of a visa waiver to an alien outside the United States may have a right to challenge the denial under certain circumstances).

or other national interests.[14] The FAM also notes that such proclamations may bar entry based on either affiliation or "objectionable" conduct. In addition, it provides that Section 212(f) may reach persons who are inadmissible under other provisions of law, in which case, the "statutory inadmissibilities are to be considered prior to determining whether a Presidential Proclamation applies."[15] However, the FAM is generally not seen as having the force of law to bind the executive branch.[16] Thus, the Executive would not need to engage in notice-and-comment rulemaking in order to alter particular practices contained in the FAM that have historically been associated with exercises of Section 212(f) authority (e.g., not relying on a 212(f) proclamation to bar the admission of aliens who are inadmissible on other grounds).[17]

Judicial Constructions of Section 212(f)

The limited case law addressing exercises of presidential authority under Section 212(f) also supports the view that this provision of the INA confers broad authority to suspend or restrict the entry of aliens. Key among these cases is the Supreme Court's 1993 decision in Sale v. Haitian Centers Council, Inc., which held that the U.S. practice of interdicting persons fleeing Haiti outside U.S. territorial waters and returning them to their home country without allowing them to raise claims for asylum and withholding of removal did not violate either the INA or the United Nations Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees.[18] The U.S. practice had been established by Executive Order 12807, which was issued, in part, under the authority of Section 212(f) of the INA[19] and "suspend[ed] the entry of aliens coming by sea to the United States without necessary documentation."[20] Although the Sale Court was primarily concerned with whether the INA and UN Convention provisions regarding withholding of removal applied extraterritorially,[21] it is arguably important for understanding the scope of the President's Section 212(f) authority. In particular, the Sale decision arguably helped clarify the relationship between exercises of the authority granted by Section 212(f) and those granted by other provisions of the INA, as well as the meaning of entry for purposes of Section 212(f).

[18] 509 U.S. 155, 158-59 (1993). Specifically at issue in Sale were the provisions currently in INA § 241(b)(3)(B) and Article 33 of the Convention, which both bar the return of aliens to countries where their life or freedom would be threatened because of their race, religion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in a particular social group. The United States is technically a party to the 1967 UN Protocol Relating to the Status of Refugees, not the 1951 Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees. However, the Protocol incorporated articles 2 to 34 of the Convention, and it is customary for commentators to refer to the Convention, not the Protocol, when discussing these articles.

[19] Executive Order 12,807 also cited INA § 215(a)(1), which provides that "[u]nless otherwise ordered by the President, it shall be unlawful for any alien to depart from or enter ... the United States except under such reasonable rules, regulations, and orders, and subject to such limitations and exceptions as the President may prescribe." 8 U.S.C. § 1185(a)(1). For further discussion of this provision, see infra "Other Provisions of the INA".

In particular, the Court rejected the view of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit ("Second Circuit") that interdiction was prohibited because of the INA's prohibition upon the then-Attorney General returning an alien to a country where he or she would be persecuted.[22] The Second Circuit had reached this conclusion by noting that the Attorney General was the President's "agent" in matters of immigration.[23] Therefore, it found that INA's prohibition on the Attorney General returning aliens to countries where the alien's life or freedom would be threatened because of the alien's race, religion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in a particular social group should be imputed to the rest of the executive branch.[24] The Supreme Court disagreed, however, holding that the interdiction program created by the President did not "usurp[] authority that Congress has delegated to, or implicate[] responsibilities that it has imposed on, the Attorney General alone."[25] The Court reached this conclusion, in part, because it viewed the INA as restricting only the then-Attorney General's immigration-related responsibilities under the act. It did not view the INA as restricting the President's actions in geographic areas outside of where Congress had authorized the Attorney General to act in the immigration context (i.e., outside the United States).[26] The upshot of this reasoning was that the Court declined to find that the interdiction program implemented under the authority of Section 212(f) ran afoul of statutory or treaty-based restrictions.

The Sale decision also helped define what is meant by the term entry as that term is used in Section 212(f). At the time when Sale was decided, the INA explicitly defined entry to encompass "any coming of an alien into the United States, from any foreign port or place or from an outlying possession, whether voluntarily or otherwise."[27] Therefore, consistent with this definition, the Court distinguished between (1) aliens who are "on our shores seeking admission" or "on the threshold of initial entry," and (2) aliens who are within the United States after entry, regardless of the legality of that entry.[28] While the statutory definition of entry that the Court relied upon was deleted from the INA as part of the amendments made by the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA) of 1996 (P.L. 104-208),[29] the Sale Court's construction of entry has persisted in discussions of Section 212(f) and in other contexts.[30]

[22] Id. at 171-72. For several decades, the authority to interpret, implement, and enforce the provisions of the INA was primarily vested in the Attorney General. The Attorney General, in turn, delegated this authority to the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) within the Department of Justice. Following the establishment of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) pursuant to the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (P.L. 107-296), the INS was abolished and its functions were generally transferred to DHS. See 6 U.S.C. § 251. Although the INA still refers to the Attorney General in multiple places, such references are generally (although not universally) taken to mean the Secretary of Homeland Security. See generally CRS Legal Sidebar WSLG553, Does It Matter Whether the INA Says DOJ or DHS?: An Example Involving Revocation of Asylum, by Kate M. Lower court decisions provide some further discussion of exercises of 212(f) authority that would seem to be consistent with Sale. The most recent of these, an unpublished 2003 decision by the Second Circuit in Sesay v. Immigration and Naturalization Service [INS], granted deference to the Board of Immigration Appeals' (BIA's) determination that the alien petitioner was ineligible for asylum because a grant of asylum necessarily requires entry, and the petitioner's entry was barred by Presidential Proclamation 7062.[31] Previously, in its 1992 decision in Haitian Refugee Center, Inc. v. Baker, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit had noted various precedents characterizing the power to exclude aliens from the country as an "inherent executive power" when opining that Section 212(f) "clearly grants the President broad discretionary authority to control the entry of aliens into the United States."[32] A lower court, the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, similarly emphasized the breadth of the executive's power over entry in conjunction with its discussion of Section 212(f) in its 1996 decision in Encuentro del Canto Popular v. Christopher, stating,

> The exclusion of aliens is a fundamental act of sovereignty. The right to do so stems not alone from legislative power but is inherent in the executive power to control the foreign affairs of the nation. When Congress prescribes a procedure concerning the admissibility of aliens, it is not dealing alone with a legislative power. It is implementing an inherent executive power.[33]

Collectively, Sale and these other decisions suggest that Section 212(f) gives the Executive significant power to bar or impose conditions upon the entry of aliens "on our shores seeking admission" or "on the threshold of initial entry."[34] None of these decisions note any limitations upon the President's power under Section 212(f). This silence could, however, be seen, in part, to reflect the arguably limited nature of the Executive's use of its Section 212(f) authority to date. As Table 1 below illustrates, prior exercises of presidential authority under Section 212(f) have

The Second Circuit noted, but did not address, arguments as to the relationship between Sections 212(d) and 212(f) in its decision. The Secretary of Homeland Security's authority to parole aliens into the United States under Section 212(d), however, could be seen as a counterpart to the President's authority under Section 212(f) in that the President may "parole"—or permit the entry into the United States—almost any alien, regardless of whether the alien is subject to one or more of the grounds of inadmissibility set forth in Section 212(a). See INA § 212(d)(5)(A), 8 U.S.C. § 1182(d)(5)(A) ("The Attorney General [later, Secretary of Homeland Security] may [subject to certain restrictions involving refugees and alien laborers] in his discretion parole into the United States temporarily under such conditions as he may prescribe only on a case-by-case basis for urgent humanitarian reasons or significant public benefit any alien applying for admission to the United States.... The Christopher case arose from a challenge to the denial or revocation of visas to certain Cubans pursuant to Presidential Proclamation 5377, which suspended the entry of individuals whom the Secretary of State (or a designee) considered to be officers or employees of the Cuban government or Cuban Communist Party. As the district court noted, although the plaintiffs at times seem to have suggested that Section 212(f) itself is invalid, their argument was best construed as being that Presidential Proclamation 5377 was invalid because it conflicted with Section 901 of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act for FY1988-1989. Id. at 1363.

differed in terms of which and how many aliens are subject to exclusion. In no case to date, though, has the Executive purported to take certain types of action, such as barring all aliens from entering the United States for an extended period of time or explicitly distinguishing between categories of aliens based on their religion. Any such restrictions could potentially be seen to raise legal issues that were not raised by prior exclusions. For example, if the Executive were to seek to bar the entry of all aliens, as immigrants or nonimmigrants, for an extended time, questions could be raised about whether the President's action was consistent with Congress's intent in enacting statutes which prescribe criteria for the issuance of family- and employment-based immigrant and nonimmigrant visas and authorize the issuance of certain numbers of such visas each year.[35] Similarly, if the President were to purport to exclude aliens based on their religion, an argument could potentially be made that this action is in tension with U.S. treaty obligations[36] or the First Amendment.[37] (Distinctions between aliens based on nationality, in contrast, have historically been viewed as a routine feature of immigration legislation and subjected to deferential "rational basis" review by the courts.[38])

[35] For example, Section 203(a)(1) provides that "[q]ualified immigrants who are the unmarried sons or daughters of citizens of the United States shall be allocated visas in a number not to exceed 23,400" (with some additions possible) each year. See 8 U.S.C. § 1153(a)(1). [36] For example, Article 2 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights provides that "[e]ach State Party ... undertakes to respect and to ensure to all individuals within its territory and subject to its jurisdiction the rights recognized in the present Covenant, without distinction of any kind" based on religion, among other things. J. INT'L HUM. RTS. 1, 2 (2005). However, "Congress has not made the treaty enforceable in U.S. courts," and commentators have disagreed as to whether it or other provisions of law (e.g., the First Amendment) could serve as basis for invalidating the exclusion of certain aliens because of their religion. See, e.g., Debra Cassens Weiss, Would SCOTUS Uphold Trump's Plan to Bar Muslim Immigrants, ABA J., Dec. 9, 2015, http://www.abajournal.com/news/article/would_scotus_uphold_trumps_plan_to_bar_muslim_immigrants.

[37] Aliens outside the United States without recognized ties to the country might have difficulty in maintaining such a challenge. See id. However, in certain cases, a ban on the entry of persons based on religion could potentially be seen to impinge upon the First Amendment rights of U.S. citizens by, for example, excluding officers and teachers of that religion. Cf. Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753, 762-63 (1972) (recognizing that U.S. persons whose constitutional rights are adversely affected by the denial of a visa way to an alien outside the United States may have the right to challenge the denial in certain circumstances).

Other Provisions of the INA

Beyond Section 212(f), other provisions of the INA can also be seen to authorize the Executive to restrict aliens' entry to the United States.[39] Most notably, Section 214(a)(1) prescribes that the "admission of any alien to the United States as a nonimmigrant shall be for such time and under such conditions as [the Executive] may by regulations prescribe."[40] (Nonimmigrants are aliens admitted to the United States for a specific period of time and purpose pursuant to one of the [39] In addition, yet other provisions of the INA could be seen to give the Executive discretion as to whether certain categories of aliens are admitted. For example, Section 207(a)(2) of the INA could be seen to give the Executive broad discretion in determining how many aliens are admitted to the United States as refugees each year. See 8 U.S.C. § 1157(a)(2). Other provisions outside immigration law could also apply. See National Defense Authorization Act for FY2017, P.L. 114-328, §§ 1261-1265,—Stat.—(Dec. 23, 2016) (sanctions for human rights abusers); Consolidated Appropriations Act, P.L. 114-113, § 7031(c), 129 Stat. 2755 (Dec. 18, 2015) (providing that certain foreign officials involved in "significant corruption" and their immediate family are ineligible for entry to the United States); Russia and Moldova Jackson-Vanik Repeal and Sergei Magnitsky Rule of Law Accountability Act of 2012, P.L. 112-208, §§ 404-406, 126 Stat. 1505-1509 (Dec. 14, 2012) (excluding certain aliens involved in human rights abuses).

"lettered" visas set forth in Section 101(a)(15) of the INA.[41]) Section 215(a)(1) similarly provides that "it shall be unlawful for any alien" to enter or depart the United States "except under such reasonable rules, regulations, and orders, and subject to such limitations and exceptions as the President may prescribe."[42] In the past, the Executive has relied upon Section 215(a)(1), in particular, to exclude certain aliens. For example, President Carter cited to Section 215(a) when authorizing the revocation of immigrant and nonimmigrant visas issued to Iranians during the Iran Hostage Crisis.[43]

The current Section 215(a) was enacted as part of the INA in 1952.[44] However, similar language appeared in earlier immigration-related statutes.[45] Both the earlier language and the initial version of Section 215(a) granted the President the power to impose additional restrictions upon aliens' entry into and departure from the United States during times of war and, in some cases, "national emergency."[46] The President's exclusion of certain aliens under this authority[47] was upheld in several court cases, the most notable of which was arguably the Supreme Court's 1950 decision in United States ex rel. Knauff v. Shaughnessy.[48] There, the Court rejected a challenge to the exclusion of a German "war bride" under regulations promulgated pursuant to Presidential Proclamation 2523, which was itself issued under the authority of a predecessor of Section 215(a).[49] In so doing, the Court rejected the excluded bride's argument that both the regulations and the underlying statute constituted an impermissible delegation of legislative power, reasoning that "[t]he exclusion of aliens is a fundamental act of sovereignty. The right to do so stems not

Reg. 5173 (Aug. 19, 1949) (President Truman relying, in part, on a predecessor to Section 215(a) in excluding aliens whose entry executive officials deem "would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States"); Proclamation 2,523, Control of Persons Entering and Leaving the United States, 6 Fed. The Mezei Court, in particular, cited a number of precedents for the proposition that "the power to expel or exclude aliens [is] a fundamental sovereign attribute exercised by the Government's political departments largely immune from judicial control." 345 U.S. at 210 (citing Harisiades v. Shaughnessy, 342 U.S. 580 (1952); The Chinese Exclusion Case, 130 U.S. 581 (1889); and Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698 (1893)).

from legislative power but is inherent in the executive power to control the foreign affairs of the nation."[50] Therefore, in the Court's view, Congress could not have run afoul of the non-delegation doctrine by authorizing the President to exercise this power "for the best interests of the country" during wartime because the President already possessed such authority.[51] The Knauff Court similarly rejected the argument that the regulations in question were not "reasonable," as required by the statutory authority under which they were issued—which in relevant part, made it unlawful for an alien to enter the United States "except under such reasonable rules ... as the President may prescribe."[52] The Court did so because it viewed the regulations excluding aliens whose entry was "deemed prejudicial to the public interest" as "reasonable in the circumstances of the period for which they were authorized, namely, the national emergency of World War II."[53]

The statutory language regarding war and national emergency—which arguably factored into the Court's decision in Knauff—was deleted from Section 215(a) in 1978.[54] However, it seems unlikely that this deletion would serve as a basis for overruling the Knauff Court's conclusions about whether the power in question was impermissibly delegated to the Executive,[55] or about what constitutes a "reasonable" regulation for purposes of Section 215(a).[56] Knauff's statements about the inherent power of nations to exclude aliens outside the United States with no recognized ties to the country would also generally seem to remain good law.[57]

[56] There does not appear to be any court cases establishing what is meant by the term "reasonable regulations" for purposes of Section 215(a) and its predecessors. However, courts may grant considerable deference to the Executive's determinations in this area, given the "plenary power" that the political branches are generally seen to have over immigration. See, e.g., Mathews v. And here's what I've learned from RAIO: Asylum has notified field leadership that they should arrange to stop any decision-issuance to asylum applicants from the listed countries until they are instructed otherwise. They also told leadership to review their upcoming schedules and prepare to cancel any interviews for nationals from the listed countries. They were told not to actually begin cancelling the interviews until they received further guidance from HQ.

IO is working with front office on guidance for international staff and ongoing refugee interviews. We have greenlight for refugee interviews in Vienna to continue tomorrow

Subject: Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Service Center Instructions

Center Directors and Deputies,

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

While we await further guidance, we must temporarily suspend adjudication of all applications, petitions or requests involving citizens or nationals of the listed countries. At this point there are no exceptions for any form types, to include I-90s or I-765s. Please physically segregate any files that are impacted by this temporary hold pending further guidance. As you would expect, we will be developing a weekly report format for you to identify the number and types of cases on hold.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures in the coming days.

Please ensure this guidance is conveyed as soon as possible to all appropriate employees and get back to us with any questions. Also, please reply to let me know each center has received this message.

Thanks,

Don

I saw that FOD sent out guidance to the field yesterday indicating that no final action can be taken on any petition or application for a citizen or national of one of the 7 countries, pending further guidance to come. Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made. NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. I'm not sure whether SCOPS has issued any guidance. Has anyone seen?

Kathryn raises great points. If the EO is restricted to "entries," we should be able to adjudicate natz, adjustment, TPS, and non-immigrant applications where the applicant is physically present in the United States.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this (b)(5) extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Subject: RE: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Everyone—

As Julie mentions below, FOD was designated to co-lead with FDNS the Interview portion of Section 4 (a) Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. The relevant interview portions of Section 4(a) are as follows:

1. The development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews;
2. A mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be;
3. A process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest;

4. Amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; and
5. A mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

I know a lot of work has been done already in various manners that impacts this goal and can be utilized for this task. We would like to convene the process for articulating how the interview process has been and/or can be enhanced (best practices, new policies, new tools/systems, resources, and/or additional questions) to ensure we are using our interviews in the best way to inform our eligibility, credibility and national security/public safety determinations.

Lisette Kvortek will serve as the FOD working group coordinator and will work with the FDNS POC to organize the work. I'd ask that folks self-identify as a responsible party and name a POC representing your office. Since work is due on the 17th, we'd like to get started asap.

Thank you.

Subject: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Good morning,

Thank you for your work on the deliverables already completed. I appreciate everyone's timely responses.

The next big deliverable we have is in regards to Sec. 4a and 4b of the Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry EO. Proposals related to the items below are due to me by COB Friday, February 17, 2017. FDNS has the overall lead on this deliverable, but there will also be several working groups that may be co-coordinated by other directorates with FDNS. Here is the specific language from the EO:

> "This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States."

Because there are a lot of pieces to this section and because the pieces affect different directorates, we will likely need a few working groups to tackle this one. As discussed at the meeting yesterday, these are the proposed working groups:

- Interviews (FOD to co-lead)
- Identity Document Database

- Identity verification
- Form revisions (OP&S proposal attached)
- Immigrant integration (OoC to co-lead)

As of now DHS has not provided a template or format for the proposals (and I'm told one will not be coming this week). Should I receive a template, I will pass it along, but I think for now we can proceed with just writing up the proposal.

The deliverables tracker has been updated on the ECN and now includes all the items and target completion dates that were provided in the DHS Implementation Plan. To summarize some of the upcoming deliverables (Foreign Terrorist Entry EO deliverables should go to me. Steve Duggan is the POC on the Border Security and Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior EOs):

Subject: Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Service Center Instructions

Center Directors and Deputies,

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

While we await further guidance, we must temporarily suspend adjudication of all applications, petitions or requests involving citizens or nationals of the listed countries. At this point there are no exceptions for any form types, to include I-90s or I-765s. Please physically segregate any files that are impacted by this temporary hold pending further guidance. As you would expect, we will be developing a weekly report format for you to identify the number and types of cases on hold.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures in the coming days.

Please ensure this guidance is conveyed as soon as possible to all appropriate employees and get back to us with any questions. Also, please reply to let me know each center has received this message.

Thanks,

Don

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,
Larry

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

For section 4, do we need to take any actions prior to the"plan" described in section four being developed and implemented? And who is responsible for developing the plan?

For section 6, should we adjudicate cases in TRIG hold? It doesn't seem like exemptions are forthcoming.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

Everyone should be compiling a list of all of their questions and getting them to Jess so Lori and I have a complete list. If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. Separately, is there any impact on petitions for beneficiaries abroad since we would not be determining admissibility? I would think not, but it would be good to have clarity.

If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. (b)(5) [redacted] [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

POLICY: It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

- Be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.
- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law
- We should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation

Hi All – attached is the executive order signed early this evening by the President. Please let me, Mike and Larry know if any questions or immediate impacts to policy come to mind. Next week, we may want to consider pulling relevant policy guidance and start thinking about new guidance that will have to be issued. Hopefully we will have more information.

In the meantime, please send any questions!

Thanks,
Natalie

Here is a quick summary (please read the entire document – I tried to hit the "highlights"):

1. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. There are review and reporting requirements that shall be completed within 30 days and additional follow up reporting requirements. While the review is conducted, the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), is suspended for 90 days. The Secretary shall provide a list of countries that do not provided necessary information to adjudicate and additional countries may be added. Visas may be issued to nationals of "blocked" countries in the national interest.
2. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs A program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission will be created and will include development of a uniform screening standard and procedure; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants; amended application forms with questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.
3. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. Suspension of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days for review of the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States. After 120 days, USRAP admissions resume for nationals of countries for which have been determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States. Refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality will be prioritized. Admission of refugees from Syria will be suspended. The refugee limit will be 50,000 for fiscal year 2017.

4. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.
5. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System.
6. Visa Interview Security. The visa interview waiver program is suspended to ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.
7. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal.

For Immediate Release January 27, 2017

- - - - - - -

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America, including the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), 8 U.S.C. 1101 et seq., and section 301 of title 3, United States Code, and to protect the American people from terrorist attacks by foreign nationals admitted to the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. Purpose. The visa-issuance process plays a crucial role in detecting individuals with terrorist ties and stopping them from entering the United States. Perhaps in no instance was that more apparent than the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, when State Department policy prevented consular officers from properly scrutinizing the visa applications of several of the 19 foreign nationals who went on to murder nearly 3,000 Americans. And while the visa-issuance process was reviewed and amended after the September 11 attacks to better detect would-be terrorists from receiving visas, these measures did not stop attacks by foreign nationals who were admitted to the United States.

Numerous foreign-born individuals have been convicted or implicated in terrorism-related crimes since September 11, 2001, including foreign nationals who entered the United States after receiving visitor, student, or employment visas, or who entered through the United States refugee resettlement program. Deteriorating conditions in certain countries due to war, strife, disaster, and civil unrest increase the likelihood that terrorists will use any means possible to enter the United States. The United States must be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.

In order to protect Americans, the United States must ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles. The United States cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law. In addition, the United States should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation.

Sec. 2. Policy. It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

Sec. 3. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall immediately conduct a review to determine the information needed from any country to adjudicate any visa, admission, or other benefit under the INA (adjudications) in order to determine that the individual seeking the benefit is who the individual claims to be and is not a security or public-safety threat.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall submit to the President a report on the results of the review described in subsection (a) of this section, including the Secretary of Homeland Security's determination of the information needed for adjudications and a list of countries that do not provide adequate information, within 30 days of the date of this order. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall provide a copy of the report to the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence.

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

(d) Immediately upon receipt of the report described in subsection (b) of this section regarding the information needed for adjudications, the Secretary of State shall request all foreign governments that do not supply such information to start providing such information regarding their nationals within 60 days of notification.

(e) After the 60-day period described in subsection (d) of this section expires, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State, shall submit to the President a list of countries recommended for inclusion on a Presidential proclamation that would prohibit the entry of foreign nationals (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas) from countries that do not provide the information requested pursuant to subsection (d) of this section until compliance occurs.

(f) At any point after submitting the list described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretary of State or the Secretary of Homeland Security may submit to the President the names of any additional countries recommended for similar treatment.

(g) Notwithstanding a suspension pursuant to subsection (c) of this section or pursuant to a Presidential proclamation described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security may, on a case-by-case basis, and when in the national interest, issue visas or other immigration benefits to nationals of countries for which visas and benefits are otherwise blocked.

(h) The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall submit to the President a joint report on the progress in implementing this order within 30 days of the date of this order, a second report within 60 days of the date of this order, a third report within 90 days of the date of this order, and a fourth report within 120 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 4. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. (a) The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall implement a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission. This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in conjunction with the Secretary of State, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of this directive within 60 days of the date of this order, a second report within 100 days of the date of this order, and a third report within 200 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 5. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. (a) The Secretary of State shall suspend the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days. During the 120-day period, the Secretary of State, in conjunction with the Secretary of Homeland Security and in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, shall review the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States, and shall implement such additional procedures. Refugee applicants who are already in the USRAP process may be admitted upon the initiation and completion of these revised procedures. Upon the date that is 120 days after the date of this order, the Secretary of State shall resume USRAP admissions only for nationals of countries for which the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and the Director of National Intelligence have jointly determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States.

(b) Upon the resumption of USRAP admissions, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security, is further directed to make changes, to the extent permitted by law, to prioritize refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality. Where necessary and appropriate, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall recommend legislation to the President that would assist with such prioritization.

(c) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of nationals of Syria as refugees is detrimental to the interests of the United States and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I have determined that sufficient changes have been made to the USRAP to ensure that admission of Syrian refugees is consistent with the national interest.

(d) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of more than 50,000 refugees in fiscal year 2017 would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I determine that additional admissions would be in the national interest.

(e) Notwithstanding the temporary suspension imposed pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the Secretaries of

State and Homeland Security may jointly determine to admit individuals to the United States as refugees on a case-by-case basis, in their discretion, but only so long as they determine that the admission of such individuals as refugees is in the national interest -- including when the person is a religious minority in his country of nationality facing religious persecution, when admitting the person would enable the United States to conform its conduct to a preexisting international agreement, or when the person is already in transit and denying admission would cause undue hardship -- and it would not pose a risk to the security or welfare of the United States.

(f) The Secretary of State shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of the directive in subsection (b) of this section regarding prioritization of claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution within 100 days of the date of this order and shall submit a second report within 200 days of the date of this order.

(g) It is the policy of the executive branch that, to the extent permitted by law and as practicable, State and local jurisdictions be granted a role in the process of determining the placement or settlement in their jurisdictions of aliens eligible to be admitted to the United States as refugees. To that end, the Secretary of Homeland Security shall examine existing law to determine the extent to which, consistent with applicable law, State and local jurisdictions may have greater involvement in the process of determining the placement or resettlement of refugees in their jurisdictions, and shall devise a proposal to lawfully promote such involvement.

Sec. 6. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.

Sec. 7. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall expedite the completion and implementation of a biometric entry-exit tracking system for all travelers to the United States, as recommended by the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall submit to the President periodic reports on the progress of the directive contained in subsection (a) of this section. The initial report shall be submitted within 100 days of the date of this order, a second report shall be submitted within 200 days of the date of this order, and a third report shall be submitted within 365 days of the date of this order. Further, the Secretary shall submit a report every 180 days thereafter until the system is fully deployed and operational.

Sec. 8. Visa Interview Security. (a) The Secretary of State shall immediately suspend the Visa Interview Waiver Program and ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.

(b) To the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, the Secretary of State shall immediately expand the Consular Fellows Program, including by substantially increasing the number of Fellows, lengthening or making permanent the period of service, and making language training at the Foreign Service Institute available to Fellows for assignment to posts outside of their area of core linguistic ability, to ensure that non-immigrant visa-interview wait times are not unduly affected.

Sec. 9. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal insofar as practicable with respect to validity period and fees, as required by sections 221(c) and 281 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1201(c) and 1351, and other treatment. If a country does not treat United States nationals seeking nonimmigrant visas in a reciprocal manner, the Secretary of State shall adjust the visa validity period, fee schedule, or other treatment to match the treatment of United States nationals by the foreign country, to the extent practicable.

Sec. 10. Transparency and Data Collection. (a) To be more transparent with the American people, and to more effectively implement policies and practices that serve the national interest, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Attorney General, shall, consistent with applicable law and national security, collect and make publicly available within 180 days, and every 180 days thereafter:

(i) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been charged with terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; convicted of terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; or removed from the United States based on terrorism-related activity, affiliation, or material support to a terrorism-related organization, or any other national security reasons since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later;

(ii) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been radicalized after entry into the United States and engaged in terrorism-related acts, or who have provided material support to terrorism-related organizations in countries that pose a threat to the United States, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iii) information regarding the number and types of acts of gender-based violence against women, including honor killings, in the United States by foreign nationals, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iv) any other information relevant to public safety and security as determined by the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, including information on the immigration status of foreign nationals charged with major offenses.

(b) The Secretary of State shall, within one year of the date of this order, provide a report on the estimated long-term costs of the USRAP at the Federal, State, and local levels.

Sec. 11. General Provisions. (a) Nothing in this order shall be construed to impair or otherwise affect:

(i) the authority granted by law to an executive department or agency, or the head thereof; or

(ii) the functions of the Director of the Office of Management and Budget relating to budgetary, administrative, or legislative proposals.

(b) This order shall be implemented consistent with applicable law and subject to the availability of appropriations.

(c) This order is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, or entities, its officers, employees, or agents, or any other person.

Subject: RE: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Everyone—

As Julie mentions below, FOD was designated to co-lead with FDNS the interview portion of Section 4 (a) Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. The relevant interview portions of Section 4(a) are as follows:

1. The development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews;
2. A mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be;

3. A process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest;
4. Amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; and
5. A mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

I know a lot of work has been done already in various manners that impacts this goal and can be utilized for this task. We would like to convene the process for articulating how the interview process has been and/or can be enhanced (best practices, new policies, new tools/systems, resources, and/or additional questions) to ensure we are using our interviews in the best way to inform our eligibility, credibility and national security/public safety determinations.

Lisette Kvortek will serve as the FOD working group coordinator and will work with the FDNS POC to organize the work. I'd ask that folks self-identify as a responsible party and name a POC representing your office. Since work is due on the 17th, we'd like to get started asap.

Thank you.

Subject: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Good morning,

Thank you for your work on the deliverables already completed. I appreciate everyone's timely responses.

The next big deliverable we have is in regards to Sec. 4a and 4b of the Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry EO. Proposals related to the items below are due to me by COB Friday, February 17, 2017. FDNS has the overall lead on this deliverable, but there will also be several working groups that may be co-coordinated by other directorates with FDNS. Here is the specific language from the EO:

> "This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States."

Because there are a lot of pieces to this section and because the pieces affect different directorates, we will likely need a few working groups to tackle this one. As discussed at the meeting yesterday, these are the proposed working groups:

- Interviews (FOD to co-lead)
- Identity Document Database
- Identity verification
- Form revisions (OP&S proposal attached)
- Immigrant integration (OoC to co-lead)

As of now DHS has not provided a template or format for the proposals (and I'm told one will not be coming this week). Should I receive a template, I will pass it along, but I think for now we can proceed with just writing up the proposal.

The deliverables tracker has been updated on the ECN and now includes all the items and target completion dates that were provided in the DHS Implementation Plan. To summarize some of the upcoming deliverables (Foreign Terrorist Entry EO deliverables should go to me. Steve Duggan is the POC on the Border Security and Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior EOs):

Subject: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Good morning,

Thank you for your work on the deliverables already completed. I appreciate everyone's timely responses.

The next big deliverable we have is in regards to Sec. 4a and 4b of the Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry EO. Proposals related to the items below are due to me by COB Friday, February 17, 2017. FDNS has the overall lead on this deliverable, but there will also be several working groups that may be co-coordinated by other directorates with FDNS. Here is the specific language from the EO:

> "This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States."

Because there are a lot of pieces to this section and because the pieces affect different directorates, we will likely need a few working groups to tackle this one. As discussed at the meeting yesterday, these are the proposed working groups:

- Interviews (FOD to co-lead)
- Identity Document Database
- Identity verification
- Form revisions (OP&S proposal attached)
- Immigrant integration (OoC to co-lead)

As of now DHS has not provided a template or format for the proposals (and I'm told one will not be coming this week). Should I receive a template, I will pass it along, but I think for now we can proceed with just writing up the proposal.

The deliverables tracker has been updated on the ECN and now includes all the items and target completion dates that were provided in the DHS Implementation Plan. To summarize some of the upcoming deliverables (Foreign Terrorist Entry EO deliverables should go to me. Steve Duggan is the POC on the Border Security and Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior EOs):

Everyone—

As Julie mentions below, FOD was designated to co-lead with FDNS the interview portion of Section 4 (a) Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. The relevant interview portions of Section 4(a) are as follows:

1. The development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews;
2. A mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be;
3. A process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest;
4. Amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; and
5. A mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

NSBI should definitely participate, but I think also someone from Mark's team as it would seem to be natz and adjustment. Not sure if it goes beyond those benefit types to include asylum/refugee.

Subject: RE: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Everyone—

As Julie mentions below, FOD was designated to co-lead with FDNS the interview portion of Section 4 (a) Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. The relevant interview portions of Section 4(a) are as follows:

1. The development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews;
2. A mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be;
3. A process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest;
4. Amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; and
5. A mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

I know a lot of work has been done already in various manners that impacts this goal and can be utilized for this task. We would like to convene the process for articulating how the interview process has been and/or can be enhanced (best practices, new policies, new tools/systems, resources, and/or additional questions) to ensure we are using our interviews in the best way to inform our eligibility, credibility and national security/public safety determinations.

Lisette Kvortek will serve as the FOD working group coordinator and will work with the FDNS POC to organize the work. I'd ask that folks self-identify as a responsible party and name a POC representing your office. Since work is due on the 17th, we'd like to get started asap.

Thank you.

Subject: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Good morning,

Thank you for your work on the deliverables already completed. I appreciate everyone's timely responses.

The next big deliverable we have is in regards to Sec. 4a and 4b of the Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry EO. Proposals related to the items below are due to me by COB Friday, February 17, 2017. FDNS has the overall lead on this deliverable, but there will also be several working groups that may be co-coordinated by other directorates with FDNS. Here is the specific language from the EO:

> "This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States."

Because there are a lot of pieces to this section and because the pieces affect different directorates, we will likely need a few working groups to tackle this one. As discussed at the meeting yesterday, these are the proposed working groups:

- Interviews (FOD to co-lead)
- Identity Document Database
- Identity verification
- Form revisions (OP&S proposal attached)
- Immigrant integration (OoC to co-lead)

As of now DHS has not provided a template or format for the proposals (and I'm told one will not be coming this week). Should I receive a template, I will pass it along, but I think for now we can proceed with just writing up the proposal.

The deliverables tracker has been updated on the ECN and now includes all the items and target completion dates that were provided in the DHS Implementation Plan. To summarize some of the upcoming deliverables (Foreign Terrorist Entry EO deliverables should go to me. Steve Duggan is the POC on the Border Security and Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior EOs):

It's unclear, but we're thinking it may well encompass those kinds of benefits (asylum, ref, etc.), too – or at least don't see clearly why it wouldn't. So, from our perspective, in the early phases at least and as the scope is being defined, we would like to participate, too.

NSBI should definitely participate, but I think also someone from Mark's team as it would seem to be natz and adjustment. Not sure if it goes beyond those benefit types to include asylum/refugee.

Subject: RE: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Everyone—

As Julie mentions below, FOD was designated to co-lead with FDNS the interview portion of Section 4 (a) Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. The relevant interview portions of Section 4(a) are as follows:

1. The development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews;
2. A mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be;
3. A process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest;
4. Amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; and
5. A mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

I know a lot of work has been done already in various manners that impacts this goal and can be utilized for this task. We would like to convene the process for articulating how the interview process has been and/or can be enhanced (best practices, new policies, new tools/systems, resources, and/or additional questions) to ensure we are using our interviews in the best way to inform our eligibility, credibility and national security/public safety determinations.

Lisette Kvortek will serve as the FOD working group coordinator and will work with the FDNS POC to organize the work. I'd ask that folks self-identify as a responsible party and name a POC representing your office. Since work is due on the 17th, we'd like to get started asap.

Thank you.

Subject: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Good morning,

Thank you for your work on the deliverables already completed. I appreciate everyone's timely responses.

The next big deliverable we have is in regards to Sec. 4a and 4b of the Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry EO. Proposals related to the items below are due to me by COB Friday, February 17, 2017. FDNS has the overall lead on this deliverable, but there will also be several working groups that may be co-coordinated by other directorates with FDNS. Here is the specific language from the EO:

> "This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States."

Because there are a lot of pieces to this section and because the pieces affect different directorates, we will likely need a few working groups to tackle this one. As discussed at the meeting yesterday, these are the proposed working groups:

- Interviews (FOD to co-lead)
- Identity Document Database
- Identity verification
- Form revisions (OP&S proposal attached)
- Immigrant integration (OoC to co-lead)

As of now DHS has not provided a template or format for the proposals (and I'm told one will not be coming this week). Should I receive a template, I will pass it along, but I think for now we can proceed with just writing up the proposal.

The deliverables tracker has been updated on the ECN and now includes all the items and target completion dates that were provided in the DHS Implementation Plan. To summarize some of the upcoming deliverables (Foreign Terrorist Entry EO deliverables should go to me. Steve Duggan is the POC on the Border Security and Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior EOs):

Hello there, we may have issues with permissions, etc., with the doc stored in a BFWD site library. As such, I created a dedicated site. We are going to need one very soon anyway as we did with CIR in 2013. See links to site and library where matrix is stored below.

So you know, the library supports versioning; the latest version includes RCD's comments. We can tighten up permissions tomorrow, among other items. I wanted to send this to you all first – if OK with you and Larry, please send to others.

I am having internet (and cable) issues at home and need to wait for a Verizon tech tomorrow (using iPhone as a hot spot for now).

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this (b)(5) extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

All – I asked the regs team to give us an idea of the tie frames for doing and re-doing forms as well as regs:

For forms , if, for instance, we have to add new vetting questions, OMB approval can be accomplished relatively quickly as an emergency action (compared to the normal process).
Steps and qualifications for emergency OMB approval:
1) OP&S division, operational directorates, OCC, and RCD collaborate on the amended form and/or instructions.
2) RCD prepares the relevant PRA supporting documents (Supporting Statement, etc.) working with OIDP and Office of Privacy
3) Draft a memo justifying the emergent need (e.g., the EO), signed by USCIS CIO and DHS CIO.
4) RCD submits the package to OMB. OMB approval under emergency will only be valid for 6 months. To extend the validity of the OMB approval beyond 6 months, RCD would need to publish the 60- and 30-day Notices as normal and then resubmit the package to OMB.
As a side note, the interior enforcement EO took away the Privacy Act protections that the USG had extended to non-citizens (by policy I believe). This change may significantly impact how the Privacy Act is interpreted w/r/t USCIS forms and systems, and may or may not cause changes to our Privacy Threshold Analyses which support the PRA process. We need to get a legal opinion on whether our PTAs, etc. will change because of this, and if we can update the relevant PRA supporting documents as they come up in the queue (i.e. as RCD starts work upon expiration) or if this needs to be implemented immediately (which would be a significant workload).

For regs, the time it took to get the EA rules out from the Nov. 20, 2014 memo are good barometers of the average timeline when there is WH support and it's moving as an emergency action:
- Average of 12-16 months for drafting and publishing an NPRM (but note that there was already some work done on EA before the 11/2014 announcement)
- Average of 6-8 months to review public comments, draft final rule, and publish the final rule.

Caveats: 1) The above assumes a relatively hands-off approach of OGC staff-level attorneys and economists prior to moving to OGC FO, S1 FO, and OMB. Also assumes that the timelines for S1 FO review will be similarly expedited (i.e. a matter of hours wherein the Assistant General Counsel briefs S1 and obtains signature). 2) The "effective date" will largely depend on the speed that our computer systems can be stood up. 3) Also, of course, depends on the number and complexity of public comments received and the continued availability of monetary resources to fund contractor support of our regulatory projects (comment analysis).

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

POLICY: It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

- Be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.
- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law
- We should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Ok, the way I plan to proceed, which I think is consistent with what you want, Larry, is that I will be going through the very helpful chart that Shannon provided, and filling in questions I have on the provisions in the column for Questions. So it's clear which division is raising the question I am going to edit the column to label it NSBI Questions. I'll send that to the entire group for visibility when completed—sometime this evening.

I'm assuming Natalie will then roll-up all the questions each of us submits-- weeding out duplicative questions-- into a master chart for OP&S. Larry, I recommend that you send to Jess for the use of D1/D2, (consistent with D1s request for consolidated questions from components—we weren't asked but they should be made aware of our questions). My understanding/recommendation is that our master chart will be posted to the OP&S ECN (and presumably regularly updated as needed), and used by us for discussions: internal to OP&S; with other components and USCIS or DHS leadership; and for inter-agency discussions.

In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted]

(b)(5)

[redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

Subject: RE: Executive Order

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] (b)(5)

Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

Center Directors and Deputies,

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

While we await further guidance, we must temporarily suspend adjudication of all applications, petitions or requests involving citizens or nationals of the listed countries. At this point there are no exceptions for any form types, to include I-90s or I-765s. Please physically segregate any files that are impacted by this temporary hold pending further guidance. As you would expect, we will be developing a weekly report format for you to identify the number and types of cases on hold.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures in the coming days.

Please ensure this guidance is conveyed as soon as possible to all appropriate employees and get back to us with any questions. Also, please reply to let me know each center has received this message.

Thanks,

Don

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted] (b)(5)
We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

I saw that FOD sent out guidance to the field yesterday indicating that no final action can be taken on any petition or application for a citizen or national of one of the 7 countries, pending further guidance to come. Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made. NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. I'm not sure whether SCOPS has issued any guidance. Has anyone seen?

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

To start and just on this part of the EO:

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

I agree guys. The major questions that come to mind are legal and operational. We should be prepared to put some of them forward, but from a policy perspective we are gong to have to wait for that guidance before we know what direction to take.

Having said that, it is worth looking at forms because I am sure we will have to make revisions to include vetting questions such as social media. Again though, the vetting aimed at national interest and benefit to this country change the adjudication of petitions.

I appreciate your thoughts so please share as things come up! Clearly this is fluid.

Nat,

Kevin and I will might send you a few follow on notes on this, but my question from the EB side is that, while they want to suspend entry of these individuals for the time being, do they also intend for us to hold onto any requests for extensions of stay until the enhanced vetting procedures are in place? The text says "entry" but it's in the section explaining the need to review procedures prior to any benefit being granted. We will send you anything else we can come up with. There is nothing really to state from a strict policy sense, but obviously OCC, SCOPS, the FO et al will like have the same questions regarding exactly what these provisions mean. We have these political advisors on board. They should reach out through their people to the WH to get clarification.

Kevin, you agree?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

Thanks,

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted]
We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

Subject: Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Field Operations Instructions

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

Effectively immediately and until additional guidance is received, you may not take final action on any petition or application where the applicant is a citizen or national of Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya. Field offices may interview applicants for adjustment of status and other benefits according to current processing guidance and may process petitions and applications for individuals from these countries up to the point where a decision would be made. At that point, cases shall be placed on hold until further notice and will be shelved with specific NFTS codes which will be provided through the Regional Offices. Offices are not permitted make any final decision on affected cases to include approval, denial, withdrawal, or revocation.

Please look for additional guidance later this weekend on how to process naturalization applicants from one of the seven countries listed above who are currently scheduled for oath ceremony or whose N-400s have been approved and they are pending scheduling of oath ceremony.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures as needed in the coming days. Questions or requests for additional clarification may be directed to the Regional Offices through your chain of command.

I saw that FOD sent out guidance to the field yesterday indicating that no final action can be taken on any petition or application for a citizen or national of one of the 7 countries, pending further guidance to come. Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made.

NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. I'm not sure whether SCOPS has issued any guidance. Has anyone seen?

Kathryn raises great points. If the EO is restricted to "entries," we should be able to adjudicate natz, adjustment, TPS, and non-immigrant applications where the applicant is physically present in the United States.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs. (b)(5)

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Hi All – attached is the executive order signed early this evening by the President. Please let me, Mike and Larry know if any questions or immediate impacts to policy come to mind. Next week, we may want to consider pulling relevant policy guidance and start thinking about new guidance that will have to be issued. Hopefully we will have more information.

In the meantime, please send any questions!

Thanks,
Natalie

Here is a quick summary (please read the entire document – I tried to hit the "highlights"):

1. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. There are review and reporting requirements that shall be completed within 30 days and additional follow up reporting requirements. While the review is conducted, the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), is suspended for 90 days. The Secretary shall provide a list of countries that do not provided necessary information to adjudicate and additional countries may be added. Visas may be issued to nationals of "blocked" countries in the national interest.
2. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs A program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission will be created and will include development of a uniform screening standard and procedure; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants; amended application forms with questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.
3. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. Suspension of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days for review of the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States. After 120 days, USRAP admissions resume for nationals of countries for which have been determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States. Refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality will be prioritized. Admission of refugees from Syria will be suspended. The refugee limit will be 50,000 for fiscal year 2017.

4. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.
5. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System.
6. Visa Interview Security. The visa interview waiver program is suspended to ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.
7. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal.

THE WHITE HOUSE

- - - - - - -

PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America, including the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), 8 U.S.C. 1101 et seq., and section 301 of title 3, United States Code, and to protect the American people from terrorist attacks by foreign nationals admitted to the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. Purpose. The visa-issuance process plays a crucial role in detecting individuals with terrorist ties and stopping them from entering the United States. Perhaps in no instance was that more apparent than the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, when State Department policy prevented consular officers from properly scrutinizing the visa applications of several of the 19 foreign nationals who went on to murder nearly 3,000 Americans. And while the visa-issuance process was reviewed and amended after the September 11 attacks to better detect would-be terrorists from receiving visas, these measures did not stop attacks by foreign nationals who were admitted to the United States.

Numerous foreign-born individuals have been convicted or implicated in terrorism-related crimes since September 11, 2001, including foreign nationals who entered the United States after receiving visitor, student, or employment visas, or who entered through the United States refugee resettlement program. Deteriorating conditions in certain countries due to war, strife, disaster, and civil unrest increase the likelihood that terrorists will use any means possible to enter the United States. The United States must be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.

In order to protect Americans, the United States must ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles. The United States cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law. In addition, the United States should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation.

Sec. 2. Policy. It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

Sec. 3. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall immediately conduct a review to determine the information needed from any country to adjudicate any visa, admission, or other benefit under the INA (adjudications) in order to determine that the individual seeking the benefit is who the individual claims to be and is not a security or public-safety threat.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall submit to the President a report on the results of the review described in subsection (a) of this section, including the Secretary of Homeland Security's determination of the information needed for adjudications and a list of countries that do not provide adequate information, within 30 days of the date of this order. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall provide a copy of the report to the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence.

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

(d) Immediately upon receipt of the report described in subsection (b) of this section regarding the information needed for adjudications, the Secretary of State shall request all foreign governments that do not supply such information to start providing such information regarding their nationals within 60 days of notification.

(e) After the 60-day period described in subsection (d) of this section expires, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State, shall submit to the President a list of countries recommended for inclusion on a Presidential proclamation that would prohibit the entry of foreign nationals (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas) from countries that do not provide the information requested pursuant to subsection (d) of this section until compliance occurs.

(f) At any point after submitting the list described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretary of State or the Secretary of Homeland Security may submit to the President the names of any additional countries recommended for similar treatment.

(g) Notwithstanding a suspension pursuant to subsection (c) of this section or pursuant to a Presidential proclamation described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security may, on a case-by-case basis, and when in the national interest, issue visas or other immigration benefits to nationals of countries for which visas and benefits are otherwise blocked.

(h) The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall submit to the President a joint report on the progress in implementing this order within 30 days of the date of this order, a second report within 60 days of the date of this order, a third report within 90 days of the date of this order, and a fourth report within 120 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 4. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. (a) The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall implement a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission. This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in conjunction with the Secretary of State, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of this directive within 60 days of the date of this order, a second report within 100 days of the date of this order, and a third report within 200 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 5. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. (a) The Secretary of State shall suspend the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days. During the 120-day period, the Secretary of State, in conjunction with the Secretary of Homeland Security and in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, shall review the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States, and shall implement such additional procedures. Refugee applicants who are already in the USRAP process may be admitted upon the initiation and completion of these revised procedures. Upon the date that is 120 days after the date of this order, the Secretary of State shall resume USRAP admissions only for nationals of countries for which the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and the Director of National Intelligence have jointly determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States.

(b) Upon the resumption of USRAP admissions, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security, is further directed to make changes, to the extent permitted by law, to prioritize refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality. Where necessary and appropriate, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall recommend legislation to the President that would assist with such prioritization.

(c) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of nationals of Syria as refugees is detrimental to the interests of the United States and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I have determined that sufficient changes have been made to the USRAP to ensure that admission of Syrian refugees is consistent with the national interest.

(d) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of more than 50,000 refugees in fiscal year 2017 would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I determine that additional admissions would be in the national interest.

(e) Notwithstanding the temporary suspension imposed pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the Secretaries of

State and Homeland Security may jointly determine to admit individuals to the United States as refugees on a case-by-case basis, in their discretion, but only so long as they determine that the admission of such individuals as refugees is in the national interest -- including when the person is a religious minority in his country of nationality facing religious persecution, when admitting the person would enable the United States to conform its conduct to a preexisting international agreement, or when the person is already in transit and denying admission would cause undue hardship -- and it would not pose a risk to the security or welfare of the United States.

(f) The Secretary of State shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of the directive in subsection (b) of this section regarding prioritization of claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution within 100 days of the date of this order and shall submit a second report within 200 days of the date of this order.

(g) It is the policy of the executive branch that, to the extent permitted by law and as practicable, State and local jurisdictions be granted a role in the process of determining the placement or settlement in their jurisdictions of aliens eligible to be admitted to the United States as refugees. To that end, the Secretary of Homeland Security shall examine existing law to determine the extent to which, consistent with applicable law, State and local jurisdictions may have greater involvement in the process of determining the placement or resettlement of refugees in their jurisdictions, and shall devise a proposal to lawfully promote such involvement.

Sec. 6. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.

Sec. 7. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall expedite the completion and implementation of a biometric entry-exit tracking system for all travelers to the United States, as recommended by the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall submit to the President periodic reports on the progress of the directive contained in subsection (a) of this section. The initial report shall be submitted within 100 days of the date of this order, a second report shall be submitted within 200 days of the date of this order, and a third report shall be submitted within 365 days of the date of this order. Further, the Secretary shall submit a report every 180 days thereafter until the system is fully deployed and operational.

Sec. 8. Visa Interview Security. (a) The Secretary of State shall immediately suspend the Visa Interview Waiver Program and ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.

(b) To the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, the Secretary of State shall immediately expand the Consular Fellows Program, including by substantially increasing the number of Fellows, lengthening or making permanent the period of service, and making language training at the Foreign Service Institute available to Fellows for assignment to posts outside of their area of core linguistic ability, to ensure that non-immigrant visa-interview wait times are not unduly affected.

Sec. 9. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal insofar as practicable with respect to validity period and fees, as required by sections 221(c) and 281 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1201(c) and 1351, and other treatment. If a country does not treat United States nationals seeking nonimmigrant visas in a reciprocal manner, the Secretary of State shall adjust the visa validity period, fee schedule, or other treatment to match the treatment of United States nationals by the foreign country, to the extent practicable.

Sec. 10. Transparency and Data Collection. (a) To be more transparent with the American people, and to more effectively implement policies and practices that serve the national interest, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Attorney General, shall, consistent with applicable law and national security, collect and make publicly available within 180 days, and every 180 days thereafter:

(i) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been charged with terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; convicted of terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; or removed from the United States based on terrorism-related activity, affiliation, or material support to a terrorism-related organization, or any other national security reasons since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later;

(ii) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been radicalized after entry into the United States and engaged in terrorism-related acts, or who have provided material support to terrorism-related organizations in countries that pose a threat to the United States, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iii) information regarding the number and types of acts of gender-based violence against women, including honor killings, in the United States by foreign nationals, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iv) any other information relevant to public safety and security as determined by the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, including information on the immigration status of foreign nationals charged with major offenses.

(b) The Secretary of State shall, within one year of the date of this order, provide a report on the estimated long-term costs of the USRAP at the Federal, State, and local levels.

Sec. 11. General Provisions. (a) Nothing in this order shall be construed to impair or otherwise affect:

(i) the authority granted by law to an executive department or agency, or the head thereof; or

(ii) the functions of the Director of the Office of Management and Budget relating to budgetary, administrative, or legislative proposals.

(b) This order shall be implemented consistent with applicable law and subject to the availability of appropriations.

(c) This order is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, or entities, its officers, employees, or agents, or any other person.

Kathryn raises great points. If the EO is restricted to "entries," we should be able to adjudicate natz, adjustment, TPS, and non-immigrant applications where the applicant is physically present in the United States.

Subject: RE: Executive Order

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple (b)(5) things:

[redacted]

nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of

If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person [redacted]

[redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

For clarity, what would be suspended are I-485s, I-539s, I-129s and I-131s. If I'm missing something please let me know.

I can get word out over the weekend to the centers to suspend processing. I just need the list of 7 countries to include in my message. The Directors are already on notice of the possibility. I would exclude from the suspension any petitions for beneficiaries abroad and TPS/DACA.

I think the answer to the first two is yes they are impacted for the 7 countries identified. Not sure about petitions for beneficiaries abroad. I'll ask.

Thanks for sending this, Lori.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. Separately, is there any impact on petitions for beneficiaries abroad since we would not be determining admissibility? I would think not, but it would be good to have clarity.

If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this (b)(5) extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Thanks,

Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

POLICY: It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

- Be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.
- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law
- We should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation

Committees of Congress

Summary

The Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) provides that individual aliens outside the United States are "inadmissible"—or barred from admission to the country—on health, criminal, security, and other grounds set forth in the INA. However, the INA also grants the Executive several broader authorities that could be used to exclude certain individual aliens or classes of aliens for reasons that are not specifically prescribed in the INA.

Section 212(f) of the INA is arguably the broadest and best known of these authorities. It provides, in relevant part, that

> Whenever the President finds that the entry of any aliens or of any class of aliens into the United States would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, he may by proclamation, and for such period as he shall deem necessary, suspend the entry of all aliens or any class of aliens as immigrants or nonimmigrants, or impose on the entry of aliens any restrictions he may deem to be appropriate.

Over the years, Presidents have relied upon Section 212(f) to suspend or otherwise restrict the entry of individual aliens and classes of aliens, often (although not always) in conjunction with the imposition of financial sanctions upon these aliens. Among those so excluded have been aliens whose actions "threaten the peace, security, or stability of Libya"; officials of the North Korean government; and aliens responsible for "serious human rights violations."

Neither the text of Section 212(f) nor the case law to date suggests any firm legal limits upon the President's exercise of his authority to exclude aliens under this provision. The central statutory constraint imposed on Section 212(f)'s exclusionary power is that the President must have found that the entry of any alien or class of aliens would be "detrimental to the interests of the United States." The statute does not address (1) what factors should be considered in determining whether aliens' entry is "detrimental" to U.S. interests; (2) when and how proclamations suspending or restricting entry should be issued; (3) what factors are to be considered in determining whether particular restrictions are "appropriate"; or (4) how long any restrictions should last. The limited case law addressing exercises of presidential authority under Section 212(f) also supports the view that this provision confers broad authority to bar or impose conditions upon the entry of aliens. Key among these cases is the Supreme Court's 1993 decision in Sale v. Haitian Centers Council, Inc., which held that the U.S. practice of interdicting persons fleeing Haiti outside U.S. territorial waters and returning them to their home country without allowing them to raise claims for asylum or withholding of removal did not violate the INA or the United Nations Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees. The U.S. practice had been established by Executive Order 12807, which was issued, in part, under the authority of Section 212(f) and "suspend[ed] the entry of aliens coming by sea to the United States without necessary documentation." However, depending on their scope, future executive actions under Section 212(f) could potentially be seen to raise legal issues that have not been prompted by the Executive's prior exercises of this authority.

Beyond Section 212(f), other provisions of the INA can also be seen to authorize the Executive to restrict aliens' entry to the United States. Most notably, Section 214(a)(1) prescribes that the "admission of any alien to the United States as a nonimmigrant shall be for such time and under such conditions as [the Executive] may by regulations prescribe." Section 215(a)(1) similarly provides that "it shall be unlawful for any alien" to enter or depart the United States "except under such reasonable rules, regulations, and orders, and subject to such limitations and exceptions as the President may prescribe." For example, President Carter cited Section 215(a)—rather than Section 212(f)—when authorizing the revocation of immigrant and nonimmigrant visas issued to Iranian citizens during the Iran Hostage Crisis.

The Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) provides that individual aliens outside the United States are "inadmissible"—or generally barred from admission to the country[1]—on health, criminal, security, and other grounds set forth in the INA.[2] However, the INA also grants the Executive several broad authorities that could be used to exclude certain individual aliens or classes of aliens for reasons that are not specifically set forth in the INA. Section 212(f) of the INA is arguably the broadest and best known of these provisions,[3] but Sections 214(a)(1) and 215(a)(1) can also be seen to authorize the Executive to restrict aliens' entry or admission to the United States.[4]

This report provides a brief overview of the Executive's authority under these provisions of the INA. It begins with and focuses primarily on Section 212(f). It also briefly notes other provisions.

Section 212(f) of the INA

The provisions currently in Section 212(f)—which have been part of the INA since its enactment in 1952[5]—state, in relevant part, that

> Whenever the President finds that the entry of any aliens or of any class of aliens into the United States would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, he may by proclamation and for such period as he shall deem necessary, suspend the entry of all aliens or any class of aliens as immigrants or nonimmigrants, or impose on the entry of aliens any restrictions he may deem to be appropriate.[6]

Legislative history materials from the time of the INA's enactment suggest that these provisions were seen to grant the President broad authority to bar or impose conditions upon the entry of aliens,[7] and Presidents over the years have relied upon Section 212(f) to suspend or restrict the entry of various groups of aliens, often (although not always) in conjunction with the imposition of financial sanctions upon them. Among those so excluded have been aliens whose actions

[1] The INA defines "admission" to mean "the lawful entry of an alien into the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer." INA § 101(a)(13)(A), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(13)(A). The INA is codified in Title 8 of the United States Code, and references to the INA in this report also include references to the corresponding sections of Title 8.

[2] See INA § 212(a), 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a) (prescribing the inadmissibility of, among others, aliens who have a communicable disease of public health significance; have been convicted of two or more criminal offenses; have engaged in a terrorist activity; are permanently ineligible for citizenship; or have previously voted in violation of any federal, state, or local law). Certain of these grounds of inadmissibility may be waived. See, e.g., INA § 212(a)(9)(B)(v), 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(9)(B)(v) (authorizing the Executive to waive the 3- and 10-year bars upon the admission of aliens who have been unlawfully present in the United States for more than 180 days if the refusal of admission to the alien would result in "extreme hardship" to a parent or spouse who is a U.S. citizen or lawful permanent resident (LPR)).

[3] 8 U.S.C. § 1182(f).

[4] 8 U.S.C. §§ 1184(a)(1), 1185(a)(1). As is discussed later in this report, the term "entry" is no longer defined for purposes of the INA. See Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA), P.L. 104-208, § 301(a), 110 Stat. 3009-575 (Sept. 30, 1996) (amending INA § 101(a)(13) so that it defines "admission," instead of "entry"). However, at one time, the INA defined the term "entry" to mean "any coming of an alien into the United States, from any foreign port or place or from an outlying possession, whether voluntarily or otherwise." INA § 101(a)(13), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(13) (1994). See infra notes 26-27 and accompanying text.

"threaten the peace, security, or stability of Libya";[8] officials of the North Korean government or the Workers' Party of North Korea;[9] aliens who have participated in "serious human rights violations";[10] and others noted in Table 1 below.

Neither the text of Section 212(f) nor the case law to date suggests any firm legal constraints upon the President's exercise of his authority under Section 212(f), as is explained below. However, future executive actions under INA § 212(f) could potentially be seen to raise legal issues that have not been prompted by the Executive's prior exercise of this authority.[11]

Statutory Language and Executive Branch Interpretations

On its face, Section 212(f) would appear to give the President broad authority to preclude or otherwise restrict the entry into the United States of individual aliens or classes of aliens who are outside the United States and lack recognized ties to the country.[12] The central statutory constraint imposed on Section 212(f)'s exclusionary power is that the President must have found that the entry of any aliens or class of aliens would be "detrimental to the interests of the United States" in order to exclude the alien or class of aliens.[13] The statute does not address (1) what factors should be considered in determining whether aliens' entry is "detrimental" to U.S. interests; (2) when and how proclamations suspending or restricting entry should be issued; (3) what factors are to be considered in determining whether particular restrictions are "appropriate"; or (4) how long any restrictions should last. There also do not appear to be any regulations addressing the exercise of presidential authority under Section 212(f).

The Department of State's Foreign Affairs Manual (FAM) seemingly provides the only publicly available executive branch guidance on the President's Section 212(f) authority. In relevant part, the FAM notes that Section 212(f) proclamations "typically" grant the Secretary of State authority to identify individuals covered by the proclamation and to waive its application for foreign policy

[8] See Executive Order 13726, Blocking Property and Suspending Entry Into the United States of Persons Contributing to the Situation in Libya, 81 Fed. Reg. 23559 (Apr. 21, 2016).

[10] See Suspension of Entry as Immigrants and Nonimmigrants of Persons Who Participate in Serious Human Rights and Humanitarian Law Violations and Other Abuses, 76 Fed. Reg. 49277 (Aug. 9, 2011).

[11] Not knowing the form that future restrictions might take, or the grounds upon which such restrictions might be subject to legal challenges, it would be premature to assess whether specific restrictions might be within the Executive's authority. However, it is important to note that aliens outside the United States who have no ties to the country generally have limited ability to challenge the denial of visas or admission to them. See, e.g., Shaughnessy v. Mezei, 345 U.S. 206, 216 (1953) ("Whatever our individual estimate of that policy and the fears on which it rests, respondent's right to enter the United States depends on the congressional will, and courts cannot substitute their judgment for the legislative mandate."); United States ex rel. Knauff v. Shaughnessy, 338 U.S. 537, 542 (1950) ("[A]n alien who seeks admission to this country may not do so under any claim of right. Admission of aliens to the United States is a privilege granted by the sovereign United States Government. Such privilege is granted to an alien only upon such terms as the United States shall prescribe."). But see Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753, 762-63 (1972) (recognizing that U.S. persons adversely affected by the denial of a visa waiver to an alien outside the United States may have a right to challenge the denial under certain circumstances).

[12] LPRs who leave the United States for a brief period of time are distinguishable from, for example, refugees seeking to be admitted to the United States. See, e.g., Landon v. Plasencia, 459 U.S. 21, 32 (1982) (discussing due process concerns raised by the application to an LPR of a statute which provided for the exclusion of any alien who "at any time shall have, knowingly and for gain, encouraged, induced, assisted, abetted, or aided any other alien to enter or to try to enter the United States in violation of law").

or other national interests.[14] The FAM also notes that such proclamations may bar entry based on either affiliation or "objectionable" conduct. In addition, it provides that Section 212(f) may reach persons who are inadmissible under other provisions of law, in which case, the "statutory inadmissibilities are to be considered prior to determining whether a Presidential Proclamation applies."[15] However, the FAM is generally not seen as having the force of law to bind the executive branch.[16] Thus, the Executive would not need to engage in notice-and-comment rulemaking in order to alter particular practices contained in the FAM that have historically been associated with exercises of Section 212(f) authority (e.g., not relying on a 212(f) proclamation to bar the admission of aliens who are inadmissible on other grounds).[17]

Judicial Constructions of Section 212(f)

The limited case law addressing exercises of presidential authority under Section 212(f) also supports the view that this provision of the INA confers broad authority to suspend or restrict the entry of aliens. Key among these cases is the Supreme Court's 1993 decision in Sale v. Haitian Centers Council, Inc., which held that the U.S. practice of interdicting persons fleeing Haiti outside U.S. territorial waters and returning them to their home country without allowing them to raise claims for asylum and withholding of removal did not violate either the INA or the United Nations Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees.[18] The U.S. practice had been established by Executive Order 12807, which was issued, in part, under the authority of Section 212(f) of the INA[19] and "suspend[ed] the entry of aliens coming by sea to the United States without necessary documentation."[20] Although the Sale Court was primarily concerned with whether the INA and UN Convention provisions regarding withholding of removal applied extraterritorially,[21] it is arguably important for understanding the scope of the President's Section 212(f) authority. In particular, the Sale decision arguably helped clarify the relationship between exercises of the authority granted by Section 212(f) and those granted by other provisions of the INA, as well as the meaning of entry for purposes of Section 212(f).

[18] 509 U.S. 155, 158-59 (1993). Specifically at issue in Sale were the provisions currently in INA § 241(b)(3)(B) and Article 33 of the Convention, which both bar the return of aliens to countries where their life or freedom would be threatened because of their race, religion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in a particular social group. The United States is technically a party to the 1967 UN Protocol Relating to the Status of Refugees, not the 1951 Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees. However, the Protocol incorporated articles 2 to 34 of the Convention, and it is customary for commentators to refer to the Convention, not the Protocol, when discussing these articles.

[19] Executive Order 12,807 also cited INA § 215(a)(1), which provides that "[u]nless otherwise ordered by the President, it shall be unlawful for any alien to depart from or enter ... the United States except under such reasonable rules, regulations, and orders, and subject to such limitations and exceptions as the President may prescribe." 8 U.S.C. § 1185(a)(1). For further discussion of this provision, see infra "Other Provisions of the INA".

In particular, the Court rejected the view of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit ("Second Circuit") that interdiction was prohibited because of the INA's prohibition upon the then-Attorney General returning an alien to a country where he or she would be persecuted.[22] The Second Circuit had reached this conclusion by noting that the Attorney General was the President's "agent" in matters of immigration.[23] Therefore, it found that INA's prohibition on the Attorney General returning aliens to countries where the alien's life or freedom would be threatened because of the alien's race, religion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in a particular social group should be imputed to the rest of the executive branch.[24] The Supreme Court disagreed, however, holding that the interdiction program created by the President did not "usurp[] authority that Congress has delegated to, or implicate[] responsibilities that it has imposed on, the Attorney General alone."[25] The Court reached this conclusion, in part, because it viewed the INA as restricting only the then-Attorney General's immigration-related responsibilities under the act. It did not view the INA as restricting the President's actions in geographic areas outside of where Congress had authorized the Attorney General to act in the immigration context (i.e., outside the United States).[26] The upshot of this reasoning was that the Court declined to find that the interdiction program implemented under the authority of Section 212(f) ran afoul of statutory or treaty-based restrictions.

The Sale decision also helped define what is meant by the term entry as that term is used in Section 212(f). At the time when Sale was decided, the INA explicitly defined entry to encompass "any coming of an alien into the United States, from any foreign port or place or from an outlying possession, whether voluntarily or otherwise."[27] Therefore, consistent with this definition, the Court distinguished between (1) aliens who are "on our shores seeking admission" or "on the threshold of initial entry," and (2) aliens who are within the United States after entry, regardless of the legality of that entry.[28] While the statutory definition of entry that the Court relied upon was deleted from the INA as part of the amendments made by the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA) of 1996 (P.L. 104-208),[29] the Sale Court's construction of entry has persisted in discussions of Section 212(f) and in other contexts.[30]

The Attorney General, in turn, delegated this authority to the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) within the Department of Justice. Following the establishment of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) pursuant to the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (P.L. 107-296), the INS was abolished and its functions were generally transferred to DHS. See 6 U.S.C. § 251. Although the INA still refers to the Attorney General in multiple places, such references are generally (although not universally) taken to mean the Secretary of Homeland Security. See generally CRS Legal Sidebar WSLG553, Does It Matter Whether the INA Says DOJ or DHS?: An Example Involving Revocation of Asylum, by Kate M. Lower court decisions provide some further discussion of exercises of 212(f) authority that would seem to be consistent with Sale. The most recent of these, an unpublished 2003 decision by the Second Circuit in Sesay v. Immigration and Naturalization Service [INS], granted deference to the Board of Immigration Appeals' (BIA's) determination that the alien petitioner was ineligible for asylum because a grant of asylum necessarily requires entry, and the petitioner's entry was barred by Presidential Proclamation 7062.[31] Previously, in its 1992 decision in Haitian Refugee Center, Inc. v. Baker, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit had noted various precedents characterizing the power to exclude aliens from the country as an "inherent executive power" when opining that Section 212(f) "clearly grants the President broad discretionary authority to control the entry of aliens into the United States."[32] A lower court, the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, similarly emphasized the breadth of the executive's power over entry in conjunction with its discussion of Section 212(f) in its 1996 decision in Encuentro del Canto Popular v. Christopher, stating,

> The exclusion of aliens is a fundamental act of sovereignty. The right to do so stems not alone from legislative power but is inherent in the executive power to control the foreign affairs of the nation. When Congress prescribes a procedure concerning the admissibility of aliens, it is not dealing alone with a legislative power. It is implementing an inherent executive power.[33]

Collectively, Sale and these other decisions suggest that Section 212(f) gives the Executive significant power to bar or impose conditions upon the entry of aliens "on our shores seeking admission" or "on the threshold of initial entry."[34] None of these decisions note any limitations upon the President's power under Section 212(f). This silence could, however, be seen, in part, to reflect the arguably limited nature of the Executive's use of its Section 212(f) authority to date. As Table 1 below illustrates, prior exercises of presidential authority under Section 212(f) have [30] See, e.g., Sesay v. INS, 74 Fed. App'x 84, 86 (2d Cir. 2003) (considering the meaning of "entry" in the course of addressing whether a grant of asylum requires entry into the United States); Matter of Rosas-Ramirez, 22 I. & N. Dec. 616, 617 (BIA 1999) (discussing whether adjustment of status while within the United States constitutes an "admission" for purposes of INA § 237(a)(2)(A)(iii), and noting that admission is defined, in part, in terms of "entry").

[31] 74 Fed. App'x at 86. The BIA is the highest administrative tribunal for interpreting and applying immigration law. The Second Circuit noted, but did not address, arguments as to the relationship between Sections 212(d) and 212(f) in its decision. The Secretary of Homeland Security's authority to parole aliens into the United States under Section 212(d), however, could be seen as a counterpart to the President's authority under Section 212(f) in that the President may "parole"—or permit the entry into the United States—almost any alien, regardless of whether the alien is subject to one or more of the grounds of inadmissibility set forth in Section 212(a). See INA § 212(d)(5)(A), 8 U.S.C. § 1182(d)(5)(A) ("The Attorney General [later, Secretary of Homeland Security] may [subject to certain restrictions involving refugees and alien laborers] in his discretion parole into the United States temporarily under such conditions as he may prescribe only on a case-by-case basis for urgent humanitarian reasons or significant public benefit any alien applying for admission to the United States.... The Christopher case arose from a challenge to the denial or revocation of visas to certain Cubans pursuant to Presidential Proclamation 5377, which suspended the entry of individuals whom the Secretary of State (or a designee) considered to be officers or employees of the Cuban government or Cuban Communist Party. As the district court noted, although the plaintiffs at times seem to have suggested that Section 212(f) itself is invalid, their argument was best construed as being that Presidential Proclamation 5377 was invalid because it conflicted with Section 901 of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act for FY1988-1989. Id. at 1363.

differed in terms of which and how many aliens are subject to exclusion. In no case to date, though, has the Executive purported to take certain types of action, such as barring all aliens from entering the United States for an extended period of time or explicitly distinguishing between categories of aliens based on their religion. Any such restrictions could potentially be seen to raise legal issues that were not raised by prior exclusions. For example, if the Executive were to seek to bar the entry of all aliens, as immigrants or nonimmigrants, for an extended time, questions could be raised about whether the President's action was consistent with Congress's intent in enacting statutes which prescribe criteria for the issuance of family- and employment-based immigrant and nonimmigrant visas and authorize the issuance of certain numbers of such visas each year.[35] Similarly, if the President were to purport to exclude aliens based on their religion, an argument could potentially be made that this action is in tension with U.S. treaty obligations[36] or the First Amendment.[37] (Distinctions between aliens based on nationality, in contrast, have historically been viewed as a routine feature of immigration legislation and subjected to deferential "rational basis" review by the courts.[38])

2016, Apr. 21 – Obama Executive Order 13726, 81 Fed. Reg. 23559	Suspending the entry into the United States, as immigrants or nonimmigrants, of aliens who are determined to have "contributed to the situation in Libya" in specified ways (e.g., engaging in "actions or policies that threaten the peace, security, or stability" of that country or may lead to or result in the

[35] For example, Section 203(a)(1) provides that "[q]ualified immigrants who are the unmarried sons or daughters of citizens of the United States shall be allocated visas in a number not to exceed 23,400" (with some additions possible) each year. See 8 U.S.C. § 1153(a)(1). "Shall" has been construed to indicate mandatory agency action when used in other contexts. See, e.g., Kirtsaeng v. John Wiley & Sons, Inc., 136 S. [36] For example, Article 2 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights provides that "[e]ach State Party ... undertakes to respect and to ensure to all individuals within its territory and subject to its jurisdiction the rights recognized in the present Covenant, without distinction of any kind" based on religion, among other things. United Nations, Human Rights, Office of the High Commissioner, International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, http://www.ohchr.org/en/professionalinterest/pages/ccpr.aspx (last accessed: Jan. 14, 2017). The United States ratified this Convention in 1992, with certain reservations, understandings, and declarations. See, e.g., Kristina Ash, U.S. Reservations to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights: Credibility Maximization and Global Influence, 3 NW. J. INT'L HUM. RTS. 1, 2 (2005). However, "Congress has not made the treaty enforceable in U.S. courts," and commentators have disagreed as to whether it or other provisions of law (e.g., the First Amendment) could serve as basis for invalidating the exclusion of certain aliens because of their religion. See, e.g., Debra Cassens Weiss, Would SCOTUS Uphold Trump's Plan to Bar Muslim Immigrants, ABA J., Dec. 9, 2015, http://www.abajournal.com/news/article/would_scotus_uphold_trumps_plan_to_bar_muslim_immigrants.

[37] Aliens outside the United States without recognized ties to the country might have difficulty in maintaining such a challenge. See id. However, in certain cases, a ban on the entry of persons based on religion could potentially be seen to impinge upon the First Amendment rights of U.S. citizens by, for example, excluding officers and teachers of that religion. Cf. Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753, 762-63 (1972) (recognizing that U.S. persons whose constitutional rights are adversely affected by the denial of a visa way to an alien outside the United States may have the right to challenge the denial in certain circumstances).

[38] See, e.g., Rajah v. Mukasey, 544 F.3d 427, 435-36 (2d Cir. 2008) (quoting an earlier decision to the effect that the "most exacting level of scrutiny that we will impose on immigration legislation is rational basis review"); Narenji v. Civiletti, 617 F.2d 745, 748 (D.C. Cir. 1980) ("[C]lassifications among aliens based upon nationality are consistent with due process and equal protection if supported by a rational basis.... ").

Note: In a number of cases, the exclusions listed in Table 1 were expressly said to be waivable, in the Executive's discretion, when the entry of a particular alien otherwise subject to exclusion "would not be contrary to the interests of the United States." See, e.g., 50 Fed. Reg. 41329, at § 2 (Oct. 10, 1985).

Other Provisions of the INA

Beyond Section 212(f), other provisions of the INA can also be seen to authorize the Executive to restrict aliens' entry to the United States.[39] Most notably, Section 214(a)(1) prescribes that the "admission of any alien to the United States as a nonimmigrant shall be for such time and under such conditions as [the Executive] may by regulations prescribe."[40] (Nonimmigrants are aliens admitted to the United States for a specific period of time and purpose pursuant to one of the [39] In addition, yet other provisions of the INA could be seen to give the Executive discretion as to whether certain categories of aliens are admitted. For example, Section 207(a)(2) of the INA could be seen to give the Executive broad discretion in determining how many aliens are admitted to the United States as refugees each year. See 8 U.S.C. § 1157(a)(2). Other provisions outside immigration law could also apply. See National Defense Authorization Act for FY2017, P.L. 114-328, §§ 1261-1265,—Stat.—(Dec. 23, 2016) (sanctions for human rights abusers); Consolidated Appropriations Act, P.L. 114-113, § 7031(c), 129 Stat. 2755 (Dec. 18, 2015) (providing that certain foreign officials involved in "significant corruption" and their immediate family are ineligible for entry to the United States); Russia and Moldova Jackson-Vanik Repeal and Sergei Magnitsky Rule of Law Accountability Act of 2012, P.L. 112-208, §§ 404-406, 126 Stat. 1505-1509 (Dec. 14, 2012) (excluding certain aliens involved in human rights abuses).

"lettered" visas set forth in Section 101(a)(15) of the INA.[41]) Section 215(a)(1) similarly provides that "it shall be unlawful for any alien" to enter or depart the United States "except under such reasonable rules, regulations, and orders, and subject to such limitations and exceptions as the President may prescribe."[42] In the past, the Executive has relied upon Section 215(a)(1), in particular, to exclude certain aliens. For example, President Carter cited to Section 215(a) when authorizing the revocation of immigrant and nonimmigrant visas issued to Iranians during the Iran Hostage Crisis.[43]

The current Section 215(a) was enacted as part of the INA in 1952.[44] However, similar language appeared in earlier immigration-related statutes.[45] Both the earlier language and the initial version of Section 215(a) granted the President the power to impose additional restrictions upon aliens' entry into and departure from the United States during times of war and, in some cases, "national emergency."[46] The President's exclusion of certain aliens under this authority[47] was upheld in several court cases, the most notable of which was arguably the Supreme Court's 1950 decision in United States ex rel. Knauff v. Shaughnessy.[48] There, the Court rejected a challenge to the exclusion of a German "war bride" under regulations promulgated pursuant to Presidential Proclamation 2523, which was itself issued under the authority of a predecessor of Section 215(a).[49] In so doing, the Court rejected the excluded bride's argument that both the regulations and the underlying statute constituted an impermissible delegation of legislative power, reasoning that "[t]he exclusion of aliens is a fundamental act of sovereignty. The right to do so stems not

The Mezei Court, in particular, cited a number of precedents for the proposition that "the power to expel or exclude aliens [is] a fundamental sovereign attribute exercised by the Government's political departments largely immune from judicial control." 345 U.S. at 210 (citing Harisiades v. Shaughnessy, 342 U.S. 580 (1952); The Chinese Exclusion Case, 130 U.S. 581 (1889); and Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698 (1893)).

from legislative power but is inherent in the executive power to control the foreign affairs of the nation."[50] Therefore, in the Court's view, Congress could not have run afoul of the non-delegation doctrine by authorizing the President to exercise this power "for the best interests of the country" during wartime because the President already possessed such authority.[51] The Knauff Court similarly rejected the argument that the regulations in question were not "reasonable," as required by the statutory authority under which they were issued—which in relevant part, made it unlawful for an alien to enter the United States "except under such reasonable rules ... as the President may prescribe."[52] The Court did so because it viewed the regulations excluding aliens whose entry was "deemed prejudicial to the public interest" as "reasonable in the circumstances of the period for which they were authorized, namely, the national emergency of World War II."[53]

The statutory language regarding war and national emergency—which arguably factored into the Court's decision in Knauff—was deleted from Section 215(a) in 1978.[54] However, it seems unlikely that this deletion would serve as a basis for overruling the Knauff Court's conclusions about whether the power in question was impermissibly delegated to the Executive,[55] or about what constitutes a "reasonable" regulation for purposes of Section 215(a).[56] Knauff's statements about the inherent power of nations to exclude aliens outside the United States with no recognized ties to the country would also generally seem to remain good law.[57]

[56] There does not appear to be any court cases establishing what is meant by the term "reasonable regulations" for purposes of Section 215(a) and its predecessors. However, courts may grant considerable deference to the Executive's determinations in this area, given the "plenary power" that the political branches are generally seen to have over immigration. See, e.g., Mathews v. All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Honestly with the one that came out yesterday, arguably all forms have to be revised to ask about the "national security" questions. The torrent of issues under that section in the EO could potentially require a change in every form.

Social media vetting will likely also be a part of this. CBP's ESTA form was recently revised to include an optional question about social media handles. If they privacy act application chances, questions like that can go on every form.

But, at least with the three EOs out there, let's make a list of all the regs and forms we can reasonably expect will be needed from them. Can you all look through them and make a list to be reviewed and amended (if necessary) by the other Chiefs. We should keep an eye on the drafts too - that's where the real torrential work lies - but for now, let's stick to what's been signed.

Subject: FW: Two Questions

Hi All – attached is the executive order signed early this evening by the President. Please let me, Mike and Larry know if any questions or immediate impacts to policy come to mind. Next week, we may want to consider pulling relevant policy guidance and start thinking about new guidance that will have to be issued. Hopefully we will have more information.

In the meantime, please send any questions!

Thanks,
Natalie

Here is a quick summary (please read the entire document – I tried to hit the "highlights"):

1. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. There are review and reporting requirements that shall be completed within 30 days and additional follow up reporting requirements. While the review is conducted, the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), is suspended for 90 days. The Secretary shall provide a list of countries that do not provided necessary information to adjudicate and additional countries may be added. Visas may be issued to nationals of "blocked" countries in the national interest.
2. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs A program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission will be created and will include development of a uniform screening standard and procedure; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants; amended application forms with questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.
3. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. Suspension of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days for review of the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States. After 120 days, USRAP admissions resume for nationals of countries for which have been determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States. Refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality will be prioritized. Admission of refugees from Syria will be suspended. The refugee limit will be 50,000 for fiscal year 2017.
4. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.
5. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System.
6. Visa Interview Security. The visa interview waiver program is suspended to ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.
7. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal.

- - - - - - -

PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America, including the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), 8 U.S.C. 1101 et seq., and section 301 of title 3, United States Code, and to protect the American people from terrorist attacks by foreign nationals admitted to the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. Purpose. The visa-issuance process plays a crucial role in detecting individuals with terrorist ties and stopping them from entering the United States. Perhaps in no instance was that more apparent than the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, when State Department policy prevented consular officers from properly scrutinizing the visa applications of several of the 19 foreign nationals who went on to murder nearly 3,000 Americans. And while the visa-issuance process was reviewed and amended after the September 11 attacks to better detect would-be terrorists from receiving visas, these measures did not stop attacks by foreign nationals who were admitted to the United States.

Numerous foreign-born individuals have been convicted or implicated in terrorism-related crimes since September 11, 2001, including foreign nationals who entered the United States after receiving visitor, student, or employment visas, or who entered through the United States refugee resettlement program. Deteriorating conditions in certain countries due to war, strife, disaster, and civil unrest increase the likelihood that terrorists will use any means possible to enter the United States. The United States must be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.

In order to protect Americans, the United States must ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles. The United States cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law. In addition, the United States should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation.

Sec. 2. Policy. It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

Sec. 3. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall immediately conduct a review to determine the information needed from any country to adjudicate any visa, admission, or other benefit under the INA (adjudications) in order to determine that the individual seeking the benefit is who the individual claims to be and is not a security or public-safety threat.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall submit to the President a report on the results of the review described in subsection (a) of this section, including the Secretary of Homeland Security's determination of the information needed for adjudications and a list of countries that do not provide adequate information, within 30 days of the date of this order. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall provide a copy of the report to the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence.

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

(d) Immediately upon receipt of the report described in subsection (b) of this section regarding the information needed for adjudications, the Secretary of State shall request all foreign governments that do not supply such information to start providing such information regarding their nationals within 60 days of notification.

(e) After the 60-day period described in subsection (d) of this section expires, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State, shall submit to the President a list of countries recommended for inclusion on a Presidential proclamation that would prohibit the entry of foreign nationals (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas) from countries that do not provide the information requested pursuant to subsection (d) of this section until compliance occurs.

(f) At any point after submitting the list described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretary of State or the Secretary of Homeland Security may submit to the President the names of any additional countries recommended for similar treatment.

(g) Notwithstanding a suspension pursuant to subsection (c) of this section or pursuant to a Presidential proclamation described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security may, on a case-by-case basis, and when in the national interest, issue visas or other immigration benefits to nationals of countries for which visas and benefits are otherwise blocked.

(h) The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall submit to the President a joint report on the progress in implementing this order within 30 days of the date of this order, a second report within 60 days of the date of this order, a third report within 90 days of the date of this order, and a fourth report within 120 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 4. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. (a) The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall implement a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission. This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in conjunction with the Secretary of State, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of this directive within 60 days of the date of this order, a second report within 100 days of the date of this order, and a third report within 200 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 5. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. (a) The Secretary of State shall suspend the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days. During the 120-day period, the Secretary of State, in conjunction with the Secretary of Homeland Security and in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, shall review the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States, and shall implement such additional procedures. Refugee applicants who are already in the USRAP process may be admitted upon the initiation and completion of these revised procedures. Upon the date that is 120 days after the date of this order, the Secretary of State shall resume USRAP admissions only for nationals of countries for which the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and the Director of National Intelligence have jointly determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States.

(b) Upon the resumption of USRAP admissions, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security, is further directed to make changes, to the extent permitted by law, to prioritize refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality. Where necessary and appropriate, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall recommend legislation to the President that would assist with such prioritization.

(c) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of nationals of Syria as refugees is detrimental to the interests of the United States and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I have determined that sufficient changes have been made to the USRAP to ensure that admission of Syrian refugees is consistent with the national interest.

(d) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of more than 50,000 refugees in fiscal year 2017 would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I determine that additional admissions would be in the national interest.

(e) Notwithstanding the temporary suspension imposed pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the Secretaries of

State and Homeland Security may jointly determine to admit individuals to the United States as refugees on a case-by-case basis, in their discretion, but only so long as they determine that the admission of such individuals as refugees is in the national interest -- including when the person is a religious minority in his country of nationality facing religious persecution, when admitting the person would enable the United States to conform its conduct to a preexisting international agreement, or when the person is already in transit and denying admission would cause undue hardship -- and it would not pose a risk to the security or welfare of the United States.

(f) The Secretary of State shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of the directive in subsection (b) of this section regarding prioritization of claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution within 100 days of the date of this order and shall submit a second report within 200 days of the date of this order.

(g) It is the policy of the executive branch that, to the extent permitted by law and as practicable, State and local jurisdictions be granted a role in the process of determining the placement or settlement in their jurisdictions of aliens eligible to be admitted to the United States as refugees. To that end, the Secretary of Homeland Security shall examine existing law to determine the extent to which, consistent with applicable law, State and local jurisdictions may have greater involvement in the process of determining the placement or resettlement of refugees in their jurisdictions, and shall devise a proposal to lawfully promote such involvement.

Sec. 6. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.

Sec. 7. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall expedite the completion and implementation of a biometric entry-exit tracking system for all travelers to the United States, as recommended by the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall submit to the President periodic reports on the progress of the directive contained in subsection (a) of this section. The initial report shall be submitted within 100 days of the date of this order, a second report shall be submitted within 200 days of the date of this order, and a third report shall be submitted within 365 days of the date of this order. Further, the Secretary shall submit a report every 180 days thereafter until the system is fully deployed and operational.

Sec. 8. Visa Interview Security. (a) The Secretary of State shall immediately suspend the Visa Interview Waiver Program and ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.

(b) To the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, the Secretary of State shall immediately expand the Consular Fellows Program, including by substantially increasing the number of Fellows, lengthening or making permanent the period of service, and making language training at the Foreign Service Institute available to Fellows for assignment to posts outside of their area of core linguistic ability, to ensure that non-immigrant visa-interview wait times are not unduly affected.

Sec. 9. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal insofar as practicable with respect to validity period and fees, as required by sections 221(c) and 281 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1201(c) and 1351, and other treatment. If a country does not treat United States nationals seeking nonimmigrant visas in a reciprocal manner, the Secretary of State shall adjust the visa validity period, fee schedule, or other treatment to match the treatment of United States nationals by the foreign country, to the extent practicable.

Sec. 10. Transparency and Data Collection. (a) To be more transparent with the American people, and to more effectively implement policies and practices that serve the national interest, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Attorney General, shall, consistent with applicable law and national security, collect and make publicly available within 180 days, and every 180 days thereafter:

(i) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been charged with terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; convicted of terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; or removed from the United States based on terrorism-related activity, affiliation, or material support to a terrorism-related organization, or any other national security reasons since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later;

(ii) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been radicalized after entry into the United States and engaged in terrorism-related acts, or who have provided material support to terrorism-related organizations in countries that pose a threat to the United States, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iii) information regarding the number and types of acts of gender-based violence against women, including honor killings, in the United States by foreign nationals, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iv) any other information relevant to public safety and security as determined by the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, including information on the immigration status of foreign nationals charged with major offenses.

(b) The Secretary of State shall, within one year of the date of this order, provide a report on the estimated long-term costs of the USRAP at the Federal, State, and local levels.

Sec. 11. General Provisions. (a) Nothing in this order shall be construed to impair or otherwise affect:

(i) the authority granted by law to an executive department or agency, or the head thereof; or

(ii) the functions of the Director of the Office of Management and Budget relating to budgetary, administrative, or legislative proposals.

(b) This order shall be implemented consistent with applicable law and subject to the availability of appropriations.

(c) This order is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, or entities, its officers, employees, or agents, or any other person.

Subject: Clarification on Scope of Section 4a

Good Morning, Shayla,

OP&S would like to obtain clarification on the overall scope of section 4a. If we adhere to the specific wording of the EO, the number of forms that might need to be considered will be significantly reduced. (Many thanks to Kevin Greeley for providing the following analysis.)

> Section 4(a) starts off focusing specifically on USCIS implementing "a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission."
> Going back to the argument of using the plain language of the EO, to ensure that we don't go outside of the legal scope, the first part of this seems to focus on "individuals seeking to enter the United States." The second part seems to focus on individuals "who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission." (b)(5)

[redacted]

"Admission" is defined in the INA as:

> (13)(A) The terms "admission" and "admitted" mean, with respect to an alien, the lawful entry of the alien into the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.
> (B) An alien who is paroled under section 212(d)(5) or permitted to land temporarily as an alien crewman shall not be considered to have been admitted.
> (C) An alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States shall not be regarded as seeking an admission into the United States for purposes of the immigration laws unless the alien-
> (i) has abandoned or relinquished that status,
> (ii) has been absent from the United States for a continuous period in excess of 180 days,
> (iii) has engaged in illegal activity after having departed the United States,
> (iv) has departed from the United States while under legal process seeking removal of the alien from the United States, including removal proceedings under this Act and extradition proceedings,
> (v) has committed an offense identified in section 212(a)(2), unless since such offense the alien has been granted relief under section 212(h) or 240A(a), or

(vi) is attempting to enter at a time or place other than as designated by immigration officers or has not been admitted to the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.

The same legal question exists for the other forms already identified.

Shayla – Has this previously been discussed amongst the WG leads? If not, should we get a legal interpretation from OCC or even raise the question to Julie Farnam?

Thanks,
Jerry

Good Morning,

Kevin Greeley makes a great point about how USCIS should interpret the scope of section 4a of the "Protecting the Nation..." E.O. (See red font portion of email below.) Since clarifying the scope of this section is vital, I propose that we run this question up through the Forms Changes WG lead to Julie Farnam. Please let me know if you agree or if you have other thoughts.

If the OP&S representatives (and potentially OP&S management) concur with my interpretation, then I think we should proactively raise this to the WG leads for consideration. I don't know if FNDS will necessarily agree, since it might significantly change the scope of the forms that FDNS predesignated. However, FDNS and adjudications often have differing opinions on certain matters.

I would defer to the group, and Jerry specifically as a management POC, as to the best course of action.

Hi, Steve. I don't have any suggested edits or additions. Although, something to consider for the OP&S POCs, is something I didn't raise until the Interview WG.

Section 4(a) starts off focusing specifically on USCIS implementing "a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission."

Going back to the argument of using the plain language of the EO, to ensure that we don't go outside of the legal scope, the first part of this seems to focus on "individuals seeking to enter the United States." The second part seems to focus on individuals "who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission." (b)(5)

"Admission" is defined in the INA as:

> (13)(A) The terms "admission" and "admitted" mean, with respect to an alien, the lawful entry of the alien into the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.
> (B) An alien who is paroled under section 212(d)(5) or permitted to land temporarily as an alien crewman shall not be considered to have been admitted.
> (C) An alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States shall not be regarded as seeking an admission into the United States for purposes of the immigration laws unless the alien-

> (ii) has been absent from the United States for a continuous period in excess of 180 days,
> (iii) has engaged in illegal activity after having departed the United States,
> (iv) has departed from the United States while under legal process seeking removal of the alien from the United States, including removal proceedings under this Act and extradition proceedings,
> (v) has committed an offense identified in section 212(a)(2), unless since such offense the alien has been granted relief under section 212(h) or 240A(a), or
> (vi) is attempting to enter at a time or place other than as designated by immigration officers or has not been admitted to the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.

The same legal question exists for other forms already identified.

I should have raised this in the first WG, but it didn't strike me until the second WG. Regardless of what the intent might have been with the EO, I think we need to stick with the specific language. This is why it is essential to have knowledgeable immigration experts involved in drafting and reviewing EOs before they are signed. I think if we adhere to the specific wording of the EO, the scope of forms that might need to be considered will be significantly reduced.

I appreciate any thoughts you have on this in advance of the next WG meeting.

Thanks.

Subject: Questions on Section 4a of EO #3

Hi – Jerry and Kevin raised issues related to section 4a of executive order #3 – Implementing Uniform Standards for All Immigration Programs. It looks like there are at least two working groups focused on this section – the forms revisions (headed by FDNS) and the interview (headed by FOD).

Here are the two questions:

1. What is the reporting structure for the WGs?
    a. Jerry understands that anything produced by the forms WG will be sent to a Tiger Team at DHS.
    b. We do not have visibility into that reporting structure or members of the Tiger Team.
2. Is there a uniform interpretation of section 4a?
    a. Kevin and Jerry are concerned that the scope of the WGs looking at 4a is too large. I know we raised this up to FDNS; however, Kevin is on two WGs looking at this provision and from his report, it sounds like there is not a universal understanding or interpretation of section 4a.

I think these questions raise significant issues and that OP&S should at least be on record as having raised them. We could reach out directly to Julie or they could be raised in a FO meeting. I wanted to get your thoughts on this – our OP&S colleagues are having some angst.

Subject: Clarification on Scope of Section 4a

Good Morning, Shayla,

OP&S would like to obtain clarification on the overall scope of section 4a. If we adhere to the specific wording of the EO, the number of forms that might need to be considered will be significantly reduced. (Many thanks to Kevin Greeley for providing the following analysis.)

> Section 4(a) starts off focusing specifically on USCIS implementing "a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission."
> Going back to the argument of using the plain language of the EO, to ensure that we don't go outside of the legal scope, the first part of this seems to focus on "individuals seeking to enter the United States." The second part seems to focus on individuals "who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission."

(b)(5) [redacted]

"Admission" is defined in the INA as:

> (13)(A) The terms "admission" and "admitted" mean, with respect to an alien, the lawful entry of the alien into the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.
> (B) An alien who is paroled under section 212(d)(5) or permitted to land temporarily as an alien crewman shall not be considered to have been admitted.

(C) An alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States shall not be regarded as seeking an admission into the United States for purposes of the immigration laws unless the alien-

(i) has abandoned or relinquished that status,

(ii) has been absent from the United States for a continuous period in excess of 180 days,

(iii) has engaged in illegal activity after having departed the United States,

(iv) has departed from the United States while under legal process seeking removal of the alien from the United States, including removal proceedings under this Act and extradition proceedings,

(v) has committed an offense identified in section 212(a)(2), unless since such offense the alien has been granted relief under section 212(h) or 240A(a), or

(vi) is attempting to enter at a time or place other than as designated by immigration officers or has not been admitted to the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.

The same legal question exists for the other forms already identified.

Shayla – Has this previously been discussed amongst the WG leads? If not, should we get a legal interpretation from OCC or even raise the question to Julie Farnam?

Thanks,
Jerry

Hi, Natalie. In addition to the information that Jerry provided below, which includes NSBI coverage on the Forms WG, please note the following:

- From various WG discussions, it appears that there is a separate WG for each piece of Section 4(a) of the travel ban EO. This surprises me and I'm not sure if we have visibility into every WG at this time since that would add up to possibly 6 WGs just for that section of the EO.
- Steve and I are also participating in a WG for Interviews for that same EO.
- Nicole Rosich, a detailee for NSBI, is participating in the NTA WG.

That is all the information that I have at this time, unless Steve has any additional information to share.

Hi Natalie and Mike,

So far, RCD is included on two work-groups or sub-groups. Jerry and John are participating in one, and I'm participating in the other. I'll leave it to them to describe the charter, etc. of the work/sub-group they are participating in.

Name: DHS-wide "Regulatory Efforts" IPT/Sub-working Group related to implementation of the three immigration Executive Orders
Lead: Christina McDonald, DHS OGC
Who: Regulatory Coordinators and APA-attorneys across USCIS, ICE, and CBP
OP&S Rep: Samantha Deshommes
1st task: To examine the three EOs jointly and to note (1) each regulation required by the three new immigration Executive Orders, and (2) the component responsible for each regulation
Outcome: Attached is what was provided to Joe Maher, Principal Deputy General Counsel (and Acting Chief Counsel)
Next steps: Unclear; I would imagine it depends on final policy decisions made at the Department level

Again, I'll let Jerry and/or John provide input on the other WG RCD has been pulled into.

As we discussed, until a definitive regulation or Information Collection change (i.e. "Form Change" or "PRA Change") is specified, RCD is a participant. Once a regulatory project, with a clear scope and goal, is greenlight by senior leadership, then RCD takes over in "leading" that particular project's working group. The same process holds true for PRA Actions.

Hope this helps, and please let me know if you have any questions on the above.

Thanks,
Sam

Subject: RE: Section 4a

Hi, everyone.

Here is Section 4(a):

Sec. 4. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. (a) The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall implement a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission. This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

Here are my primary concerns with how we are approaching section 4(a) in the working groups:

- Creating a separate WG for each item in the section seems inefficient since many of the items will overlap.
- There is no consistent understanding in how to interpret the plain language of the section and some of the language is not clearly defined.
- No one has been able to provide information on what the WH intended when the section was drafted.
- There has been no clear determination of who the section applies to.
- Without a consistent understanding of how to interpret the section, the separate products that each WG creates will not necessarily blend together cohesively.
- Depending on how the language is interpreted, some WGs may be going significantly beyond the scope of the plain language.
- The Interview WG is focusing on ways to improve the current interview process and not necessarily on answering whether or not USCIS is conducting in-person interviews for everyone covered under the EO.
- The Interview WG seems to intend to capture "wish list" items and all the things that USCIS would like to improve in the interview process, which seems to be beyond the scope of the EO.
- The section seems to specifically focus on "individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission."
- Emphasis in some of the WGs is on status granting forms such as the N-400, where the individual is neither seeking to enter the US nor making an admission.
- In the Forms WG, FDNS seems to contend that the EO applies to everyone, including USC petitioners, despite the wording of the EO, because the EO uses the word "individuals."
- FDNS seems to be using the Forms WG to attempt to obtain a significant amount of new and duplicative information from everyone, every time they submit a form, even though the operational ramifications of such actions would be astronomical.

- NSBI has consistently advocated to interpret the plain language of the EO relating to who it applies to and what is desired when implementing a program, which includes limiting the interpretation to individuals actually seeking to enter the US or who will make an admission as a result of the adjudication. This interpretation substantially limits the scope of this section of the EO to a much smaller universe of USCIS forms.
- The Interview and Forms WGs seem to be taking a much broader approach.

In conclusion, I think the most important thing is for USCIS leadership to make the determination of how this section of the EO should be interpreted and whether the scope of the WGs work should be limited only what is required by the EO or much broader, as if this is the opportunity to recommend all of the improvements that we think are beneficial.

I am including recent emails with the leads of the Interview and Forms WG for additional context.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks.

Subject: RE: Clarification on Scope of Section 4a

Good Evening Jerry—

Thank you OP&S for that insight and analysis. We have the following understanding regarding the scope of the task:

1. There are at least three EOs;
2. One of the EOs addresses "Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior of the United States";
3. Sec. 5(d) of this Public Safety EO specifically states that aliens who "have engaged in fraud or willful misrepresentation in connection with any official matter or application before a governmental agency" are an enforcement priority;
4. We will be more effective at identifying fraud/misrep if our forms capture more data.

The EOs are mutually reinforcing, so the working groups tasked with their implementation need to ensure outcomes are also mutually reinforcing.

Regarding our EO ("Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States"), Section 4(a) stipulates this:

- "The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security...shall implement a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to admission." [Italics added for emphasis]

(b)(5)

The language is general and does not reference aliens, so the definition of 13(A) does not appear to apply here ("The terms 'admission' and 'admitted' mean, with respect to an alien...").

We propose having a draft product first rather than have OCC part of the initial deliberation process. This will assist in meeting our very tight schedule. We will have further updates regarding Department coordination at tomorrow's meeting.

OP&S would like to obtain clarification on the overall scope of section 4a. If we adhere to the specific wording of the EO, the number of forms that might need to be considered will be significantly reduced. (Many thanks to Kevin Greeley for providing the following analysis.)

> "Admission" is defined in the INA as:

(13)(A) The terms "admission" and "admitted" mean, with respect to an alien, the lawful entry of the alien into the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.

(B) An alien who is paroled under section 212(d)(5) or permitted to land temporarily as an alien crewman shall not be considered to have been admitted.

(C) An alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States shall not be regarded as seeking an admission into the United States for purposes of the immigration laws unless the alien-

(i) has abandoned or relinquished that status,

(ii) has been absent from the United States for a continuous period in excess of 180 days,

(iii) has engaged in illegal activity after having departed the United States,

(iv) has departed from the United States while under legal process seeking removal of the alien from the United States, including removal proceedings under this Act and extradition proceedings,

(v) has committed an offense identified in section 212(a)(2), unless since such offense the alien has been granted relief under section 212(h) or 240A(a), or

(vi) is attempting to enter at a time or place other than as designated by immigration officers or has not been admitted to the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.

The same legal question exists for the other forms already identified.

Shayla – Has this previously been discussed amongst the WG leads? If not, should we get a legal interpretation from OCC or even raise the question to Julie Farnam?

Thanks Kevin. I agree with your observation on whether the WGs have a consistent understanding and interpretation of Sec 4. However, with our particular group Sec 4 is clear that we ought to look at our current interview processes in general. We have governing laws and policies in place which govern who we interview and don't, including interview waived cases. I highly recommend we don't focus on form types for the paper as it can become unwieldly and we will lose focus. How I see it, regardless if we are interpreting this section to mean those that are outside or inside the U.S., our goal is to identify interview process enhancements, which can be within any of the categories listed in the invite. These enhancements will benefit the narrow or broader interpretation of this section. I see this as an excellent opportunity for our agency as a whole to identify those short and long term goals for implementation.

To your bigger concern, perhaps your leadership may want to raise your question to the EO bi-weekly meetings. I think this will be the better audience to provide direction.

Subject: RE: EO Interview Working Group

Hi, Lisette. NSBI was wondering if the WG could readdress one of the possible decisions that was made in the last meeting. We think it was decided that, due to the short deadline, we should focus on those form types where we already conduct interviews.

As was noted in the meeting, some of those interviews are based on forms that don't seem to covered under the plain language of the EO.

The EO is specifically calling for "development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews", to "identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission."

Therefore, after thinking about it some more, we wonder if the first order of business should be to determine if USCIS currently meets the stated suggestion of in-person interviews on all forms where an individual is seeking to "enter" the US or where they might pose a risk after their "admission"? However that is defined.

If seems like the overall intent of the EO is to close gaps and reduce risks. So shouldn't our first priority be to identify if there are any gaps/risks related to forms that do not currently require an interview, rather than first focusing on improving existing interviews? It seems like not conducting interviews, when potentially required or recommended by the EO, is more of a risk than conducting non-uniform or non-standard interviews that could benefit from improvements.

We just wanted to make sure that we had sufficiently examined the top priority in complying with this EO.

Also, OP&S raised to the Forms WG today the issue of whether all the WGs should have a consistent understanding and interpretation of what the beginning language of Section (4)(a) says. If all WGs don't have a consistent understanding, the end results with be an inconsistent analysis that is supposed to result in a uniform standard and procedure.

Thanks for considering this and sorry that this wasn't raised during the first meeting.

1. There are at least three EOs;
2. One of the EOs addresses "Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior of the United States";
3. Sec. 5(d) of this Public Safety EO specifically states that aliens who "have engaged in fraud or willful misrepresentation in connection with any official matter or application before a governmental agency" are an enforcement priority;
4. We will be more effective at identifying fraud/misrep if our forms capture more data.

The EOs are mutually reinforcing, so the working groups tasked with their implementation need to ensure outcomes are also mutually reinforcing.

Regarding our EO ("Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States"), Section 4(a) stipulates this:

- "The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security...shall implement a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to admission." [Italics added for emphasis]

(b)(5)

The language is general and does not reference aliens, so the definition of 13(A) does not appear to apply here ("The terms 'admission' and 'admitted' mean, with respect to an alien...").

We propose having a draft product first rather than have OCC part of the initial deliberation process. This will assist in meeting our very tight schedule. We will have further updates regarding Department coordination at tomorrow's meeting.

Good Morning, Shayla,

OP&S would like to obtain clarification on the overall scope of section 4a. If we adhere to the specific wording of the EO, the number of forms that might need to be considered will be significantly reduced. (Many thanks to Kevin Greeley for providing the following analysis.)

Section 4(a) starts off focusing specifically on USCIS implementing "a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission."

Going back to the argument of using the plain language of the EO, to ensure that we don't go outside of the legal scope, the first part of this seems to focus on "individuals seeking to enter the United States." The second part seems to focus on individuals "who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission."

[redacted]

"Admission" is defined in the INA as:

(b)(5)

(13)(A) The terms "admission" and "admitted" mean, with respect to an alien, the lawful entry of the alien into the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.

(B) An alien who is paroled under section 212(d)(5) or permitted to land temporarily as an alien crewman shall not be considered to have been admitted.

(C) An alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States shall not be regarded as seeking an admission into the United States for purposes of the immigration laws unless the alien-

(i) has abandoned or relinquished that status,

(ii) has been absent from the United States for a continuous period in excess of 180 days,

(iii) has engaged in illegal activity after having departed the United States,

(iv) has departed from the United States while under legal process seeking removal of the alien from the United States, including removal proceedings under this Act and extradition proceedings,

(v) has committed an offense identified in section 212(a)(2), unless since such offense the alien has been granted relief under section 212(h) or 240A(a), or

(vi) is attempting to enter at a time or place other than as designated by immigration officers or has not been admitted to the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer.

The same legal question exists for the other forms already identified.

Shayla – Has this previously been discussed amongst the WG leads? If not, should we get a legal interpretation from OCC or even raise the question to Julie Farnam?

Thanks,
Jerry

Subject: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States
Attachments: EO Forms List (TENTATIVE) FEB 2 2017 V3.pdf

Good morning,

Thank you for your work on the deliverables already completed. I appreciate everyone's timely responses.

The next big deliverable we have is in regards to Sec. 4a and 4b of the Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry EO. Proposals related to the items below are due to me by COB Friday, February 17, 2017. FDNS has the overall lead on this deliverable, but there will also be several working groups that may be co-coordinated by other directorates with FDNS. Here is the specific language from the EO:

> "This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States."

Because there are a lot of pieces to this section and because the pieces affect different directorates, we will likely need a few working groups to tackle this one. As discussed at the meeting yesterday, these are the proposed working groups:

- Interviews (FOD to co-lead)
- Identity Document Database
- Identity verification
- Form revisions (OP&S proposal attached)
- Immigrant integration (OoC to co-lead)

As of now DHS has not provided a template or format for the proposals (and I'm told one will not be coming this week). Should I receive a template, I will pass it along, but I think for now we can proceed with just writing up the proposal.

The deliverables tracker has been updated on the ECN and now includes all the items and target completion dates that were provided in the DHS Implementation Plan. To summarize some of the upcoming deliverables (Foreign Terrorist Entry EO deliverables should go to me. Steve Duggan is the POC on the Border Security and Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior EOs):

Subject: RE: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Everyone—

As Julie mentions below, FOD was designated to co-lead with FDNS the interview portion of Section 4 (a) Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. The relevant interview portions of Section 4(a) are as follows:

1. The development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews;
2. A mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be;
3. A process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest;
4. Amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; and
5. A mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

I know a lot of work has been done already in various manners that impacts this goal and can be utilized for this task. We would like to convene the process for articulating how the interview process has been and/or can be enhanced (best practices, new policies, new tools/systems, resources, and/or additional questions) to ensure we are using our interviews in the best way to inform our eligibility, credibility and national security/public safety determinations.

Lisette Kvortek will serve as the FOD working group coordinator and will work with the FDNS POC to organize the work. I'd ask that folks self-identify as a responsible party and name a POC representing your office. Since work is due on the 17th, we'd like to get started asap.

Thank you.

It's unclear, but we're thinking it may well encompass those kinds of benefits (asylum, ref, etc.), too – or at least don't see clearly why it wouldn't. So, from our perspective, in the early phases at least and as the scope is being defined, we would like to participate, too.

NSBI should definitely participate, but I think also someone from Mark's team as it would seem to be natz and adjustment. Not sure if it goes beyond those benefit types to include asylum/refugee.

Subject: RE: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Everyone—

As Julie mentions below, FOD was designated to co-lead with FDNS the interview portion of Section 4 (a) Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. The relevant interview portions of Section 4(a) are as follows:

1. The development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews;
2. A mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be;
3. A process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest;
4. Amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; and
5. A mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

I know a lot of work has been done already in various manners that impacts this goal and can be utilized for this task. We would like to convene the process for articulating how the interview process has been and/or can be enhanced (best practices, new policies, new tools/systems, resources, and/or additional questions) to ensure we are using our interviews in the best way to inform our eligibility, credibility and national security/public safety determinations.

Lisette Kvortek will serve as the FOD working group coordinator and will work with the FDNS POC to organize the work. I'd ask that folks self-identify as a responsible party and name a POC representing your office. Since work is due on the 17th, we'd like to get started asap.

Thank you.

Subject: Deliverable Due 2/17--Sec. 4a EO: Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry into the United States

Good morning,

Thank you for your work on the deliverables already completed. I appreciate everyone's timely responses.

The next big deliverable we have is in regards to Sec. 4a and 4b of the Protecting the Nation from Foreign Terrorist Entry EO. Proposals related to the items below are due to me by COB Friday, February 17, 2017. FDNS has the overall lead on this deliverable, but there will also be several working groups that may be co-coordinated by other directorates with FDNS. Here is the specific language from the EO:

> "This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States."

Because there are a lot of pieces to this section and because the pieces affect different directorates, we will likely need a few working groups to tackle this one. As discussed at the meeting yesterday, these are the proposed working groups:

- Interviews (FOD to co-lead)
- Identity Document Database
- Identity verification
- Form revisions (OP&S proposal attached)
- Immigrant integration (OoC to co-lead)

As of now DHS has not provided a template or format for the proposals (and I'm told one will not be coming this week). Should I receive a template, I will pass it along, but I think for now we can proceed with just writing up the proposal.

The deliverables tracker has been updated on the ECN and now includes all the items and target completion dates that were provided in the DHS Implementation Plan. To summarize some of the upcoming deliverables (Foreign Terrorist Entry EO deliverables should go to me. Steve Duggan is the POC on the Border Security and Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior EOs):

RCD's questions, timing guidance, etc. is attached.

Forms/PRA: In short, form changes can be accomplished via an emergency approval action, which in comparison with the normal process is quicker, but requires a duplicate action. OMB approval under emergency approval is only valid for 6 months so we'd have to restart the normal process (60- and 30-day Notices) immediately. The speed with which we can submit such actions to OMB depend on the speed with which legal guidance is provided to allow for firm decisions on form changes, additional form questions, etc.; the speed with which OIDP can provide the amended form instruments; and the speed with which IT and OIDP can schedule the revised forms for intake.

Regs: I think the most appropriate timeline to use is the average time it took for us to draft and publish EA-related rulemakings (approx. 12-16 months for drafting, clearing publishing the NPRM, and approx. 6-8 months to consider comments, draft, clear, and publish the final rule). Notice that I didn't opine on the effective date of the reg (which, usually is 30-60 days from the date the final rule publishes). However, the effective date is most dependent on the needs of IT and OIDP schedules.

Additional questions and comments are provided in the attached. Btw, under the assumption this will be posted on the OP&S ECN, I shortened the filename.

Larry: Just a suggestion...Many of the directives in the EO (uniform identify verification) may require new regs and/or workload for both FDNS and IRIS, and I noticed that IRIS wasn't looped in on the email chain forward from Dan. Maybe you should reach out to Tammy to give her a heads-up. Just a suggestion...

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

Everyone should be compiling a list of all of their questions and getting them to Jess so Lori and I have a complete list. If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

I can get word out over the weekend to the centers to suspend processing. I just need the list of 7 countries to include in my message. The Directors are already on notice of the possibility. I would exclude from the suspension any petitions for beneficiaries abroad and TPS/DACA.

Thanks for sending this, Lori.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. Separately, is there any impact on petitions for beneficiaries abroad since we would not be determining admissibility? I would think not, but it would be good to have clarity.

If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Thanks,

Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

POLICY: It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

- Be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.
- Ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles
- We cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law
- We should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation

All – I asked the regs team to give us an idea of the tie frames for doing and re-doing forms as well as regs:

For forms , if, for instance, we have to add new vetting questions, OMB approval can be accomplished relatively quickly as an emergency action (compared to the normal process).
Steps and qualifications for emergency OMB approval:
1) OP&S division, operational directorates, OCC, and RCD collaborate on the amended form and/or instructions.
2) RCD prepares the relevant PRA supporting documents (Supporting Statement, etc.) working with OIDP and Office of Privacy
3) Draft a memo justifying the emergent need (e.g., the EO), signed by USCIS CIO and DHS CIO.
4) RCD submits the package to OMB. OMB approval under emergency will only be valid for 6 months. To extend the validity of the OMB approval beyond 6 months, RCD would need to publish the 60- and 30-day Notices as normal and then resubmit the package to OMB.
As a side note, the interior enforcement EO took away the Privacy Act protections that the USG had extended to non-citizens (by policy I believe). This change may significantly impact how the Privacy Act is interpreted w/r/t USCIS forms and systems, and may or may not cause changes to our Privacy Threshold Analyses which support the PRA process. We need to get a legal opinion on whether our PTAs, etc. will change because of this, and if we can update the relevant PRA supporting documents as they come up in the queue (i.e. as RCD starts work upon expiration) or if this needs to be implemented immediately (which would be a significant workload).

For regs, the time it took to get the EA rules out from the Nov. 20, 2014 memo are good barometers of the average timeline when there is WH support and it's moving as an emergency action:
- Average of 12-16 months for drafting and publishing an NPRM (but note that there was already some work done on EA before the 11/2014 announcement)
- Average of 6-8 months to review public comments, draft final rule, and publish the final rule.

Caveats: 1) The above assumes a relatively hands-off approach of OGC staff-level attorneys and economists prior to moving to OGC FO, S1 FO, and OMB. Also assumes that the timelines for S1 FO review will be similarly expedited (i.e. a matter of hours wherein the Assistant General Counsel briefs S1 and obtains signature). 2) The "effective date" will largely depend on the speed that our computer systems can be stood up. 3) Also, of course, depends on the number and complexity of public comments received and the continued availability of monetary resources to fund contractor support of our regulatory projects (comment analysis).

We expect today to put out general guidance that the EO does not impact citizenship cases. DHS is reviewing the language. Everything else is on hold.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted]
We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

I agree guys. The major questions that come to mind are legal and operational. We should be prepared to put some of them forward, but from a policy perspective we are gong to have to wait for that guidance before we know what direction to take.

Having said that, it is worth looking at forms because I am sure we will have to make revisions to include vetting questions such as social media. Again though, the vetting aimed at national interest and benefit to this country change the adjudication of petitions.

I appreciate your thoughts so please share as things come up! Clearly this is fluid.

Nat,

Kevin and I will might send you a few follow on notes on this, but my question from the EB side is that, while they want to suspend entry of these individuals for the time being, do they also intend for us to hold onto any requests for extensions of stay until the enhanced vetting procedures are in place? The text says "entry" but it's in the section explaining the need to review procedures prior to any benefit being granted. We will send you anything else we can come up with. There is nothing really to state from a strict policy sense, but obviously OCC, SCOPS, the FO et al will like have the same questions regarding exactly what these provisions mean. We have these political advisors on board. They should reach out through their people to the WH to get clarification.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

Subject: RE: Executive Order

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

Ok, the way I plan to proceed, which I think is consistent with what you want, Larry, is that I will be going through the very helpful chart that Shannon provided, and filling in questions I have on the provisions in the column for Questions. So it's clear which division is raising the question I am going to edit the column to label it NSBI Questions. I'll send that to the entire group for visibility when completed—sometime this evening.

I'm assuming Natalie will then roll-up all the questions each of us submits-- weeding out duplicative questions-- into a master chart for OP&S. Larry, I recommend that you send to Jess for the use of D1/D2, (consistent with D1s request for consolidated questions from components—we weren't asked but they should be made aware of our questions). My understanding/recommendation is that our master chart will be posted to the OP&S ECN (and presumably regularly updated as needed), and used by us for discussions: internal to OP&S; with other components and USCIS or DHS leadership; and for inter-agency discussions.

I'd only add re: rescission of TRIG exemptions that nothing in the EO prevents the continued application of the existing exemptions to TRIG cases while that consideration process takes place. Similar to Kathryn's point about entry vs admission, while I understand the desire to make sure we are not moving forward on cases we shouldn't be processing, we should also be careful not to over-read the EO's directives.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things:

(b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. 2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

As we've discussed, the most urgent question is whether adjustments and extensions or changes of nonimmigrant status are impacted. If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. (b)(5) [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

Petitioners,

DECISION AND ORDER

- against -

17 Civ. 480 (AMD)

Respondents.

ANN DONNELLY, District Judge.

On January 28, 2017, the petitioners filed an Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated.

IT APPEARING to the Court from the Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal, the other submissions, the arguments of counsel, and the hearing held on the 28th of January, 2017,

1. The petitioners have a strong likelihood of success in establishing that the removal of the petitioner and others similarly situated violates their rights to Due Process and Equal Protection guaranteed by the United States Constitution;

2. There is imminent danger that, absent the stay of removal, there will be substantial and irreparable injury to refugees, visa-holders, and other individuals from nations subject to the January 27, 2017 Executive Order;
3. The issuance of the stay of removal will not injure the other parties interested in the proceeding;
4. It is appropriate and just that, pending completion of a hearing before the Court on the merits of the Petition, that the Respondents be enjoined and restrained from the commission of further acts and misconduct in violation of the Constitution as described in the Emergency Motion for Stay of Removal.

WHEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the respondents, their officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and all members and persons acting in concert or participation with them, from the date of this Order, are

ENJOINED AND RESTRAINED from, in any manner or by any means, removing individuals with refugee applications approved by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services as part of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program, holders of valid immigrant and non-immigrant visas, and other individuals from Iraq, Syria, Iran, Sudan, Libya, Somalia, and Yemen legally authorized to enter the United States.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that to assure compliance with the Court's order, the Court directs service of this Order upon the United States Marshal for the Eastern District of New York, and further directs the United States Marshals Service to take those actions deemed necessary to enforce the provisions and prohibitions set forth in this Order.

SO ORDERED.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this (b)(5) extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Thanks,

Subject: Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Field Operations Instructions

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

Effectively immediately and until additional guidance is received, you may not take final action on any petition or application where the applicant is a citizen or national of Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya. Field offices may interview applicants for adjustment of status and other benefits according to current processing guidance and may process petitions and applications for individuals from these countries up to the point where a decision would be made. At that point, cases shall be placed on hold until further notice and will be shelved with specific NFTS codes which will be provided through the Regional Offices. Offices are not permitted make any final decision on affected cases to include approval, denial, withdrawal, or revocation.

Please look for additional guidance later this weekend on how to process naturalization applicants from one of the seven countries listed above who are currently scheduled for oath ceremony or whose N-400s have been approved and they are pending scheduling of oath ceremony.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures as needed in the coming days. Questions or requests for additional clarification may be directed to the Regional Offices through your chain of command.

Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made. NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Subject: Executive Order: PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES - Field Operations Instructions

On January 27, 2017, the President signed an Executive Order that, in part, relates to the suspension of processing of certain immigration benefits. Section 3(c) of the Executive Order invokes sections 212(f) and 217(a)(12) of the INA to temporarily suspend the entry immigrants and nonimmigrants who are from Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya for 90 days from the date of the Executive Order.

Effectively immediately and until additional guidance is received, you may not take final action on any petition or application where the applicant is a citizen or national of Syria, Iraq, Iran, Somalia, Yemen, Sudan, and Libya. Field offices may interview applicants for adjustment of status and other benefits according to current processing guidance and may process petitions and applications for individuals from these countries up to the point where a decision would be made. At that point, cases shall be placed on hold until further notice and will be shelved with specific NFTS codes which will be provided through the Regional Offices. Offices are not permitted make any final decision on affected cases to include approval, denial, withdrawal, or revocation.

Please look for additional guidance later this weekend on how to process naturalization applicants from one of the seven countries listed above who are currently scheduled for oath ceremony or whose N-400s have been approved and they are pending scheduling of oath ceremony.

We expect to issue more detailed guidance and procedures as needed in the coming days. Questions or requests for additional clarification may be directed to the Regional Offices through your chain of command.

Processing and interviewing can continue, but the case is to be placed on hold before a final decision is made.

NPR seems to have picked up on this and reported it. I'm not sure whether SCOPS has issued any guidance. Has anyone seen?

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

Subject: RE: Executive Order

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.

1. Are the following forms impacted: N-400s, N-336, I-601A, I-131, I-765, N-565, I-130, ...?
2. Should we deschedule oath ceremonies for individuals from the 7?
3. How do we handle N-400s 120+ days from interview?
4. Should we stop RFEs?
5. Should we stop scheduling interviews?

Everyone should be compiling a list of all of their questions and getting them to Jess so Lori and I have a complete list. If there are URGENT questions that we need answers to before Monday go ahead and flag those for us but I'm not sure the Department is going to get to us immediately, they are likely dealing with issues at the POEs which have a bit more urgency. I did send the question of whether this impact naturalization or not to the Department in an attempt to get an answer this weekend only because we have oath ceremonies scheduled for Monday.

I would also like to flag I-730s. While adjudication does not give status to those outside the US, it does for those inside. Also, since part of the directive is to reviewing to enhance information we collect and screening, we likely will be proposing changes to the I-730 process, to include revisions to the form and the I-730A, which would be completed by the beneficiary. We have mock ups and can move quickly, but need to think first about those in pipeline. Maura has giving directive to staff outside US to cancel pick up document pickups for 730s for next week.

We are working on further guidance and of course will coordinate with SCOP.

State has also issued guidance. Will forward.

If we can define "suspend processing" as "suspend prior to approval", then one option would be to continue with the interviews, since it is likely we have some that are scheduled as soon as Monday for affected applicants and then hold the cases post interview. We are trying to scrape our schedulers (C4 and NASS) to see when and where we have interviews scheduled for individuals from affected countries. We should have that sometime Monday.

Tracy,

It is my understanding that POTUS will sign the "Protecting the Nation from Terrorist Attacks by Foreign Nationals" order today at 4:30pm. In complying with the EA I believe we need immediate clarification in Section 3 (c) relative to the 30 day suspension of processing immigrants and non-immigrants from the designated countries of interest and if this extends to processing of permanent resident applications. Though the EA states "immigrant and non-immigrant entry into the United States", once we grant an adjustment we "admit" that person. [redacted] We just need to clarify if by extension this applies to our product lines. If this is the case then Don and Dan will need to get guidance to the Field to put these adjudications (b)(5)

on hold. Other than the refugee suspension that appears fully deployed on our end this appears the most urgent clarification we need relative to the EAs.

Hi All – attached is the executive order signed early this evening by the President. Please let me, Mike and Larry know if any questions or immediate impacts to policy come to mind. Next week, we may want to consider pulling relevant policy guidance and start thinking about new guidance that will have to be issued. Hopefully we will have more information.

In the meantime, please send any questions!

Thanks,
Natalie

Here is a quick summary (please read the entire document – I tried to hit the "highlights"):

1. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. There are review and reporting requirements that shall be completed within 30 days and additional follow up reporting requirements. While the review is conducted, the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), is suspended for 90 days. The Secretary shall provide a list of countries that do not provided necessary information to adjudicate and additional countries may be added. Visas may be issued to nationals of "blocked" countries in the national interest.
2. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs A program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission will be created and will include development of a uniform screening standard and procedure; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants; amended application forms with questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.
3. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. Suspension of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days for review of the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States. After 120 days, USRAP admissions resume for nationals of countries for which have been determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States. Refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality will be prioritized. Admission of refugees from Syria will be suspended. The refugee limit will be 50,000 for fiscal year 2017.

4. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.
5. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System.
6. Visa Interview Security. The visa interview waiver program is suspended to ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.
7. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal.

THE WHITE HOUSE

- - - - - - -

PROTECTING THE NATION FROM FOREIGN TERRORIST ENTRY INTO THE UNITED STATES

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America, including the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), 8 U.S.C. 1101 et seq., and section 301 of title 3, United States Code, and to protect the American people from terrorist attacks by foreign nationals admitted to the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. Purpose. The visa-issuance process plays a crucial role in detecting individuals with terrorist ties and stopping them from entering the United States. Perhaps in no instance was that more apparent than the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, when State Department policy prevented consular officers from properly scrutinizing the visa applications of several of the 19 foreign nationals who went on to murder nearly 3,000 Americans. And while the visa-issuance process was reviewed and amended after the September 11 attacks to better detect would-be terrorists from receiving visas, these measures did not stop attacks by foreign nationals who were admitted to the United States.

Numerous foreign-born individuals have been convicted or implicated in terrorism-related crimes since September 11, 2001, including foreign nationals who entered the United States after receiving visitor, student, or employment visas, or who entered through the United States refugee resettlement program. Deteriorating conditions in certain countries due to war, strife, disaster, and civil unrest increase the likelihood that terrorists will use any means possible to enter the United States. The United States must be vigilant during the visa-issuance process to ensure that those approved for admission do not intend to harm Americans and that they have no ties to terrorism.

In order to protect Americans, the United States must ensure that those admitted to this country do not bear hostile attitudes toward it and its founding principles. The United States cannot, and should not, admit those who do not support the Constitution, or those who would place violent ideologies over American law. In addition, the United States should not admit those who engage in acts of bigotry or hatred (including "honor" killings, other forms of violence against women, or the persecution of those who practice religions different from their own) or those who would oppress Americans of any race, gender, or sexual orientation.

Sec. 2. Policy. It is the policy of the United States to protect its citizens from foreign nationals who intend to commit terrorist attacks in the United States; and to prevent the admission of foreign nationals who intend to exploit United States immigration laws for malevolent purposes.

Sec. 3. Suspension of Issuance of Visas and Other Immigration Benefits to Nationals of Countries of Particular Concern. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall immediately conduct a review to determine the information needed from any country to adjudicate any visa, admission, or other benefit under the INA (adjudications) in order to determine that the individual seeking the benefit is who the individual claims to be and is not a security or public-safety threat.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence, shall submit to the President a report on the results of the review described in subsection (a) of this section, including the Secretary of Homeland Security's determination of the information needed for adjudications and a list of countries that do not provide adequate information, within 30 days of the date of this order. The Secretary of Homeland Security shall provide a copy of the report to the Secretary of State and the Director of National Intelligence.

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

(d) Immediately upon receipt of the report described in subsection (b) of this section regarding the information needed for adjudications, the Secretary of State shall request all foreign governments that do not supply such information to start providing such information regarding their nationals within 60 days of notification.

(e) After the 60-day period described in subsection (d) of this section expires, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Secretary of State, shall submit to the President a list of countries recommended for inclusion on a Presidential proclamation that would prohibit the entry of foreign nationals (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas) from countries that do not provide the information requested pursuant to subsection (d) of this section until compliance occurs.

(f) At any point after submitting the list described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretary of State or the Secretary of Homeland Security may submit to the President the names of any additional countries recommended for similar treatment.

(g) Notwithstanding a suspension pursuant to subsection (c) of this section or pursuant to a Presidential proclamation described in subsection (e) of this section, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security may, on a case-by-case basis, and when in the national interest, issue visas or other immigration benefits to nationals of countries for which visas and benefits are otherwise blocked.

(h) The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall submit to the President a joint report on the progress in implementing this order within 30 days of the date of this order, a second report within 60 days of the date of this order, a third report within 90 days of the date of this order, and a fourth report within 120 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 4. Implementing Uniform Screening Standards for All Immigration Programs. (a) The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall implement a program, as part of the adjudication process for immigration benefits, to identify individuals seeking to enter the United States on a fraudulent basis with the intent to cause harm, or who are at risk of causing harm subsequent to their admission. This program will include the development of a uniform screening standard and procedure, such as in-person interviews; a database of identity documents proffered by applicants to ensure that duplicate documents are not used by multiple applicants; amended application forms that include questions aimed at identifying fraudulent answers and malicious intent; a mechanism to ensure that the applicant is who the applicant claims to be; a process to evaluate the applicant's likelihood of becoming a positively contributing member of society and the applicant's ability to make contributions to the national interest; and a mechanism to assess whether or not the applicant has the intent to commit criminal or terrorist acts after entering the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security, in conjunction with the Secretary of State, the Director of National Intelligence, and the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of this directive within 60 days of the date of this order, a second report within 100 days of the date of this order, and a third report within 200 days of the date of this order.

Sec. 5. Realignment of the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program for Fiscal Year 2017. (a) The Secretary of State shall suspend the U.S. Refugee Admissions Program (USRAP) for 120 days. During the 120-day period, the Secretary of State, in conjunction with the Secretary of Homeland Security and in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence, shall review the USRAP application and adjudication process to determine what additional procedures should be taken to ensure that those approved for refugee admission do not pose a threat to the security and welfare of the United States, and shall implement such additional procedures. Refugee applicants who are already in the USRAP process may be admitted upon the initiation and completion of these revised procedures. Upon the date that is 120 days after the date of this order, the Secretary of State shall resume USRAP admissions only for nationals of countries for which the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and the Director of National Intelligence have jointly determined that such additional procedures are adequate to ensure the security and welfare of the United States.

(b) Upon the resumption of USRAP admissions, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security, is further directed to make changes, to the extent permitted by law, to prioritize refugee claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution, provided that the religion of the individual is a minority religion in the individual's country of nationality. Where necessary and appropriate, the Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall recommend legislation to the President that would assist with such prioritization.

(c) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of nationals of Syria as refugees is detrimental to the interests of the United States and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I have determined that sufficient changes have been made to the USRAP to ensure that admission of Syrian refugees is consistent with the national interest.

(d) Pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the entry of more than 50,000 refugees in fiscal year 2017 would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and thus suspend any such entry until such time as I determine that additional admissions would be in the national interest.

(e) Notwithstanding the temporary suspension imposed pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, the Secretaries of

State and Homeland Security may jointly determine to admit individuals to the United States as refugees on a case-by-case basis, in their discretion, but only so long as they determine that the admission of such individuals as refugees is in the national interest -- including when the person is a religious minority in his country of nationality facing religious persecution, when admitting the person would enable the United States to conform its conduct to a preexisting international agreement, or when the person is already in transit and denying admission would cause undue hardship -- and it would not pose a risk to the security or welfare of the United States.

(f) The Secretary of State shall submit to the President an initial report on the progress of the directive in subsection (b) of this section regarding prioritization of claims made by individuals on the basis of religious-based persecution within 100 days of the date of this order and shall submit a second report within 200 days of the date of this order.

(g) It is the policy of the executive branch that, to the extent permitted by law and as practicable, State and local jurisdictions be granted a role in the process of determining the placement or settlement in their jurisdictions of aliens eligible to be admitted to the United States as refugees. To that end, the Secretary of Homeland Security shall examine existing law to determine the extent to which, consistent with applicable law, State and local jurisdictions may have greater involvement in the process of determining the placement or resettlement of refugees in their jurisdictions, and shall devise a proposal to lawfully promote such involvement.

Sec. 6. Rescission of Exercise of Authority Relating to the Terrorism Grounds of Inadmissibility. The Secretaries of State and Homeland Security shall, in consultation with the Attorney General, consider rescinding the exercises of authority in section 212 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182, relating to the terrorism grounds of inadmissibility, as well as any related implementing memoranda.

Sec. 7. Expedited Completion of the Biometric Entry-Exit Tracking System. (a) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall expedite the completion and implementation of a biometric entry-exit tracking system for all travelers to the United States, as recommended by the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States.

(b) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall submit to the President periodic reports on the progress of the directive contained in subsection (a) of this section. The initial report shall be submitted within 100 days of the date of this order, a second report shall be submitted within 200 days of the date of this order, and a third report shall be submitted within 365 days of the date of this order. Further, the Secretary shall submit a report every 180 days thereafter until the system is fully deployed and operational.

Sec. 8. Visa Interview Security. (a) The Secretary of State shall immediately suspend the Visa Interview Waiver Program and ensure compliance with section 222 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1222, which requires that all individuals seeking a nonimmigrant visa undergo an in-person interview, subject to specific statutory exceptions.

(b) To the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, the Secretary of State shall immediately expand the Consular Fellows Program, including by substantially increasing the number of Fellows, lengthening or making permanent the period of service, and making language training at the Foreign Service Institute available to Fellows for assignment to posts outside of their area of core linguistic ability, to ensure that non-immigrant visa-interview wait times are not unduly affected.

Sec. 9. Visa Validity Reciprocity. The Secretary of State shall review all nonimmigrant visa reciprocity agreements to ensure that they are, with respect to each visa classification, truly reciprocal insofar as practicable with respect to validity period and fees, as required by sections 221(c) and 281 of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1201(c) and 1351, and other treatment. If a country does not treat United States nationals seeking nonimmigrant visas in a reciprocal manner, the Secretary of State shall adjust the visa validity period, fee schedule, or other treatment to match the treatment of United States nationals by the foreign country, to the extent practicable.

Sec. 10. Transparency and Data Collection. (a) To be more transparent with the American people, and to more effectively implement policies and practices that serve the national interest, the Secretary of Homeland Security, in consultation with the Attorney General, shall, consistent with applicable law and national security, collect and make publicly available within 180 days, and every 180 days thereafter:

(i) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been charged with terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; convicted of terrorism-related offenses while in the United States; or removed from the United States based on terrorism-related activity, affiliation, or material support to a terrorism-related organization, or any other national security reasons since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later;

(ii) information regarding the number of foreign nationals in the United States who have been radicalized after entry into the United States and engaged in terrorism-related acts, or who have provided material support to terrorism-related organizations in countries that pose a threat to the United States, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iii) information regarding the number and types of acts of gender-based violence against women, including honor killings, in the United States by foreign nationals, since the date of this order or the last reporting period, whichever is later; and

(iv) any other information relevant to public safety and security as determined by the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, including information on the immigration status of foreign nationals charged with major offenses.

(b) The Secretary of State shall, within one year of the date of this order, provide a report on the estimated long-term costs of the USRAP at the Federal, State, and local levels.

Sec. 11. General Provisions. (a) Nothing in this order shall be construed to impair or otherwise affect:

(i) the authority granted by law to an executive department or agency, or the head thereof; or

(ii) the functions of the Director of the Office of Management and Budget relating to budgetary, administrative, or legislative proposals.

(b) This order shall be implemented consistent with applicable law and subject to the availability of appropriations.

(c) This order is not intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, or entities, its officers, employees, or agents, or any other person.

Thanks all. I really hope we have some legal guidance. There are a lot of issues.

I'll look more closely at the chart, but upon first glance and after reading the chain below, I wanted to raise a couple things: (b)(5)

[redacted]

(c) To temporarily reduce investigative burdens on relevant agencies during the review period described in subsection (a) of this section, to ensure the proper review and maximum utilization of available resources for the screening of foreign nationals, and to ensure that adequate standards are established to prevent infiltration by foreign terrorists or criminals, pursuant to section 212(f) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1182(f), I hereby proclaim that the immigrant and nonimmigrant entry into the United States of aliens from countries referred to in section 217(a)(12) of the INA, 8 U.S.C. 1187(a)(12), would be detrimental to the interests of the United States, and I hereby suspend entry into the United States, as immigrants and nonimmigrants, of such persons for 90 days from the date of this order (excluding those foreign nationals traveling on diplomatic visas, North Atlantic Treaty Organization visas, C-2 visas for travel to the United Nations, and G-1, G-2, G-3, and G-4 visas).

2. FOD has raised a question of whether TRIG hold cases should be adjudicated, indicating that the EO's directive in Section 6 to "consider rescinding" TRIG exemptions would seem to mean that new TRIG exemptions are not forthcoming. This should certainly be a question for discussion (and a reconsideration of the agency's hold policy has recently been a topic of discussion, even before this order), but nothing in the EO requires us to take this step, and I would urge that it be thoughtfully considered before a decision to adjudicate all TRIG hold cases is made. OCC has also been very involved in the discussion to adjust the TRIG hold policy, and will certainly want to weigh in on this decision also.

All - very interesting chain (that we were added to a bit late) and a good starting matrix. I think regular meetings will start Monday, so I think we need to make edits and additions to this ASAP so we can have something Monday morning. Sam - can you give up absolute minimums for changing refs and forms, both in the regular course of business as well in an emergency context (if there is such a difference).
Please include the whole chain as we make edits for now and when there's some breathing room Monday we'll figure out how to get this on ECN.
Thanks,
Larry

The attached document is a matrix breaking down the EO into its component parts and action items. I've added columns for QAs and started compiling those I saw come across this morning and some early ones I saw from Div. 1.

The Policy and general objectives language at the beginning pulls key language from the EO for quick reference when we're drafting statements. The date conversion chart indicates the calendar dates associated with any specific timeframe mentioned in the EO.

I am working to convert this to Excel over the weekend so it's a little more scalable, but wanted to pass it on for initial use.

Please let me know if you have any questions or see anything that needs editing.
